CITY AND SUBURBAN.

From Saturday's Evening Edition.

The Railroad Pier on Duquesne Way—Motion for a Preliminary Injunction.

We have already reported the fact that the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway company, without first having obtained the consent of the city, had commenced the erection of a pier on Duquesne way, for the purpose of facilitating access to their depot grounds from the bridge over the Allegheny river. In pursuance of a resolution of Councils, the City Solicitor, J. W. F. White, Esq., filed a bill in equity, in the District Court, setting forth that the city had exclusive control of the streets and wharves, and was legally bound to keep said streets and wharves free from obstruction; that the said Railway Company was engaged in erecting a stone pier on the Allegheny wharf, and had already due a deep excavation, in which they were laying the foundation of said pier; that the company, having erected their railroad bridge with the consent of the city, and with the implied understanding that no alterations or additions would be necessary for the prospective business of the road, they had exhausted their power and right in the premises; that the work is now being done without grant from the legislature or the city; that the company never asked the consent of the city; that said pier now is and ever will be a nuisance, and is wholly unnecessary for the purposes of said road; that the Allegheny wharf is even now insufficient to properly accommodate the river business at certain seasons, and the construction of said pier will render wholly useless a part that is now important and valuable, and which will yearly become more useful and valuable. The complainants therefore pray for a writ of injunction to restrain the railroad company from proceeding with the erection of the pier.

The matter came up for argument to-day, before Judges Hampton and Williams. J. W. F. White, Esq., appeared on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen and citizens; and John H. Hampton, Esq., Solicitor for the Railway Company,

Mr. Hampton, in opening his argument, denied every allegation set forth in the bill of complainants, and claimed that the company had full power and authority to erect said pier, which was essentially necessary for the transaction of the business of the road; and further, that the pier would not be a nuisance, and would but slightly obstruct the business on the wharf. He then read numerous affidavits, made by employees of the company, setting forth the necessity of the improvement; also, the affidavits of a number of leading business men, tending to prove the same fact, and to show that the obstruction or inconvenience occasioned by the erection of said pier would be but slight. He next cited authorities to show that the company had the legal right to extend their bridge in the manner indicated.

Mr. White then replied in support of the motion for a preliminary injunction, after which the Court took charge of the papers, and will render a decision at an early day.

Opening of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway.

The formal opening of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, on Wednesday, was, says the Cleveland Leader, "the grandest festival that Cleveland has ever seen or joined in." The excursion train to carry Clevelanders to Meadville started at 9 a. m., consisting of eight passengers and four baggage cars. The number of excursionists was about two hundred. Among the distinguished guests from abroad who went out from Cleveland with the train, was Gen. Rosecrans, who, though suffering from indisposition, seemed greatly to enjoy the trip, and, sitting in Mr. Konnard's car, chatted gayly and pleasantly with those about him.

Attached to the train was Mr. Kennard's elegantly arranged parlor-car, or car-parlor, a decided novelty and curiosity to our Western public.

At Meadville, on the arrival of the train, a vast crowd, numbered by thousands, had gathered in and around the splendid depot. The New York train had already arrived, and beside them, all Meadville and the surrounding country "was there to see."

The New York train left the city on Tuesday, and making its due time arrived in Meadville at eight Wednesday morning. It consists of seven passenger coaches drawn by the splendid engine Wm. Reynolds.

After the usual amount of handshaking and greeting had passed between the two delegations, both adjourned immediately to Taylor's Railroad Dining Hall, where they partook of a lunch, served up in magnificent style.

After the lunch was properly discussed, the assembled thousands at the depot became impatient to see and hear the hero of Stone River, and loud calls were made for Gen. Rosecrans. In response to them he made his appearance on the balcony of the McHenry House, and excused himself from speaking, on the plea of ill health, calling on Judge McCalmont to speak for him. The Judge made a brief and happy little address, referring very justly to the bravery and ability of their favorite hero. The cheers, loud and ringing, which were given for "Rosey," showed that the love and confidence of the people are still warm for him.

