See important war dispatches on ou first page this morning. THE growded state of our columns this morning, with news of the battles in Virginia, prevents us from giving the continuon of the great speech of Hon. Thomas Williams, on "Reconstruction."

The reader cannot imagine too vividly the flerceness of the struggle now trans piring in Virginia, or magnify too great's the momentous con-equences which have upon the result. All accounts that we have of the war. None more bloody can succeed on Thursday resulted, as we stated yesterday morning, in a complete defeat of Lue's attempt to crush our army in detail. On Friday our whole army engaged the entire army of Lue, and on Saturday the latter retreated, our forces pursuing. The Rebels have strong defensive works at Spottsylvapla Court House, to which they are reported to have fied, and, as firing was heard in that direction, it is probable that Granz is lesing no time in moving upon those works.

Lue's works on Mine Bun and at Orange Court House, on the of the court of Laud men to the sky who have deceived and betrayed their constituents! Others may: we will not, We would rather urge the people of Pennsylvania to see well to it that the next Legislature is composed of better stuff than the last-that its members are not only loyal, but also honest, capable, worthy.

Let us be understood. All the members of the last Legislature were not deserving of a first-class situation in the State institution with a high fence, but many of them were, if the half of all that is said of them be true. And they were not all Copperheads-these rascals. We wish they had

This is what we have been looking for.

It is plainly an artempt by a few dissatisfied men, aided by a few others whose political aspirations have not been realized at the hands of the present Administration, to prevent the nomination at Baltimore of upon the result. All accounts that we have received concur in representing the conflict which commenced on Thursday last as the most stabbornly contested engagement of the whole war. It must necessarily be so, for there is a greater number of troops en gaged on each side than in any previous battle, the stake to be decided is the very existence of the Southern Confederacy, and upon our side, at least, we have generalthip for once as well as brave and enthusiastic troops. Whatever the fate of the Southern Confederacy may be, this struggle now confederacy may be, this confideration and stabilization and confederacy may be, this confederacy may be and the present Administration, to confideration a section of the nomination at Baltimore of the contribution of the nomination at Baltimore of the scall send of the court of the southern with the nomination at Balt Confederacy may be, this struggle now be united and harmonious. "LUBIN'S HAIR DRESSING PLOBILINE" in Paris, and most of the cities throughout Europa, TABLEAUX VIVANTS, would mem to be a sufficient guarantee of its worth, but when the fact is known that it was, fer many years of his life, his especial care, thought, labor and enequalled standard, its real morit cannot fall to be appreciated by the public, and most especially by the "WOMEN OF AMBRICA."

We claim for it the most perfect Hair Preparat's in the World, for restoring gray hair to its original color, preventing its turning gray and falling out, and generally to stimulate and strengthen its growth, more especially when the hair, by variou mass, may have become deteriorated or diseased But a single app'ication will establish the fact that "LUBIN'S HAIR DESSING PLOBILISE," like all of his celebrated Perfumes, is unsu and worthy of the patronage of all.
