General Halleck.

Great difficulty exists among the knights of the sash, now at Washington in regard to the status of General Halleck since the appointment of Lieut. Gen. Grant. It is asserted by some that, like Othello's, "his occupation's gone;" and by others that he is to be the Adjutant of the President, through whom all orders are to be issued to Gen. Grant.

There is a difficulty about accepting either of these statements as verity—first, because no person has yet been able to ascertain or define what his occupation is; and, in the next place, the President, as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, is already provided with one Adjutant in the person of Brigadier General L. Thomas, Adjutant General of the United States, which is, with his assistants, all the law provides for.

Hence we conclude that, if Gen. Halleck is to be retained in any position whatever, it must be that of private secretary to the President—an arrangement to which, we can conceive of no possible objection.

The Louisville Journal.

A Kentucky correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette gives the following information about the proprietorship and editorial control of the Louisville Journal, which may perhaps interest some of our readers.

A word or two about the Louisville Journal. We stated in our last that half of that paper was owned by a rebel. Our statement was then perhaps true, but a change has taken place. Henderson and Osborne, who between them have made at least $100,000 out of the Government by contracts, own all the paper. Prentice has ceased to have any connection with it, except as to (in the bargain) let them have the use of his name. He has no official or pecuniary connection with it whatever. This is a private transaction, it is true, but it is also a shameful fraud upon the community. George D. Prentice is known to be a good Union man; he has always lent his influence to that cause. He has frequently and again expressed his disapprobation of Shipman's opposition course, and Union men for his sake have taken the paper. Now what will be the feelings of those Union men when they learn that George D. Prentice has loaned his name to a Copperhead paper, to get its Junior Union families, when he knew he had not authority enough with it to insert even a local paragraph. Prentice's name must give influence to the spiritless and pithless articles of a Copperhead Shipman, who has the unbridled impudence to dictate to Kentuckians what they must do in the crisis. Paul R. Shipman is now the senior and controlling editor of the Journal. Prentice, with his trenchant logic, his biting sarcasm and penetrating wit, is gone.

People of Kentucky, your favorite editor—he whom you rejoiced to rally you around the great Clay; and who so often expounded to you the teachings of that great man and his compeers—has ceased to speak to you in the columns of the Journal. Its editorship has departed, and though the imprint has stooped to lend his name to the Copperhead concern it has now become, yet you are warned from it now that you know the truth. Oh, shame on you, George D. Prentice. Take your name from the masthead, and no longer let it be a cause of shame to a Kentuckian. Couple it no longer with one whose political principles are abhorred and detested by your friends. They demand it. Come out from the thing, and let it sink at once to its proper level. If you do not, your will desires and recklessness and actions of those who stood by you in times which tried men's souls.

Description of Important Positions in Georgia.

Tunnel Hill is thirty-one miles distant from Chattanooga and one hundred and seven miles from Atlanta. It is in Murray county, Ga., where the mountains come together, forming an amphitheatre. It receives its name from a tunnel which is 1,477 feet long, 18 feet high, and with a clear width of 13 feet. It is cut in a great measure, through solid rock, and the approaches to it are protected on both sides by massive masonry.

Dalton is seven miles beyond Tunnel Hill, and is one hundred and ten miles by railroad from Knoxville. It is the county seat of Whitfield county, and was laid out in 1846. Its location is in a fertile valley, surrounded by mountains. Dalton contains a steam flour and lumber mill, and an extensive foundry. Its importance, in a military point of view, consists in the fact that it is naturally capable of formidable defence, and is one of the angles of a railroad triangle between Chattanooga and Cleveland, Tennessee, are the other corners.

The next important places south are Kingston and Rome, Kingston is seventy-nine miles from Atlanta. It is a small village on the Western and Atlantic Railroad, but is important as being the junction point of the Rome, Branch Railroad. Rome is located twenty miles from Kingston, a little north of west. It is the county seat of Floyd county, and is situated on several hills at the confluence of the Etowah and Coosawhatchie, which forms the Coosa river. Steamboats run up from Mobile to Rome. There are two rolling mills and two powder mills there.