The excursionists then went to Cleveland, where they arrived at 7½ p. m., where they were greeted with a salute and fireworks.

Spirited addresses were then delivered by Gen. Rosecrans, and others, and the festivities wound up by a grand ball.

The Explosion at Conemaugh.

It will be remembered that a few days since we gave an account of the explosion of a locomotive at Conemaugh Station, by which a number of men were killed, among whom were three drovers. The names of the drovers have been ascertained to be John Hodges, of Springfield, Kentucky, A. J. Cole, of Toledo, Ohio, killed, and Nathan Rosenfuchs, an Israelite, of No. 70, Mott street, New York, who survived until the afternoon. There were some others in the car, but they escaped injury. The other three were on the locomotive as engineer, fireman, and flagman. Their names are John Finley, engineer, and Chas. Donoho, fireman, of Altoona, and James Mills, of Centreville, flagman. Donoho was picked up some rods from the scene of the wreck some time after its occurrence, whither he had been thrown, perfectly helpless and almost lifeless. He still lives, though there is but small hope of his recovery. Finley, the engineer, lingered until Thursday morning, when death put an end to his horrible sufferings—making four victims of the terrible accident. Mills is not so badly hurt, and there is a fair prospect of his recovery.

Death of Thomas Rattigan.

Mr. Thomas Battigan, who was so badly beaten in this city a few nights since, died at his residence in Allegheny, on Friday evening, about six o'clock, from the effects of his injuries. As there are some circumstances connected with the outrageous assault upon this man, which need investigation, and as the report of his having been beaten on the Hand street bridge is denied in the most positive terms, Coroner M'Clung has been requested to hold an inquest, which will take place this afternoon, at the office of Alderman Donaldson.

We had supposed that, ere this, the police would have been able to obtain some clue to the perpetrators, but, like many similar outrages, it is likely to pass by unheeded. Since death has resulted, and the assault has assumed the phase of murder, perhaps some effort will be made to bring the guilty parties to justice.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court will, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, proceed at once to finish its business. Constables prosecuting liquor dealers, and all others interested, should be punctually in Court. District Attorney Kirkpatrick is determined to close up the term at once, now that the homicide cases are disposed of, and parties, with their witnesses, may be saved costs by being in Court on Monday morning.

SENTENCED.—Mathew Panley, convicted of assault and battery, and Mr. and Mrs. Bowder, convicted of a similar offense, were each sentenced to-day to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs.

The Local Oil Trade.

The Oil City Register says: Since our last report, there has been a good rise in the Allegheny and the Creek. This has enabled parties who had oil at the wells, to boat it out on the natural water, as well as to send it forward to Pittsburgh by the river. There have been no large transactions that we can hear of. Most of the dealers have been too busy to attend to anything else but to getting their oil and boats ready for shipment. During the whole week all has been bustle and activity. There is a better feeling here, and last week's prices are not only maintained, but holders are asking a slight advance. Oil rules firm at $3,00@3,25 at the wells, and $3,75@4,00 in bulk at this point. We have heard of one or two sales of small lots here at $3,75, which is below the market price. We are under the impression that dealers in New York, Pittsburgh, and elsewhere have greatly overestimated the amount of oil held here. Indeed we have been disappointed ourself. We thought the amount to be much greater than it is really is.

We have taken some pains during this week to ascertain as nearly as possible the amount on hand here, up to Monday last. The highest estimate that we could hear of, placed it at from fifty thousand to sixty thousand barrels. We are satisfied the amount will not exceed seventy thousand barrels. Probably half, if not more, of this amount goes direct to refiners, and of the balance, there will be but a limited amount thrown upon the market. This shipment cleans out both the tanks on the creek and our warehouses. The Maple Shade well had only one tank full left on Monday last, and the tanks at all the other producing wells are drained dry. There are large orders yet to fill in the different markets. There is little danger of much of an accumulation here for some to come, as we shall have the river and rail roads to take off the oil as fast as it is produced. That a better feeling will prevail, and prices advance, as soon as buyers realize these facts, is but reasonable, for there will be nothing but the daily product, which we think will scarcely reach five thousand barrels per day, and is daily diminishing, to depend on.

