Shocking Tragedy in Cleveland. A shocking tragedy occurred in Cleveland on Tuesday resulting in the death of a man named George Fay, and the serious injury of his brother, Augustus Fay, by a German soldier named Udech. It appears that a party of soldiers met in a low drinking saloon, and difficulty occurred about a pocket book, le a difficulty occurred about a pocket book, which Udech alleged and been stolen from him. Angatus Fay, in endeavoring to pacify Udech, was cut in the back; between the shoulder blade and the spine, indicting a dangerous but not a fatal wound. George Fay then interfered, and in attempting to pacify Udech was attacked in a most furious manner, and cut on the right arm above the elbow, the blade completely severing the muscles and arteries. The blood flowed in torrents, and he died frem exhaustion in about two hours. Udech was subsequently arrested at the house of his father in law, when about to retire to bed. Three others who were concerned in the affray, were also taken into custody. The deceased was about ferty years of age, and sustained a good character. The murderer was a very quarrel-some man, and had stabbed two other men, rome man, and had stabled two other while on duty with his regiment.

The Sanitary Commission. The address of the Bev. Mr. Ingraham, Milwaukee, one of the agents of the United States Sanitary Commission, last evening n the Second Presbyterian Church, was clear and satisfactory exposition of the character and operations of that wast and noble institution, the object of which, as is well known, is to carry relief and comfort to our soldiers. Few indeed have any conception of the vastness, the far-reaching extent, the order and system of this wonderful organisation, or of the summense amount of things conductive to health and comfort, and to the preservation of sealth and of ife, which flow from the hands of a generous people through this chanmel; and it is indeed wonderful how such immense operations can be carried on with such regularity and system that there is no confetion, no waste, and yet no lack at any point clear and satisfactory exposition of the char where their ministrations are needed. Mr. Ingraham fully satisfied his auditors that the institution, in behalf of which he spoke, is worthy of the fullest measure of candidnoe, and of the most munificent benefactions.
