The Late Affray in Washington. The Examiner, the Copportend organ of Washington, Pa., characterizes our report of the late affray as "a flogitious statement The Mextreme wickedne ss" of our report, as we infer from the Examiner's romarks, consists in our representing the difficulty as a "fight between Copperheads and soldiers." We quote: "It seems that the Pittsburgt

Gasette spares no opportunity to hisspirepros ocracy of Washington county," upon the Den and 'ls eridently exceedingly anxious to aggregate the bitter feelings already ex-

Bersral boys have been killed within a year in consequence of their own recRisseners in jumping upon trains, and it would seem that these sad and terrible warnings are not beeded for a single day. The only adequate remedy for the will, it seems to us, lies in a thorough system of police, by which it would be im-possible for any boy to put his foot upon a train, at any of the deputs or stopping places, under severe penalties. The persons so of-fending should not only be kept of the trains, but arrested and penished, Until some such measures are taken, we may expect to hear of kcn, we may expect to hear res are ta just such calamatics as we have above