General Synod of the German Reformed Church.

SATURDAY MORNING SESSION.—The session opened with singing and prayer, by Elder G. S. Griffith, of Baltimore, Md., after which the minutes of yesterday were read and approved. The subject of the establishment of an Orphan Asylum came up again for discussion. After a prolonged debate on the original report, a series of resolutions were offered by Rev. Eli Keller as a substitute, which were under consideration up to the time of adjournment.

The following additional appointments were made for services in the various churches of the city on Sunday:

German Presbyterian Church, Manchester, Rev. Lichtenstein, of Cincinnati, O., in the morning, Rev. Kulling in the afternoon.

Presbyterian church, Allegheny, morning, Rev. J. S. Demund, of Lancaster, Pa.; evening, Rev. F. W. Kremer, of Lebanon, Pa.

Methodist Protestant church, Fifth street, Rev. W. F. Colliflower, of Jefferson, Md., in the morning.

Trinity Methodist Church, Ninth Ward, morning, Rev. Jacob Hassler, of Shippensburg; evening, Rev. G. H. Johnston, of Somerset.

Sixth Presbyterian Church, morning, Rev. J. O. Miller, of York; evening, Rev. F. K. Levan, of Westmoreland College.

Central Church, Rev. T. G. Apple, of Greencastle, 3 p. m.

Acquittal of Bernard Lauth.

At the opening of Court, this morning, it was announced that the jury in the case of Bernard Lauth, tried for the murder of John Kunzler, had agreed upon a verdict. The prisoner was brought in and placed in the dock, when the jury soon after made their appearance. In response to the interrogatory of the Clerk, the foreman of the jury signified that they had agreed upon a verdict, and the indictment upon which the verdict was written, was handed to the Court. It was then passed to the Clerk, and after the verdict had been recorded it was duly announced—"not guilty." While the verdict was exceedingly gratifying to the defendant and his numerous friends, it was unquestionably a matter of surprise to many, who anticipated a conviction for manslaughter. But the issue is settled, and so it must remain.

COMMERCIAL RECORD.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The money market, here, is without any new features worthy of special notice. There is a continued good demand for coin, and all the gold and silver that is offered is taken readily by our bankers at full quotations. Eastern Exchange remains about as last noted.

In New York the money market is steady, at 7 per cent, but the supply is said to be fully equal to the demand. On Saturday, gold opened at 154, then advanced to 154¾, and closed firm at 154¾. Sterling Exchange is reported quiet, but firm at 166@166½, for first class bills.

The total exports of specie from New York to foreign ports on Saturday, were $817,000. The French shipment to Mexico will not exceed $2,000,000 and there will not probably be over $500,000 in one vessel.

Several large New York gold dealers failed on Friday. One firm is reported to have sold short some $700,000, and had to go under in consequence of the recent heavy advance.

The forthcoming Report of Secretary Chase is looked forward to with a great deal of interest, although it is expected that it will give an encouraging exhibit of the National finances. It is given out that Mr. Chase will not issue any more legal tender notes except of the kind bearing interest, of which he has authority to issue four hundred millions, which, it is expected, will satisfy all his wants during the next year. These notes bear 5 ₰ cent. interest. The Secretary has no power to issue notes except for the National Banks, and enough legal tenders, without interest, to replace the notes which have been destroyed, and it is not expected that he will ask Congress for further authority to issue notes without interest unless it may be to a small amount, in times of dangerous stringency in the Money market. It is difficult to see why, even at such times, the interest-bearing notes will not answer every purpose that the non-interest bearing notes would: The notes bearing 5 ₰ cent. interest, and made legal tender, will undoubtedly be issued in sufficient quantities to pay the debts of the Government after the resources from the duties, internal taxation, and sale of five-twenty bonds are exhausted. We do not look for any further issue of the legal tenders, therefore, except to replace the notes which shall have been destroyed.

