An Eloquent Tribute to the Sacrifices and Glory of the War.

Governor Andrew's Message to the Massachusetts Legislature has the following admirable passage on the sacrifices and glory of the war:

General topics—among others, the militia—omitted from this address, already long, can be better matured hereafter, if occasion demand their discussion. I must not omit to bear public testimony again to the efficient manner in which the recruitment of volunteers is conducted through the municipal governments. The work is brought directly home to the people. Led by their own local magistrates, it is patriotically done. Time, an element not usually understood, will enable them to fill our contingent. I can never express my sense of the sublime devotion to public duty I have witnessed in this people from my watch tower of observation, nor the gratitude I owe for their indulgent consideration.

But the heart swells with unwonted emotion when we remember our sons and brothers, whose constant valor has sustained on the field, during nearly three years of the war, the cause of our country, of civilization, and liberty. Our volunteers have represented Massachusetts, during the year just ended, on almost every field and in every department of the army where our flag has been unfurled. At Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Vicksburg, Fort Hudson and Fort Wagner, at Chicamauga, Knoxville and Chattanooga; under Hooker, Meade, and Banks, and Gilmore, and Rosecrans, Burnside, and Grant; in every scene of danger and of duty; along the Atlantic, and the Gulf, on the Tennessee, the Cumberland, the Mississippi and the Rio Grande; under Butler and Dahlgren, and Foote, and Farragut, and Porter, the sons of Massachusetts have borne their part, and paid the debt of patriotism and valor. Ubiquitous as the black they descend from, national in their opinions, and universal in their sympathies, they have fought shoulder to shoulder with men of all sections and of every extraction. Pork, bacon, or flour, fish, pot and pearl ashes, saleratus, limestone and lard oils, dried fruit, and produce generally, Nos. 141 and 143 Front street, Pittsburgh. oct2

A Terrible Winter Disaster.

By a passenger who arrived here on the Central Railroad last night, from the West, we learn of one of the most fearful and heart-rending affairs that has ever occurred in this section of the country, viz: that a family of seven persons were frozen to death during the cold weather on Friday last. About thirty miles from the boundary line between Michigan and Indiana, in the latter State, about midway between Centerville and Crown Point, lived a German, with his wife and five children, named Kratzer. The oldest was a boy of seven years of age, the next a boy of five, and three girls, all of less than the boys, the youngest but an infant.

The country where the family resided is very rolling, and the snow had drifted into the hollows, making the road almost, if not wholly, impassible for even pedestrians.

The driver of the stage coach coming from Crown Point to Lake, via Centreville, found that Kratzer's dwelling had been burned to the ground, it is supposed the night previous, but none of the family were to be seen. About a mile further on, however, he was horrified to find the father and two boys frozen to death. The boys were in the father's arms, and it is supposed that he had fallen with them after having been so far affected with the frost as not to be able to proceed. The three corpses were placed in the stage, but before it had proceeded more than a quarter of a mile on its destination, the body of the oldest girl was found in a snow-drift, with a shawl wrapped closely around it, where it had doubtless been deposited by its weary mother, while yet alive, in the hope that some chance traveler might rescue it from an impending fate.

This corpse, too, was placed in the coach, and again it started on its way, only to find, after traveling a short distance, the lifeless remains of the mother, with the two youngest children. The body of the mother was standing erect in a snow drift, with the children in her arms, the youngest being at the breast.

The seven lifeless bodies were conveyed to Centreville by the driver of the stage, at which place they were decently interred by the inhabitants.

This is certainly the most appalling disaster that it has been our duty to record, and the bare recital of the facts could not fail to bring a shudder, even to a heart of stone. A whole family ushered into the presence of their Creator, and none to tell the tale of suffering.—Detroit Tribune.

Active Operations.

Those who are anxious to know when the Army of the Potomac will advance, and when the war is likely to come to a close, may be interested in knowing Gen. Meade's opinion on these points. He gave it in the course of two little speeches he made in Philadelphia on Tuesday last. In regard to the resumption of active duty by the army of the Potomac, he said: "We are making every effort to improve the present, and, as soon as the weather moderates and the season will allow, active operations will be commenced anew, and in earnest."

As to the time when the war ought to close, he expressed himself thus: "The war must be ended by hard fighting, and it becomes every man, woman and child to work for the increase of our armies in the field, and when that is done I believe that next summer will come to us with peace restored to the land, and happiness, contentment and prosperity pervading the entire country."

