CITY AND SUBURBAN.

OFFICIAL PAPER.

THOSE of our patrons who remove on the 1st of April, will please leave notice at this office the number and street of their new locations.

Sanitary Fair Bulletin.

Headquarters of the Executive Committee 96 Water street, where the Secretary, W. D. McGervan, will be found at all times, and the Chairman every afternoon until the opening of the Fair.

Headquarters of Ladies' Committee at the Sanitary rooms, Burke's building, Fourth street

Printing required by the sub-committees will be ordered by the Secretary of the Executive Committee.

Circulars and Blanks will be found at the Executive Committee rooms.

The Sanitary Fair—Its Location.

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held to determine the location of the Fair. A resolution was immediately passed to locate the Fair in Pittsburgh, provided a suitable site could be found.

The Committee on examining locations reported, and it appeared that the Leonard lot on Penn street, below St. Clair, is 420 feet in length by 60 wide, containing 25,200 square feet of ground. The Scotch Hill Market lot, from curb to curb, is 252 feet long by 70 feet wide, containing 24,640 square feet. The Oregon lot, including all the irregular vacant space between Ross and Grant street and from Fourth street to the Court House, contains 32,640 feet. As to the Allegheny or Monongahela wharves, it was decided that owing to the slope of the wharves, a very heavy expense and a large amount of timber would be required to make the floors level, and that the danger of accident to the immense crowd which will fill the halls would be so great, that the Committee could not take the responsibility of such a structure.

The dimensions of the buildings which the Committee now propose to erect are as follows:

Floral Hall	100 x 120 feet.
Ladies' Bazaar	120 x 53 "
Refectory	168 x 53 "
Exhibition and Lecture Hall	150 x 93 "
Mechanics' Hall	203 x 93 "

An aggregate of 87,164 square feet.

This, with the use of all the public halls in the cities besides, is the smallest amount of space that can possibly answer the requirements of the Fair. The required space for the buildings is 10,000 square feet more than the Oregon lot and Market lot together.

The Committee, after fully considering the subject in all its aspects, decided to place the Fair buildings in the Allegheny City Diamond Square. The question is settled, and conscious of having decided for the best interests of the Fair, the Executive Committee may confidently look for the acquiescence of all, to make the Sanitary Fair a success which Pittsburgh may be proud of for a generation.

A Case of Supposed Infanticide.

On Friday morning Mayor Alexander was informed that an infant a few days old, which had died on Tuesday last, was lying in a house on West street, Allegheny, kept by a woman named Sarah Murray, and from the circumstances connected with the case, it was supposed that the infant had been foully dealt with. The Mayor immediately informed the Coroner, who visited the house and empanelled a jury. Nothing was adduced at the hearing of the case to criminate the woman, and the jury returned a verdict that the child had been still-born. Upon being questioned by the Coroner as to the reason why the child had not been buried, Mrs. Murray stated that she had not been able to do so, as she had no money to procure the coffin. The Mayor took charge of the body, and had it decently interred at the expense of the county. The house where the child was lying is of a disreputable character, being formerly kept by a notorious woman named Hannah Johnston who died some months ago, and Sarah Murray, her daughter, has succeeded her in the proprietorship. The Coroner states that the case was one of the most horrible that has come under his observation since his induction into office, the body being in an advanced state of decomposition, and the room filthy in the extreme.

The Death of Young Little—Verdict of the Jury.

We have already reported the death of Wm. Little, a boy aged twelve years, by being run over by Car No. 9, on the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway. Coroner McClung held an inquest yesterday, but the facts were substantially as published.

The jury found a verdict of accidental death, but they added the following: "In arriving at this conclusion, we cannot passover lightly a growing carelessness on the part of the management, as well as some of the conductors and drivers on the said road; that a proper regard to life, and the general convenience of the public, should actuate all employees to be careful as well as accommodating; that headlights and bells should be carefully adjusted, so as to warn the public of approaching cars; and we request the management and directors of said company to see to this in the future.

The Fair—Meeting of Tradesmen.

A meeting of the Bakers and Confectioners was held at the establishment of Mr. M. McGinley, Fifth street, last evening. Mr. John Shephard was called to the chair, and Philip Reymer appointed Secretary.

The President stated the object of the meeting to be the appointment of a Committee to represent the interests of the trade at the coming Sanitary Fair.

