GENERALLY no attempt is made to correct the misstatements of the New York Herald, for so little importance is attached to it, by well-informed people, that they leave its readers to find out the truth, if they desire to have it, when and how they please, and just at their own leisure or at the pleasure of their very unreliable instructor. Occasionally, however, when it misstates a matter of great importance, some notice must be taken of it. Accordingly we find that a Washington correspondent of the Tribune corrects a statement made in Tuesday's Herald, under the head of "trouble in financial matters," as follows:

"That an agreement has been entered into between the National Banks and Secretary Chase allowing him to retain $5,000,000 of the notes issued to them, they to receive instead five-twenty bonds, or, as The Herald makes it out, a loan of that amount at 12 per cent., is entirely without foundation in fact. The statement that any additional issue of legal tender notes will be asked for or authorized is also incorrect."

This, if correct itself, is, we should say, quite a sweeping correction.

The Question of Exchanging Prisoners —The Rebels to be Brought to Terms.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune speaks fully as hopefully of the result of the measures proposed to be taken by General BUTLER, in order to bring the rebels to terms regarding the exchange of prisoners, as did our own correspondent in his dispatches yesterday. We quote the Washington dispatch on this subject from Wednesday's Tribune:

The mission of Gen. Butler here has a somewhat recent date. It has yet been stated, and rightly, that future plans of the utmost importance, the nature of which must remain secret till subsequent action on the part of the rebels, cause their development, General Butler had also the protracted interview to-day with the President, Secretary Stanton and Gen. Halleck, and is understood to have received their indorsement of his proposed course, and had full power and discretion to carry the same into effect. That all the rebel prisoners, about 36,000 in number, are to be transmitted to his Department, is true, also retaliatory measures to compel proper treatment of ours. These have been determined upon. There is also embraced in Gen. Butler's plans a move in the game which the rebels little think of, and which can't be stopped by anything they do. He has proposed a communication to every person in the contraband, and whether they refuse to hold communication with him or not, the result will be the same.

Charleston—The Condition of the City —To be Blown Up if Taken.

The New York Tribune publishes an authentic rebel letter, which says:

Gen. Beauregard has caused information to reach all citizens that it is impossible to hold the city; he will have it a mass of ruins. No one will complain of this, as they know the barbarians have sworn to destroy every vestige of the city should it ever enter our house, may God have mercy on them, for I can't. If they ever enter the city, you will hear of the greatest earthquake and volcanic eruption known to the world. Our consolation, louise, for you to know that should the vandals ever get here, they will never be able to reach Macon. General Beauregard is confident they could never get one mile beyond the city in any direction, but he is equally confident they can never come here. It is mournful to go through our streets, once alive with hearty and seldom sad faces, entirely deserted, with the exception of now and then one of our colored people or a squalid Irish woman.

THE CAUSE OF THE FIRE AT SUMTER.

The Charleston Courier has the following account of the recent explosion at Sumter, by which eleven men were killed and forty-one wounded:

A small magazine in the southwest angle of the fort, containing about one hundred and fifty pounds of powder, and a quantity of small arms and other ammunition, exploded about 9 o'clock on Friday. The explosion ignited all the materials in the room attached, setting on fire those in the immediate vicinity. The wounded were burned with greater or less severity. The passages were instantly filled with dense volumes of smoke, introduced by a blast of great strength, which extinguished the light, rendering successful attempts to extinguish the fire. A boat from the navy, with a supply of water buckets, was promptly sent to the assistance of the garrison, and ordered all the aid in their power. The behavior of the garrison under their trying circumstances deserves the highest credit. Mr. W. R. Catheart, telegraphic operator, and adjoining quarters, was severely scalded in attempting to make his way out, was knocked down from suffocation, but managed afterward to return and secure his instruments.

Federal Operations in Florida.

A letter from Key West, Florida, 29th ult., gives an account of the destruction by a federal expedition, of the extensive rebel salt works in St. Andrews Bay. The amount of property destroyed is thus summed up:

[illegible] salt-works, [illegible] bushels salt, at $5 per bushel..... $[illegible]
[illegible] salt-works, belonging to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
Government works, three-fourths of a mile square, with buildings and [illegible] boilers..... [illegible]

Total..... $[illegible]

This is exclusive of teams, wagons, produce, &c.

Mr. Blunt, a very intelligent rebel, and proprietor of salt works, remarked that this damage would be a serious blow to the Confederacy, as the fall of Charleston would be. Subsequently St. Andrews City was destroyed.

From North Carolina.

