TUESDAY MORNING. PEB. 28. 186 The Florida Expedition

We have heretofore given very full extra from our Eastern exchanges concerning th objects sought to be attained by the expedi ion to Floridaunder Generals Gilnons an SEYMOUR. It will do no harm to state agai that those objects were the cutting off o supplies which the rebels had been drawin in large quantities from Florida, and th restoration of the State itself to the Union If there was any ulterior object, it was to co-operate with GRANT and BRERNAN i their grand offensive campaign against the forces of the enemy in the Gulf States. Testerday's mail brought us a many distribution of the state of the state of the small force he had undertaken the small force, the swall fails for manual through accordance of the swall fails for missing for the event, where means the same busy preparing for the event, where means the same busy preparing for the event, where means the same bus Yesterday's mail brought us a mass this small force he had undertaken the task of bisecting the Florida peninsula, and cutting off the larger portion of its territory from rebel rule. His plan was to ascend the St. John's river to Jacksonville, a town of some twelve hundred inhabitants before the war, and then march his army westwardly to Tallahassee, the capital of the State, and distant from Jacksonville to be bundred and fifty miles. The latter place was accordingly occupied on the 7th inst, and on the 8th one hundred prisoners, battery of eight pieces, and other value.

80 head of cattle. Up to the afternoon of the 14th, thirteen cannon had been captured. Of the prisoners captured, about one-half had taken the oast of allegiance.
The Prenident's Amnesty Proclamation is being scattered in all directions. Jacksonville is to be made the base of General GIENORI'S operations, but it is not expoeted that they can be conducted without serious opposition. It is reported that the enemy will make a stand at Lake City,

Unionism in Alabama.

Gen. Logan's recent expedition into Alabams the expedition under Gen. Gilmore, are plainly shown. The more we learn of the secret history of the rebellion, the more we are convinced that for many months starvation and exhaustion have been preying upon its vitals. It would seem that, if the objects of General Gilmore's expedition should be fully accomplished, the rebellion should be fully accomplished, the rebellion should be fully accomplished, the rebellion will receive a more staggering blow than the most sanguine among us had looked for. Take from the rebels the supplies of food necessity their cause is lost irretrievably.