On motion, a Committee consisting of Messrs. Philip Reymer, F. W. Hannak and Jacob Hobley was appointed to wait upon the Bakers and Confectioners of the city and vicinity, and request their attendance at an adjourned meeting to be held at the same place on Tuesday evening next, at seven o'clock. The meeting then adjourned.

The Carpenters held a meeting at the Board of Trade Rooms last evening for a similar object, but the attendance was very slim, probably on account of the inclemency of the weather. The meeting did not organize, but adjourned to meet at the same place on Thursday evening next.

Attention Voters of the Second Ward.

At a meeting of the enrolled men, held at the Second Ward School House, Pittsburgh, last evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the School Directors be requested to issue a call through the public prints for an election to be held at the School House, at as early a date as practicable, for the purpose of voting a Tax or No Tax, to relieve the Ward from the Draft.

In accordance with the above, and at the request of many citizens, there will be an election held at the School House on Saturday evening next, between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock, for the purpose of voting Tax or No Tax, provided that authority be given by the Legislature.

John G. Martin, John Wilson,
Geo. G. Gilmore, Wm. Woods,
John Marshall.

TEMPORARY REMOVAL.—In another column will be found the card of Messrs. H. Kleber & Bro., informing the public of their temporary removal to Wilkins Hall, over the Mayor's office, Fourth street, between Wood and Smithfield streets. The inclemency of the weather, heretofore, has prevented the completion of important improvements, in their new store on Wood street, by the first of April, and hence their temporary occupation of Wilkins Hall. A splendid new stock of pianos will be exhibited on the occasion, and all in want of a fine piano, harmonium or melodeon, will find a fine stock in the spacious rooms of Wilkins Hall.

GRADUATED in this week's examination in Duff's Commercial College, Pittsburgh, C. W. Cochran, Steubenville, Ohio; J. C. Alexander, Bedford, Ohio; Geo. W. Bissell, Warren, Ohio; F. C. Beyer, Blair county, Pa., all of whom passed an honorable examination and who will, no doubt, hereafter sustain the long established reputation of this popular institution by their superior attainments in business. Each Graduate was awarded the elegant Diploma of the College, and presented by the Faculty with a copy of the College Gems of Penmanship, as a memorial of his examinary department during his attendance at College.

HOMICIDE IN CRAWFORD COUNTY.—A colored woman was lodged in the Chester county prison on Tuesday, charged with shooting a man named Haines. She alleges that the man entered her house, and on punch being present, misbehaved and made threats, and she took a gun and shot him in the head, so that he died in forty-eight hours—not the County Poor House.

REPORTER ENGAGED.—The reporter of the Wheeling Register, (a copperhead sheet,) was excluded from the late session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the M. E. Church, at Zanesville, Ohio, on motion of Rev. W. A. Nordhem.

Gottschalk and Chickering.

We quote the following from the Boston Transcript: "The Courier des Etats Unis has an article in a recent number, in which these two names are very pleasantly associated. The editor says:"

These two names have become almost inseparable in the art world of the United States. If the first be the symbol of superior performance, the second represents the perfection of the instrument. A sort of co-labor has been established between the pianist and the maker of the instrument, which results in a benefit to the musical world and to the highest musical progress. * * * We were delighted last year with a piano made by Mr. Chickering expressly for Gottschalk's concerts, combining all the qualities of tone, power and facility which the mechanism of man's hand can produce. It seemed to be a special creation, attainable only in exceptional cases and under peculiar circumstances. But these qualities are now reproduced in all the instruments which leave Mr. Chickering's manufactory. His ordinary instruments have the artistic finish which one might readily suppose to be the result of exceptional effort.

This is high praise; but we believe that it is honestly deserved. The Messrs. Chickering have never produced finer instruments than now issue from their hands. They never turned out so many as now. The demand is so great as to tax their powers to supply. The pianos have universally sought to sustain the father's reputation, and the result is that they have far surpassed the productions which made him famous."

Mr. Meller, the well known agent for the "Chickering" Pianos, has just received a splendid stock of their instruments at his Music Rooms, No. 81 Wood street. Persons intending to purchase should not neglect to examine his stock.

IN OUR advertising columns to-day a rare opportunity is offered to any one wishing a good location for a country residence. The 8¾ acre lot is situated on a bluff, having a fine river view for miles and is within a few minutes walk of Courtney Station, on the P., Ft. W. & C. R. R. The soil is excellent, and would be good for gardening purposes. It is but six miles from the city and when the roads are very good is a very pleasant drive. The New Brighton road passes through it.