The United States Commissary awarded on the 17th, contracts for 3,200 barrels new mess beef at $9,50@11,00; 1,800 do extra mess beef at $12,00; 7700 do mess pork at $14,75@15,00; 3,000 barrels prime mess pork at $14,40@14,95; 1,550,000 lbs clear bacon sides at $7,50@7,79; 500,000 lbs bacon shoulders at $7,50@7,80; 35,000 barrels single extra flour $6,48@6,54; 1,900,000 lbs hard bread at $5,10@5,30; 2,000 bushels beans at $3,00, and 5,000 do do at $3,25.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

SATURDAY, November 21, 1863.

FLOUR & GRAIN—Wheat is firm but unchanged at $1,40 for Red from wagon, and $1,35@1,40 for White. Corn is firm and Shelled is held firmly at $1,15 on track and new Ear may be quoted at $1,05. Oats appear to be a shade firmer, but, as yet, there is no change, and the nominal quotation is still 75c by the car load. Barley is firm with small sales from wagon at $1,35 for Spring, and $1,40 for Fall. Flour is firm, with small sales from store at $6,50@6,60 for Extra, and $6,75 to $7,25 for Extra Family. Rye flour remains as last quoted. Sales of 4 tons Buckwheat flour at $4,00@4,25 per cwt.

GROCERIES—The grocery market, though firm, and somewhat excited, is without quotable change in prices. Quotations may be fairly given at 13¾@14c for Raw Sugars, 17½ to 18c for Refined do, 33 to 35c for Coffee; 63 to 65c for Molasses, and 80 to 85c for Syrups.

BUTTER & EGGS—There is a continued good demand for Roll Butter, and the market is firm at 25 to 28c for common to strictly prime. Packed may be quoted at 18@19c; sale of 7 tons at 18c. Eggs steady with sales at 23 per dozen.

Pittsburgh Petroleum Market.

Nov. 21.—The market for Petroleum and its products has been quite active throughout the past week, the transactions, in the aggregate, being unusually large, while prices have materially declined. The receipts of Crude have been larger than for many months, being estimated at from 18,000 to 20,000 barrels, and the result is a decline of from three to five cents per gallon, the market to day closing quiet at 12 to 12½c in bulk, and 17 to 18c in barrels, according to condition and quality. We note sales to-day of 500 and 600 barrels in bulk at 12½; 100 bbls at 18, bbls included; also a "call" for 750 bbls for December delivery, with five days notice, was sold at 13, and $1,00 per barrel. Refined is more active, especially bonded, but at a lower range of prices. We note a sale of 2,000 barrels, "Brilliant" brand, at 38—delivered in Philadelphia, and 1,000 bbls same brand, at 41, at 32. Free oil is in fair request and demand, and we note sales at prices ranging from 42 to 43 for round lots, and 44 to 45 in small lots. Naphtha is quiet and dull and the nominal quotations are 17@18c per gallon. Residuum remains as last quoted.

New York Petroleum Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Crude is dull but unchanged with small sales at 25@26. Refined in bond is dull with sales at 40¾@41¾c for straw color, and 42 for prime white. Free oil is quiet at 50@52 and naphtha is nominal at former quotations.

New York Dry Goods Trade.

NOV. 20.—There has been a marked improvement in Cotton goods within a day or two past. The advance is 1@2c per yard in medium and heavy goods. Standard Sheetings are held at 32½c, with sales at 31c. There have been liberal sales of China Drills to the government at 31c; four-yard goods are 29@29½c, and five-yard goods 27@28c. Prints are not changed. Sprague are selling at 22c. The Cochico mills have brought out some new styles, which are selling at 23½c net. Woolens are selling briskly, but are without new features of moment.