Queen Victoria's Abdication.—The Montreal Diplomatique makes itself responsible for the extraordinary statement that at a recent Cabinet Council, on the Danish question, Queen Victoria rose from her chair, declaring that she could come to no decision without consulting with Prince Albert, retired into her closet, and, on emerging, announced that the Prince was hostile to any act of war by England.....

The unmistakable proof of mental abberration is said to have determined Lord Palmerston to urge the abdication of the queen; and the fact that, instead of joining his mother at Osborne, the Prince of Wales has gone with his princess to St. Leonards, is interpreted as an indication that Edward VII. is preparing to mount the throne, and to inaugurate a new foreign policy in the affairs of Great Britain.

It is certain that the present attitude of the English Government cannot long be maintained if England is to keep her place as a Power of the first rank; and if the abdication of Victoria is a necessary preliminary to vigorous and honorable action on the part of Great Britain, the abdication is likely to be insisted upon and accomplished with no unnecessary delay.

We have the report that Secretary Stanton has advised the officials of New York city to continue their efforts at recruiting, as 200,000 more men are to be raised as soon as the present call is filled.

—A Washington telegram to the Chicago Tribune supplies the following explanation of the above:

"It is not true that as soon as the impending draft is completed another will be ordered, but a proposition is entertained in the War Department to make an additional call for 200,000 men before the draft is made, in order to make up for the deficiency to be caused by the transfer of men from the army to the navy, and to raise and keep ready for emergencies two large reserve bodies, one to be formed in the West, and the other in the East.

The foreign imports at New York last week, according to currency value, were $797,810. Added to currency value, $1,000,000. Exports of produce the same time were (currency value) $2,596,320.

Tobacco has sent fifty missives to the war by various expeditions, from colonels to privates.

The Atlanta Confederacy is paying $2.50 a pound for its bacon.

Maryland corn is now exported from Baltimore to New York.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, March 8, 1864.

The people of this city have launched out upon them every Sabbath day a mountain of dropsical literature in the shape of Sunday papers. They are almost uniformly what is papers. They are almost uniformly what is called the "American gentleman's politely gence, and details of scandal and criminal cases, and calculated almost exclusively for bar-room and brothel circulation. Of course they are all "enterprising." Perhaps the good people of Pittsburgh have not a clear idea of "enterprise" considered in a newspaper sense. Enterprise is a sort of competition as to which can tell the most impudent falsehood; the most bare-faced untruth. Ignorant, though respectable, people often take these papers because they have news not found elsewhere. Those papers which have such a reputation for always being "ahead," are generally the least reliable.

One of the great sensations of these journals is the "Fenian Brotherhood," which is alleged to be an uprising of the Irish in this country, for freeing Ireland. In the last issue of the greatest of all the leading newspapers is an article, a column in length, giving the results of this embryo uprising, and detailing the proceedings of a great secret meeting held somewhere; stating that arms are to be bought and England to be whipped, asserting that prominent men in the country, including Secretary Seward, Governor Curtin, Fernando Wood, and Speaker Colfax, were encouraging the scheme; and alleging that the true reason England did not take an active part in the Danish war, was a fear of the "Fenian Brotherhood" of America. This same paper has had tremendous head-lines" and startling paragraphs on this subject for a year, but I have never in all that time seen the matter alluded to by any other journal. Carnage and slaughter are the set themes of that class of people, who toast their shins over a bar-room fire and conceal liquor on their persons; and this "Brotherhood," partaking largely of the mysterious and bloody, as it does, was admirably calculated to build up a heavy support from the quarters above mentioned.