SPRING MILLINERY.—We would direct the attention of our lady readers to the large and beautiful assortment of fashionable millinery just opened by Mrs. M. Kitchin, No. 122 Federal street, Allegheny City. Her stock this season is very large and well assorted, and all tastes can be suited. The assortment of bonnets, ribbons, flowers, etc., is complete, and of the newest styles and colors. Give her a call.

BRADLY'S LIBRARY OF CHOICE FICTION.—Mr. J. P. Hunt, Masonic Hall, Fifth street, has received "He Maiden Martyr," being number three of this popular series of cheap books.

Our Book Table.

SCHOOL ECONOMY: A Treatise on the Preparation, Organization, Employment, Government, and Administration of Schools. By James Lyle Wickersham, A. M., Principal of the Pennsylvania State Normal School, Millersville, Pennsylvania. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. For sale by T. E. Wakeham, 104 Federal street, Allegheny City. 336pp. 12mo.

Mr. Wickersham has one excellent qualification as an author on the subject treated of in this volume—namely, a practical and thorough acquaintance with it; which qualification, one should say, ought to be held as indispensable, in every case, though unhappily innumerable books have been written which might be opened against us here, to prove that such a view of authorship is too narrow and confined, and such a requirement too vigorous and exacting for the versatile geniuses of this progressive age. We for our part, however, prefer the results of honest, earnest, and laborious study and research such as Mr. Wickersham has given us in this volume, to any amount, finite or infinite, of the crudities of that class of writers whose facilitity of using words is so often taken, or mistaken, for a faculty of a much more important kind—to wit, that of thinking. How this book came to be written upon principles very different from "those acknowledged by the crowd of gentlemen who write with ease," and without preparation, the author explains as follows: "In the summer of 1855 about one hundred and fifty teachers, of the county of Lancaster, in the State of Pennsylvania, assembled to receive professional instruction during three months, at the little town of Millersville. The author was then Superintendent of Common Schools for the county, and became ex officio Principal of the school thus established.

In the discharge of his duty as Professor of Theory and Practice of Teaching, he delivered a series of lectures; and these form the nucleus about which he has continued to collect additional matter, as diligently as his other duties would permit, until the present time. Elected Principal of the Normal School in 1856, he has delivered twice a year, in the form of lectures to his classes in Teaching, the matter thus collected; and he has allowed no such opportunities them to advantage by reviving opinions and teaching theories." When the writing of a book originates in such a natural way, when the process of its preparation and construction may be thus recorded, we shall hardly be disappointed in our anticipation of a book of some substance and thoroughness—and just such a one we have in this instance—no mere impromptu effort of authorship, nor improvisation, extemporé, of a book upon a certain subject, by a writer of books—but something as we have already intimated, very much the reverse of all that, as the intelligent reader will soon discover for himself. We have no space to devote to a review of the contents, but we say unhesitatingly that all teachers and friends of education will find it profit.

THE BIBLE AGAINST SLAVERY; or an inquiry into the genius of the Mosaic system, and the Old Testament as the subject of Human Rights. Published by the United Presbyterian Board of Publication, and for sale at their rooms, No. 93 Third street, Pittsburgh. pp164. 18mo. Price 25 cents.

Although the name of the author of this excellent little work is not given, he has been well known for more than a quarter of a century as one of the most popular public lecturers in the country. The work was "published twenty-seven years ago in the Anti-Slavery Quarterly Magazine. It was afterwards corrected and passed through four editions." For twenty years, however, it has been out of print, but, in favor of popular judgment, the Board of Publication of the U. P. Church have seen fit to reproduce it. Its appearance is very timely. It will prove an effectual antidote—if to this end—in this community, especially, any antidote is needed—to the "Evangel-Biblical "view" of slavery which has just issued from the pen of Bishop Hopkins, of Vermont.

Those who wish to know what the old statement really teaches on the subject of slavery, should by all means procure this little work, from which they will learn that no such system of servitude as that which has obtained in the Southern States of this country ever existed under the Mosaic or Prophetic dispensations. It clearly shows that if the terms "thing," "chattel" and "servant" were used in the same signification in which they are used by slaveholders, and the aiders and abettors of slavery, in this day, a system of universal bondage must have prevailed; parents must have sold their children, and acquaintances their friends.

This and kindred works demonstrate in the light of existing circumstances that the originality of the Bible and of human and human freedom this land were half a century at least ahead of their day, on one of the subjects of national vitality and importance. The work will meet with a very different reception now from that which it met on its first appearance. It is stated in the preface that "when first published, many copies were sent through the post-office into the Slave States. Most of these were publicly burned at their places of delivery."