The following is a comparative statement of the imports of foreign dry goods at the port of New York from foreign ports for the week ending November 21, and January 1:

For the week.	1861.	1862.	1863.
Entered at the port	$283,332	$1,078,149	$1,020,091
Thrown on market	457,226	951,427	1,180,438
Since January 1st.
Entered at the port	40,524,720	31,210,349	50,287,643
Thrown on market	41,015,900	65,863,888	57,349,088

British Iron Trade.

WOLVERHAMPTON, NOV. 5.—The finished iron homes reported to-day that they were doing a very steady trade for most descriptions of finished iron, all at the full advanced rates. They have further stated that as the season advances the evidences increase which make it clearer than before probable that the existing prosperity will be continued into the new year. At the same time they announce that they are able to get pigs at half a crown under the price which they would have been compelled to give six weeks ago. They further add that deliveries of pigs are being forced upon them, in cases, in which the prices to be given are from 5s to 10s below the current rates. If, it is argued, pigs were being delivered at the recent high prices in any considerable quantities, the product of old purchases would be kept back. Nevertheless we know of instances in which pig-makers will accept no orders at any price below present quotations; and it may be concluded that higher prices will be demanded at Christmas. The rise in money has not much affected this market.

Cincinnati Market.

Nov. 20.—In our Market to-day, there was increased firmness in flour, but no material advance in prices. There were more buyers than sellers, however, at quotations. Whisky firm at 67c. There was a change in the provision market, buoyancy having given place to flatness, and a disposition to sell, was observable, where the anxiety was on the other side yesterday. The transactions in mess pork indicate a decline of 25c. Lard was offered freely at 12½c, and 100 bbls, payable in gold, sold at 8c. Bulk meats and bacon are not offering, pending the government contract. Linseed oil is firmer at $1,25. Potatoes are in ample supply. Groceries firm, but quick. Hogs declined 25c, closing dull at $6,75@7,00 for lots averaging 200 lbs and upwards. The receipts were 4,500 and the railroads having been set free, heavy arrivals are anticipated. Wheat was firm, but a disposition to pause was manifested. The supplies of corn fall far below the demand, and prices are very firm, with sales of new at 93@96c in bulk. We heard of no sales of old, but it would bring $1 03@1,10. Oats in good demand at 82@83c in bulk.

Toledo Market.

Nov. 19.—Our market is decidedly dull to-day, but one sale of grain having been made, that we could hear of. Yesterday afternoon buyers yielded to the demands of holders, and an advance of 1c was obtained for amber Michigan, and No. 1 Red. Flour—No transactions. Wheat—Sales yesterday, after our report: 748 bu and 1,600 bu amber Mich. at 128c; 2,000 bu and 1,500 bu No. 1 Red at 125c; 1,200 bu No. 2 White, choice sample, at 133c. To-day, sale of 730 bu amber Mich. at 128c. Corn—Moderate inquiry; no sales reported. Nothing doing in other grains. Freights—The schr. M L Collins gets 5c for wheat to Buffalo. We do not hear of any other engagements. Sail—Nine $2,20 ₰ bbl; Coarse and Ground Solar $2,25. Dressed Hogs—For the range of 200 to 300lbs. 6@6¾c is offered.

New York Grocery Market.

[From the Shipping List, Nov. 21.]