The vote on the proposed amendment to the State Constitution, allowing persons in the military and naval service, absent from their residences, to vote, is going on quietly. There is very little interest manifested anywhere, and I doubt whether 15,000 votes will be polled in the entire city. There seems to be no open opposition to the measure; though when the ballots are counted, no doubt evidences enough of disloyalty will be found.

The departure of one regiment of "Greeley's Three Hundred Thousand" on Saturday, was the occasion of hearty cheers, encouraging plaudits, waving of handkerchiefs, showering of bouquets, and other enthusiastic demonstrations of the populace. The spectators along Broadway to view the display of the regiment, numbered over one hundred thousand, a large portion of whom were colored. It was the greatest turnout since that to welcome the Russian naval officers, and it will be remembered twice as long. It was a glorious reply to the July riots!

Speaking of negroes reminds me that the Copperhead press are taking the Tribune to task for the admission of the fact that it was a colored man that betrayed Col. Dahlgren's command of the Kilpatrick expedition, (that's the fact that instead of joining his regiment at Osborne), the Prince of Wales has dined with his princess to St. Leonards, is interpreted as an indication that Edward VII. is preparing to mount the throne, and to inaugurate a new foreign policy in the affairs of Great Britain.

It is certain that the present attitude of the English Government cannot long be maintained if England is to keep her place as a Power of the first rank; and if the abdication of Victoria is a necessary preliminary to vigorous and honorable action on the part of Great Britain, the abdication is likely to be insisted upon and accomplished with no unnecessary delay.

The Virginia Convention—Report of the Committee on Emancipation.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 10, 1 o'clock P. M.

—The following report of the Committee on Emancipation was passed at 12 o'clock to-day by the Constitutional Convention, now in session in this city. There was but one dissenting vote. One hundred guns are now being fired in honor of the event, and bells are ringing throughout the city:

Mr. Wallon, on Emancipation and Education, submitted the following report:

Your Committee on Emancipation beg leave to introduce the following as a part of the Constitution of Virginia, to be inserted in the same under the caption of "Slavery or Freedom."

First, Slavery and involuntary servitude except for crime is hereby abolished and prohibited in this State forever.

Second, courts of competent jurisdiction may apprentice minors of African descent on like conditions provided by law for apprenticing white children.

Third, the general assembly shall make no law establishing slavery or recognizing property in human beings.

Affairs in Denmark.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The following dispatches per the Australasian, containing important news, were only received to-day:

DENMARK.—Copenhagen, Feb. 27.—Denmark has expressed the wish to be excused from replying to any proposition for a conference so long as Schleswig is not evacuated.

STUTTGARD, Feb. 27.—In to-day's sitting of the Chamber Baron Von Hugel said, according to the most reliable, information that a speedy termination of the war was not to be expected.

Denmark was firmly resolved on opposing the most determined resistance to the claim of Austria, Prussia and the Federal diet. His Holdr proposed that every facility be afforded to the Government to enable it by the most powerful measures, and especially by a union of the middle States, to bring the national energies to a successful issue; and further, that the discussion of the extraordinary credit of 680,000 florins be postponed until the middle States were seriously determined to act. The military credit was, however, granted by a vote of 65 against 15.

The Presidency—Withdrawal of Mr. Chase's Name—Sherman's Expenditure.

CINCINNATI, March 10.—The Commercial's Columbus dispatch says: Secretary Chase Cas written a letter to Hon. James C. Hill, a ta Senator, withdrawing his name from the Presidential canvass.

The Gazette's Cairo dispatch says: Passengers by the steamer Sultana report that Sherman's expedition penetrated thirty-five miles beyond Meridian, and destroyed all the railroads in that vicinity, including thirty-two locomotives and a large number of cars.

There was a rumor of fighting after leaving Canton, when Wirt Adams' rebel cavalry was encountered.

Sherman's loss in killed, wounded and missing, is five hundred.

A large number of plantations were destroyed.

All quie at Chattanooga and Knoxville.