THE TIMES OF NEW YORK.—Thursday's New York Tribune says:

On Tuesday, the boat brought from Riker's Island the dead bodies of five colored men, who had been poisoned with drugs administered to them by runners, who do not seem to be satisfied with stealing the money belonging to these men, but in some instances they take their money and their lives also. Whenever one meets the traveler and points the revolver at his breast, demanding his purse or his life; if the traveler gives up his purse, his life is spared; but some of these brokers are like the Moor who threatened to kill the Christian if he did not renounce his religion, and then killed him because he did renounce it, hoping thereby to insure a severer punishment to his soul.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Cincinnati Gazette says of Gen. Stoneman's successor: "He is Colonel Gerrard, of Cincinnati; born, raised, went to West Point, graduated with honor and credit; has been in the army ever since; was in Texas with his command (cavalry) when the rebellion broke out; was amongst the first prisoners; Gen. Twiggs said: 'Let him go, he is a gentleman and cavalry officer.' Through years of hardship and exposure, he has risen to the command of a corps, and that matter, together with other points connected therewith, is held in abeyance.

The thirty-five men belonging to the 1st Massachusetts cavalry, who were captured by guerrillas a few days since, made their escape from the rebels, and all returned yesterday.

Arrivals from Europe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The steamship Glasgow, from Liverpool, arrived at this port this morning. Her advices have been anticipated.

Amativeness—Big. Silks out like a hornet's nest. You ought tow be able to tell where the whole human families with yure bump at once. You will never be a widderer long, not any.

Philistikes—You have got the natral wa. A splendid bump. It reels like a Dimmokratik bump, too. Menny a man has got to be konkluded with that yure bump.

Kombativeness—Sleightually, very much. Yu might site a woman, tuff match. I shud like tow bet on the woman. This bump wants punishing.

Vittles—Bi thunder what a bump! I shud think ye cud eat a hoss and cart, and chase the driver three miles, without any praktis. Thunder and Lightening! what a bump! what a bump. Let Darmon get his hand on this bump and yure fortin is made. What a bump! what a bump!

Music—A sweet, pretty bump. About the size of a Jim's bean. If I had this bump I wud buy me a juice harp, and wander among the rocky mountains. Pon my word, Mr. Milbery, mi advice is, nuss this bump.

Gromboozleum—Well developed. A gorgeous bump. A fortin to enny man. Yu kant help but die rich, if this bump don't go back on yu. Gorgeous bump! happee man! die when yu feel like it, deth wont have enny sorrows for yure relashuns that this bump wont heal.

A BILL was introduced into the Ohio Legislature on Wednesday, providing a State bounty of $200 for veteran volunteers. The bill for the relief of soldiers' families will probably pass this week. It is likely to authorize a State tax of two mills and a county tax of one mill. An additional tax of one half mill in cities of first and second class, is also proposed.

PRIVATE letters received at Boston from a clergyman in Charleston, S. C., give details of the anguish and suffering of the inhabitants of that city. The opinion is expressed that the city will have to be given up ere long, to save the people from actual starvation.

"I HAVE just met your old acquaintance Daly," said an Irishman to his friend, "and was sorry to see he has almost shrunk away to nothing. You are thin, and I am thin; but he is thinner than both of us put together."

Wine-Making in the Sandusky Grape District.

The Sandusky Register says: "From the best information in our possession, we conclude from 175,000 to 200,000 gallons of wine were made in the Sandusky Grape District last fall. We had supposed the quantity of juice expressed to have been far below that, but a recent conversation with one of our wide-awake grape men, induces us to conclude that these figures are not too high for the products of the Islands and the main land. If they are correct, we have in this single item a value, in one year, from the vineyards of this vicinity, of over $300,000. This will not only show outsiders what the Sandusky Grape District has come to, but will appear very large to many inside of the District. The fact is, if next year should be favorable, the value of the productions of the vineyards of this region will hardly be less than a million of dollars."

CHARGE IN ENGLISH OPINION.—The London correspondent of the New York Tribune says that Gallenga, who filled the place of the New York correspondent of the London Times while Mackay was at home, returned to England a few weeks ago, and announced that the resources, and power, and determination of the north, were greater than were thought. The correspondent adds:

"The fact is that the recent elections in America, the victories in the West, the firmness of the President, and the evident progress of emancipation, have inspired a popular enthusiasm here, where calm sympathy prevailed before; and the time is fast approaching when few men will risk an opinion openly in favor of the south. As for Mr. Lincoln, the feeling for him is very great, and if our next autumn's ballot extended to England there is little doubt who would be President."