Coffee—The activity and excitement noticed in our last has subsided, but the market remains extremely firm, and sellers offer their reduced stocks quite sparingly, very full if not improved prices have been realized, closing buoyantly, the tendency being upward. An increase of duty at the next session of Congress begins again to be agitated, and it is thought by some that the recent large purchases by the government were in view of its probability. The sales include 2,235 bags Rio, per Henry Hill, &c., at 32c; 870 do prime and choice, 34@34¾c; 78 do do Domingo, 32c; 230 mats Java, 40c; 1,500 bags Maracaibo, 29@32 c; 25 do Augustine, 34½c; 200 Laguayra, part, if part all, 29½, usual discount; 300 St. Domingo, part 32c; 48 mats Java, 36c, cash; 60 bbl. and qr. bags Mocha, and 600 bags Ceylon, on terms not made public.

Sugar—The market for raw has been dull since our last, but we have continued firmness and with a little increase of demand yesterday, there was a corresponding improvement in values, closing strong, the offerings being light. Refined is also very firm, without accumulation of stock. Messrs. Stuart's prices will be found on our second page; the other refiners quote Hard, 17¾@18c; Crushed, white, 16¾@17c; and Yellow, 14½@15½c cash. The sales of raw are 1,293 hhds Cuba at 12¾@13c; 9 clarified do, 13½c; 122 Porto Rico, 12¾@14½c; 60 New Orleans, 13¾@13¾c; and 1,445 hhd Havana, 13@15, 4 mos. By auction, 350 hhds New Orleans sold at 21¾@15,87½.

Molasses—The market is inactive, with a moderate demand, but holders are firm, and there is no change to notice in prices. The sales include 49 hhds Porto Rico, part at 68@70c; 422 hhds, 29 tcs and 21 bbls Cuba Muscovado, part 42@43c; and 450 bbls and half do New Orleans, 50@53c, 4 mos. By auction, 240 bbls and 33 hf. do new crop New Orleans sold at 71@75c; and 521 bbls old crop do, 48½@51c, 4 mos.

Chicago Market.

Nov. 20.—Provisions of all descriptions were firmly held, and in most cases sellers demanded an advance. New Mess Pork was inactive and nominal at $17@17,25; some holders were asking $17,50. Old Mess Pork sold at $15,50. Boxed Meats were generally held at an advance of ½@¾c, and short lib Middles sold at 8½@9c. Sweet Pickled Hams are in steady demand and firm at 8½c. Green Meats are quiet, but firm, with sales of Hams at 7½c. Lard was in good demand and 1@1½c higher, with sales of No. 1 and steam-rendered at 11¾c and prime city kettle at 11¾@12c. The Wheat market ruled firm and steady at $1,30@1,40 for No. 2 Spring and $1,60@1,65 for No. 2 Spring in store. Winter Wheat was quiet and almost nominal. Flour was in fair request and, if anything, a shade firmer. About 2,500 barrels were sold at $8 for choice White Winter Extras; $5,70 for Red Winter and $4,20@4,35 for common to choice Spring Extras. Sugar and Molasses in New Orleans.

NOV. 10.—Sugar—Owing to the checks on the movement, which we have previously noticed, the sales are confined to about 200 hhds, at 12½@13c for fair to fully fair old crop. Low, for which clarified new crop, 12½@13c for yellow clarified, and 11½@12c for seconds. The supply is moderately fair.

Molasses—There is either none or but little, and the sales are consequently confined to a small lot of the new crop, in hhds and half hhds at 50c per gallon.

Philadelphia Seed Market.

NOV. 21.—There is but little Clover seed coming in and what it is in good demand. Sales 250 bushels in lots at $5@5,50 per 64 lbs. Timothy is in but little request either. A sale of 500 bags Calcutta Linseed at $3,05, cash.

Sending Breadstuffs West.

[From the N. Y. Evening Post, 13th.

Merchants are now in Rochester, New York, buying buckwheat to supply Chicago and the surrounding country. The prices paid range from sixty-three to eighty-seven cts per bushel, for the crude grain, which is then ground and put up in barrels for shipment westward. This carrying grain from the back to the West is certainly an unusual, but the article which supplies the demand is temporary. The crop of wheat, which cut off the Buckwheat in the section which supplied the Chicago market.