A Washington dispatch says:

An officer of the Government, just arrived from Newbern, N. C., reports that the scheme for the occupation of abandoned plantations works admirably, the rental already producing quite a revenue, beside relieving Government of the support of thousands of poor people, both white and colored. The principles of free labor, and the dignity of self-support, are being inculcated, and arrangements are making for the perfection and extension of the system. The President's Amnesty Proclamation is generally approved there, and could the protection guaranteed be given, there is but little doubt that loyal men could be found to return North Carolina to her allegiance. Gen. Butler's call for negro cavalry created much enthusiasm, and the second regiment, now forming, was receiving over one hundred recruits a week.

The Great Water Highway.

A Cairo letter says: Cotton is coming up the river in increased quantities; the rivers are now free of ice, and boats are no longer detained. At present more sugar seems to be coming up than cotton—for the quantity is large; and housekeepers are glad again to get the yellow, hard, coarse-grained, New Orleans sugar. They value it much more than they do the foreign sugar. Oranges are arriving by the hundred barrels. Truly the Mississippi is open.

The large quantity of artillery which has gone south from this point since the war commenced is surprising, and yet there seems to be no cessation. To-day three batteries of field-pieces were taken from the cars and shipped South.

THE official rebel loss at Chickamauga is stated as follows: killed, 2293; dangerously wounded, 4700; slightly, 10,500; missing, 1900. Total, 19,475—or one-half at least of the whole number of Bragg's army.

Washington Telegrams.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Jan. 5, 1864.

THE ENROLLMENT ACT.

Senator Sumner to-day offered an amendment to the Enrollment act, providing that no man drafted shall be allowed a substitute, but that all substitutes shall be provided by Government. Also, that all persons paying commutation money shall pay $300 each, in addition thereto a tax proportionated to their incomes as follows: Over $1,000 and under $2,000, ten per cent; over $2,000 and under $5,000, twenty per cent; over $5,000, thirty per cent. A further amendment will probably be introduced explaining the meaning of the act to be, that the payment of the $300 commutation money shall apply only to that particular draft upon which the payment is made.

THE DRAFT.

The question as to whether the draft is to be carried into effect at once or postponed, has excited much discussion here. It is understood that no order for the immediate commencement of the draft has been framed from the War Department as yet.

COLORED ENLISTMENTS BY GEN. BUTLER.

In addition to the two regiments of colored cavalry raised by Gen. Butler, a light battery is also being organized, which is rapidly filling up.

RETIRING JUDGES OF THE SUPREME COURT.

The Judiciary Committee will report favorably on the bill introduced by Senator Harlan, and before noticed in the Tribune, for the retiring of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, with pensions graduated to their terms of service.

RETURN OF GEN. BURNSIDE TO THE FIELD.

Gen. Burnside leaves to-morrow to assume command of the Department of the Ohio, relieving Gen. Foster, who is reported in bad health.

SECRETARY CHASE CONVALESCENT.

Secretary Chase has recovered from his recent illness, and will be present at the Department to-morrow.

GEN. WIETZEL SENT TO GEN. BUTLER.

Gen. Wietzel, who is now in Cincinnati, has been ordered to report to Maj. Gen. Butler for duty.

CANDIDATES FOR ASSISTANT SURGEONS.

Of 130 candidates for appointment as Assistant Surgeons United States Volunteers, examined before the Army Medical Board now in session at Washington, during 1863, seventy-five were recommended for such appointment. Of this latter number about twenty have been promoted to be full surgeons. Thirty candidates for appointments to be surgeons, or assistant surgeons of colored regiments, twelve were unsuccessful, only one of that number having been full surgeon, and he was colored.

THE OFFICIAL ACTS OF SURGEON GEN. HAMMOND.

A circular calling attention to the investigation instituted into the official acts of Surgeon Gen. Hammond, and his subsequently being dispatched upon some duty of inspection, is construed by the Medical Bureau officers generally, and the Medical Department generally, as a virtual suspension of Surgeon General Hammond from office. Whether the investigation will be a mere matter of form, or whether it will be searching enough to talk upon that subject, remains to be seen.

Some people place the evidence of happiness upon one thing and some upon another. A lady make a mistake in a Cincinnati hall lately, and got married. When her husband came home to dinner she said, "I have been to see Mrs. Williams' baby, and it is the most beautiful little child you ever saw in your life." "Yes," replied the husband, "I think children are very pretty, indeed." "Why, husband, you don't mean to say that you don't like children?" "Yes, I do like children, but I don't like to see them in the house." "Then you don't like me, for I have children, and they will keep them here." A. G. QUERN.

Gen. Halleck in Iowa.

A special says, Jan. 7—It is understood that Gen. Halleck is to be given a command in Texas.

The Paris correspondent of the London Spectator says, in a recent letter, that "every body in France is preparing for war"—that an irruption of the French troops in Mexico or the United States would inevitably result in the downfall of the Second Empire.

EVENING GAZETTE TELEGRAMS.

OUR PHILADELPHIA SPECIAL DISPATCH.

[illegible] Jan. 7th, 1864.

