THURBUAT DESCRIPTION MARCH 24, 1864 CITY AND SUBURBAN.

STOFFICIAL PAPER. CI Those of our patrons who remove on the Ist of April, will please loave notice at this office, the number and street of their new bonnets are a little different from last search, Bishop Hopkins on Stavery.

Messrs. Davis, Clarke & Co., 93 Wood strest have just received Bishop Hopkins' now book on Bisvery—a defense of his pamphlet on the same culject, in answer to the "Fretest of the Bishop and Clorgy of the Diocessof Ponnsyivahith" which has aforesaid pamphlet called forth. The samphlet is also included

Clarke by Mood the Stress, degred with dow drops.
The hats are the latest styles for ladies and children. The Legionr and English straw, the Empress and Spanish hats are very jaunty.
The trimming stock is gay, grand, brillians, yet soft in all the colors of the rainbow, both in ribbons, flowers, grasses, straws, corals called forth. The jumphlet is also included in the present volume. Since the publication of the Protest of Bishop Petter and the episcopal clergy (with few exceptions) of his discose, in September last, the Bisnep of Vermont scenes to have been industriously plying the pan in this strange work for a Christian Bishop of defanding the "fish." of a man to ewa; his fellow-man—in effect the "divine right," as attested by the Bible, the Church, and such interpreters of sethes the Mopkinses of the present and past generations, of Robert Toombs and J. M. Mason and Jesiscan Davis to "have and to hold" their African brethren (for the Bishop admits they are brethren) in Canticle, adscriptingledes, or by whatever name, in Latin or Engish, the notary may describe such "property." But we have nother inclination nor space to review the Bishop's in Latin or English, the notary may describe such "property." But we have nother inclination nor space to review the Bishop's positions, and therefore shall simply transcribe the title-page of his book, leaving it to the curious reader to examine he arguments and determine their quality for himself,—that is, if he should think the game worth the exadic. The title-page is as follows: "A Scriptural, Ecclesiastical, and Hinterical View of Slavery, from the days of the Patriarch Aberham, to the Ninsteenic Contrary. Addr. seed to the Right Rev. Alenzo