VERY INDIGNANT.—The Sandusky Register says that the prisoners on Johnson's Island are very indignant at the idea of being transferred to Gen. Butler's Department. We presume their feelings will have very little effect in the premises. Any grief they feel in regard to this or anything connected with their prison life should be promptly diverted against their own Government—for its refusal to exchange the Union men in their hands for men, for the rebels in ours.

Active Operations.

THE Halifax Citizen says that Braine, who captured the Chesapeake, swindled numerous citizens in Halifax last Summer out of sums ranging from 25 shillings to $30, by pretending to be a publisher of Montreal, and about to issue a mercantile and statistical work of Canada and the Provinces, for which he solicited subscriptions and advertisements. The work has not yet appeared, and the money doubtless helped to fit out his piratical expedition. Braine is still skulking somewhere in the Provinces.

PATRIOTISM OF THE FORTY-FOURTH OHIO REGIMENT.—A Columbus dispatch says: Gov. Brough received to-day a dispatch from Iron Sam. Gilbert, which so summarily dealt with the rebel convention at Frankfort, announcing the gratifying fact that six hundred and sixty-four of his men of the 44th Ohio had re-enlisted for the war. This is the highest number that has been reported from one regiment, and the announcement created considerable enthusiasm throughout the Legislature for the gallant boys and their colonel.

THE COTTON FACTORIES OF THE WORLD.—France has 2,600 cotton factories, employing 274,250 hands, running 3,500,000 spindles and using 140,000,000 pounds of cotton. The United States has only 90 factories, employing only 101,000 hands, but they run 5,000,000 spindles and use 426,719,000 pounds of cotton. Great Britain employs 150,000 hands in 3,046 factories with 21,000,000 spindles, using 990,000,000 pounds of cotton; only a little more than twice the amount used in the 90 American factories.

IN Spain, woman on her marriage retains (as with us) the name, the proper name, by which alone she has been baptised. She also retains her apellido, or surname. The children not unfrequently take the surname of both their parents, not with the disjunctive nilos, but with a conjunctive y (and), as Don Francisco Quevedo y Villegas. When the rank of the mother is considerably more exalted than that of the father, the surname of the mother is sometimes taken alone.

WHAT IS EQUAL.—The aggregate steam power of Great Britain is set down as 83,635,214 horse power, or equal to 400,000,000 of men. This is the force that is adding to the wealth of modern society in a greater degree than any power which has existed since the foundation of the world. The power of steam makes England with a population of only 29,000,000, produce wealth representing a population twenty times that amount.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15, 1864.

It is rumored that the rebel General Stuart, with five thousand cavalry, had crossed the river far to the right of our army, and reached Leesburg. Our forces there are falling back towards Fairfax. Whether their object is to cut short the railway near Bull Run, or the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad near Point of Rocks, is not known.

During the late cold spell, five cases of death by freezing, among the soldiers in the Army of the Potomac, were reported to the medical authorities.

The small pox disease prevails in Alexandria and Washington.

Affairs at Johnson's Island are not devoid of anxiety yet. Brig. Gen. Terry, 6th Army Corps, with his brigade, arrived at Sandusky. A portion of them yesterday crossed the bay on the ice, and took up their quarters on Johnson's Island. It is said that the rebel prisoners there have been talking boldly of late about a spoody release, and an adventure to Canada.

In the case of the Chesapeake, before the Admiralty Court in Halifax, the Judge reiterated his opinion that the case was one of piracy throughout. The final decision is not given.

The Bremen brig Hydra arrived at Rio Janeiro, November 30th, from London. The master reported that on the 20th of November in latitude 17° South he was boarded by a boat with an armed crew from a gunboat, which they reported as the Ohio. Being close alongside of the gunboat he could see two brass pieces, one forward and aft. She had no name or colors. The vessel was probably the rebel privateer bark, Tuscaloosa. W. J. J.

New York, Jan. 15.—The Herald has the following special dispatch from Culpepper Court House:

It is reported, to-night, that Stuart, with 3,000 cavalry, has crossed the rivers far to your right, and has reached Leesburg. Our forces there are falling back towards Fairfax. Whether his object is to cut short this railway, near Bull Run, or the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Point of Rocks, is not yet ascertained. The government is fully aware of his whereabouts, however, and will meet him with an adequate force whichever way he goes.

It is not yet determined that Gen. Hancock will resume command of a grand army corps, but that matter, together with other points connected therewith, is held in abeyance.

The thirty-five men belonging to the 1st Massachusetts cavalry, who were captured by guerrillas a few days since, made their escape from the rebels, and all returned yesterday.
