G The Rebellion an Utter Failure—Statement of a Gentleman from Georgia.

New York, Jen. 25.—The Post says that a gentleman who has spent several years in Macon, Georgia, recently arrived at Newark, and Georgia and Control of the Cont Macon, Ororgia, recently arrived at Newark, New Jersey. He declares the rebellion an uter failure. Even the leaders see that success is out of the question, while the common people would hall with designt the restoration of the federal authority. One of the principal bankers of Macon told him our only hope now is that the federal army will deliver us from our troubles, for without that intervention we must periah. The utmost destitution prevails everywhere, and the conscription is being endered with pittless energy, including even groy headed men. Sinvery, he says, is dead, and this is admitted by nino-tenths of the Southern people. Three years ago the same men wrote letters asserting in strong terms that the South could not be subdued; now, he declares its only hope is the Northern armies.