The whole city seems [illegible] the arrival on the Schuylkill [illegible] Gen. Stoneman, at [illegible] Gen. Grant's [illegible] state under Gen. Grant.

The negro troops [illegible] The expedition of [illegible] M. Cheney, First N [illegible] which left Newbern [illegible] ville, met the enemy [illegible] routed them.

The Lieutenant who [illegible] in the charge was killed [illegible]

The loss on the other [illegible] ant and five men.

Our rank and file were all negroes.

The Mississippi river, though apparently open to commerce, is actually held by military force, to enable the ordinary traffic between the West and south to be carried on.

Signal stations have been established along the entire route, to prevent attacks by the guerrillas.

The rebel lines are now twenty-five miles from Chattanooga.

At Bridgeport, Ala., two soldiers were frozen dead on the 30th ult. Private letters say the cold is beyond the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Gen. Brumlette, of Kentucky, has issued a proclamation ordering the immediate commandants where loyal citizens are taken off by guerrillas, to arrest at least five rebel sympathizers in the vicinity of the outrage.

The destruction of rebel salt works at Saint Andrews Bay is continued. The loss to the rebels is five hundred thousand dollars.

The damage is irretrievable.

OUR FORCES ATTACKED AT JONESVILLE, VA.

Surrender of Three Hundred Men after a Desperate Resistance

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7.—A special to the Commercial from Cumberland Gap, dated Dec. 6, says: An overwhelming force, under Sam. Jones, attacked our troops at Jonesville, Va., on Sunday, consisting of about three hundred men. After a desperate resistance our troops surrendered, losing thirty killed and thirty wounded, one gun and two small howitzers.

Important Land Office Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—An important decision was made by the General Land Office, involving the title of the city of Red Bluff, Tehama county, California, in which Granville Bolt was claimant, and the citizens of Red Bluff contestants: being an appeal case from the Register of the Northern District of that State. The decision is adverse to the claimant Bolt. The site embraces one hundred and sixty acres of land, with several millions of dollars expended in improvements.

Vermont's Quota Full.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—Hon. Mr. Woodbridge, of Vermont, has received a telegram stating that the quota of that State is full, with a surplus of 270, besides the re-enlistment of volunteers in the field.

Return of Butler to Fortress Monroe.

THE PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Abstract of Governor Curtin's Message.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—The message of Governor Curtin will be transmitted to the Legislature to-day. We are indebted to the Evening Bulletin for the following abstract:

The Governor, after alluding to the moral and material blessings which Almighty God has bestowed upon us during the past year, proceeds to the consideration of the financial condition of the State.

The total indebtedness amounts to thirty-nine and a half millions. Hitherto the State has paid its interests in coin or its equivalent, but the Governor recommends the careful and immediate consideration of the Legislature to the subject, and expresses the opinion that the Commonwealth will have fulfilled her obligations, by providing for the payment of interest in the currency of the Government. He deems the policy of paying coin to foreign and currency to domestic loan holders as wholly unwise, and founded on no legitimate principle.

Among other financial recommendations is a tax on the gross receipts of all railroads, canals and mining companies.

Alluding to the recent invasion of the State, the Governor returns thanks to New York and New Jersey for their prompt assistance.

He invites the attention of the Legislature to the deplorable condition of the loyal people of East Tennessee.

He renews his recommendation for a revision of the Militia Laws, and trusts that if a reasonable time be allowed, the State's quota will be filled by volunteers. The State has already sent two hundred and seventy-seven thousand four hundred and nine men to the field, for general and special service.

The Governor continues as follows: "That this unnatural rebellion may be speedily and effectually crushed, we lie all under the obligation of the one permanent duty, that of vigorously supporting our Government in its measures to that end. To the full extent of my official and individual ability, it shall be supported, and I heartily rely on your co-operation.

"I am ready for all proper measures to strengthen its arms, to encourage its upholders, to sustain its patriotic volunteers in the field and their families, the men who gave up all to their personal services in every mode to invigorate its action. We are fighting the great battle of the world. The God of the Almighty has so attributed that can favor our savage and degenerate enemies. No people can submit to territorial dismemberment without losing caste, prestige and power in the world. But we are not only fighting against Territorial dismemberment that we are struggling against the destruction of the very principle of free government, and establishing in its stead the despotic system, the only principle of the government of the slave States. That is the question to be solved, and by the blessing of God it must be solved successfully. We have during the past year made mighty efforts to strike such a solution as to fix all human appearance on a permanent basis. Let us not, however, whatever differences may happen, waver or flinch and become weak or recreant. Whatever sacrifices may be necessary, there will remain in the treasury of the country enough to carry out this thing to the end—to crush out and perpetuate this Union. Then there can be but one star in the constellation of nations, but that one will be the brightest and purest of all. Let us, then, be of good heart and hope, and they will keep the faith."

A. G. CURTIN.