The following remarkable circumstance, however, is related in connection with its reception in Dixie:

"A copy that escaped the flames in Charleston, South Carolina, fell into the hands of Rev. Wm. H. Brisbane, a slaveholding Baptist clergyman, and editor in that city. He sat down to confute the argument, but before his first number was ready for the types, he found that the faith he scouted had become his own. He left his native State, made his slaves free, settled them in Ohio, and published an able work, vindicating the Bible from proslavery perversions."

EASTER.—This annual religious festival will occur this year on Sunday next, the 27th inst. Easter was celebrated by our pagan ancestors in April, as a festival in honor of Eostre, the Saxon Goddess of Love, or the Venus of the North. Easter is one of the movable festivals, and is observed with much solemnity by the Catholic, Episcopal, and Lutheran churches, in commemoration of our Savior's resurrection, and corresponds with the Passover of the Jews.

THE SIXTH WARD.—It will be seen by reference to an advertisement in another column, that the citizens of the Sixth Ward are alive to the interests of our common country, and are determined that the war for the suppression of the accursed rebellion shall not lag for want of man or money.

RECRUITING.—An unusually large number of volunteers was enlisted in this city yesterday. During the afternoon, the train from one of the northern townships of this county presented themselves and were sworn into the service.

WILL LEAVE TO-DAY.—The 77th Pennsylvania Regiment, which has been encamped at Collins Park, for some days, will leave today for the West, their thirty days' furlough having expired.

RECRUITS SENT OFF.—Capt. Wright, Provost Marshal, shipped a number of new recruits for Camp Distribution, at Alexandria, Va., last evening.

MUSIC FOLIOS.—If you want to preserve your sheet music, get a good folio. Mellor has a variety for sale, at 81 Wood street.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

ARRIVALS.

Tempest, Louisville. | Julia; Zanesville.
Minerva, Wheeling.

DEPARTURES.

Arcola, Cincinnati. | Minerva, Wheeling.

The river was apparently at a stand last evening with five feet in the channel by the pier marks. A mixture of snow and rain fell almost without cessation during the forenoon, and steps are contained that we will have another swell in the river. Gentlemen was more active than usual at the wharf yesterday, although restricted somewhat by the unpleasant condition of the weather. It is but proper to remark, however, that freights are not very plenty, and boats experience considerable difficulty in picking up a trip.

The only transient arrival yesterday was the Tempest, from Louisville. She had a good freight list, including several hundred bbls. of tobacco, for Wheeling packet, Minerva, and the Zanesville packet, Julia, both arrived on time, with a good freight list, and a fair number of passengers.

The Arcola left for Louisville with a moderate trip, though she had about all the freight she could take on the present stage of water.

The New York was about ready to leave for St. Louis last evening, but she would probably not get off until this morning.

The Mercury, from Cincinnati was due last night, and will doubtless be found at the wharf this morning.

We learn that the steamer Diamond, bound for this point, is lying high and dry near the mouth of Big Beaver river.

The neat and popular Julia, Capt. Coulson, is the regular packet for Zanesville, to day, leaving at 4 p. m.

The staunch and reliable steamer, Tempest, Capt. Watt, as will be seen by card, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville, leaving on Monday.

The Kate Robinson is running as a regular packet between Louisville, Evansville, and Nashville. The friends of the crew will be glad to learn that they are all well.

The Louisville Journal, of Thursday, has the following items relative to Pittsburgh boats:

The Nevada, from St. Louis, arrived. She was loaded down to the guards. She discharged some freight at this point, among which were 50 bales of hemp. She left for Pittsburgh.

The Olive arrived from Pittsburgh, with about 100 tons of freight for this point. She will leave for Nashville shortly.

The steamer Kenton was loading for Pittsburgh, yesterday.

The Joseph Pierce arrived and dropped below the falls. She was lying at Portland. She went through the New Orleans, taking over 600 tons at Evansville. engaged for but left by the Atlantic.

The Kate Cassel went out with a limited amount of freight for Pittsburgh.

The Leander, Capt. J. W. Agnewis, arrived from St. Louis.

The St. Louis Union, of Wednesday says:

The Arcadia and Gazelle, for the Ohio, leave at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Argonaut and the Southern Frontier leave for Pittsburgh at 4 o'clock p. m.