Treaty Ratified.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10.—The ratification of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, for the final settlement of the claims of the Hudson Bay and Pugets Sound Agricultural Companies, have just been exchanged. All questions between the United States on the one hand, and the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound Agricultural Company on the other, with respect to the possession rights and claims of those companies, and if any other British subjects in Oregon and Washington Territories are to be settled by the transfer of those rights and claims to the Government of the United States for an adequate money consideration, and it is agreed that the United States and her Britanic Majesty shall within 12 months after the exchange of the ratification of the present treaty, appoint each a commissioner for the purpose of examining and deciding upon all claims arising out of its provisions.

Havana and St. Domingo.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Advices from Havana report that 800 more troops are daily expected from Cadiz for St. Domingo.

The Donegal brought 1,000 bales of cotton.

Mobile papers report that the great excitement about Sherman's expedition had ceased.

Their is nothing later from San Domingo or Mexico.

Gen. Grant at the President's Levee

A N.Y. Tribune telegram says:

The reception of Gen. Grant at the President's levee in the evening was more furious than any scene that ever trampled in the East Room. He was literally lifted up for a while, and in obedience to a demand and to a necessity, so great was a desire to have a fair look at him, he was obliged to mount a sofa, under the auspices of Secretary Seward, who proceeded him to that elevation. There has never been such a coat-tearing, button-bursting jam in the White-House as this soldier has occasioned. The cheering and waving of handkerchiefs was in the customary fury of Americans over popular favorites.

In 1851 the 8th Ohio took with them to the gold an eagle, which has followed them into all their fights, and screamed wildly above the din of every battle. The brave 8th is now on a furlough, having re-enlisted, and having the eagle still with them they find no difficulty in filling up their ranks with recruits. The noble bird has been twice wounded, and if he comes out of the contest the boys intend to shall be kept at the capital as the charge of the State.

New Loyal Paper in South Carolina.—The Beaufort Herald has just been started at Port Royal, by S. W. Mason & Co. It is unconditionally loyal, and promises to furnish a faithful record of all news, proper for publication, in the Department of the South and among the fleets of the South Atlantic squadrons.

The Unreturned Generals.—A Washington telegram says: Copperhead threats of filibustering staved off to-day the passage of the resolution from the House Military Committee to drop the unemployed and mis-employed Major Generals and Brigadier Generals who are eating three hundred thousand dollars a year out of our afflicted Treasury. There are sixty-four of these beauties, of whom twenty-five are doing nothing but wearing their uniforms and giving their views. Thirty-nine are gently exercising themselves in Courts Martial, Inquiries, and other tender employments not commensurate with their rank, and hugely disproportioned to their pay.

Petroleum and Music.—The Messager, of Exelles, in Belgium, contains a strange account of some experiments which it affirms have taken place in that town, to show the effect produced by music on petroleum oil lamps. That journal asserts that they are at once extinguished by a certain note sounded on a brass instrument. "During a quatuor," it says, "three or four lamps placed in different parts of the room went out simultaneously, and M. Duhem, professor at the Brussels Conservatoire of Music, extinguished eight lamps successively by the sound of a trumpet."

The Atlanta (Ga.) Register says that "Brigadier-General Wm. Preston is safely on his way to Mexico, as Minister Plenipotentiary to that court. He sailed, early in January last, from a Confederate port. He was formerly Minister to Spain, under Buchanan. He is instructed to make a treaty with Maximilian based upon the mutual recognition of the governments, with commercial clauses granting reciprocal privileges of trade and commerce."

A Miss Emma Webb has appeared in Brooklyn as a Democratic orator. She attempts a reply to Miss Anna Dickinson. Are women going to take the lead in conducting the political campaign this summer?

Sorgho.—A Washington letter says: There have been an unprecedented number of demands this year, for sorgho-seed, a new supply of which has been obtained by the Commissioner of Agriculture for distribution.

When at Columbus, Ohio, on his way to Washington, Gen. Grant said that he would return to the West within ten days.
