NATIONAL UNION NOMINATIONS.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois. FOR VIOR PRESIDENT:

ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee.

cinnati Commercial:

It is about time the State of Poinsylvania prepared a National Guard, and stood ready for such emergencies as are presented when the annual rank of rebels up the Shanandoah Valley occurs. The robel raiders ought not to be allowed to beat a track up the Cumbersand Valley while Pennsylvania waits for other States to expel the rascals. John Morgan had the kindness to cross the Ohio river and take a ride through our State a year ago. The consequence is a National Guard, forty thousand strong. When the Guard are at home we could laught to scorn a matter of ten or fifteen thousand robels on our borders. The Ohioan's pride in the National Guard of the State, (raised after putting our full quots of troops into the field to fight for the Uniah), is associated with a sense of security. Let storms come from what quarter they may, our National Guard and off off an assurance that peace will be preserved at home. Pennsylvania can do no better than to follow our example.

The sting of this taunt is in its truth. We squirm under it because we know it to be any moment to be overrun by rebels and This would be a virtual concession to the State and blush for her credit among her

Ohio has a National Guard which she dy to answer at short notice, and she can fill in one day her quots of 109 days men.

And here is Pennsylvánia, lying in botween the two States, claiming to outrank this one, and to be second only to the other, which has not upon her soil, at this, her time of peril, one solitary regiment—one solitary organization of any kind to put in the field against her invaders! Maryland is to-day swarming with Rebels, ready to cross over into our State, and we, if we are to be saved from them, must depend upon New York or Ohio to furnish the men to do it, as was the case in 1882, and already we see papers out of the state asking what is the price of ice water in Harrisburg to soldiers who come from other Commonwealths to save ours from invasion!

If Pennsylvanians do not wish to have to blush to own, hereafter, that they are Pennsylvanians, they will see to it at once that the cause of repreach is removed. They have a law under which men can be organized into companies, and be held ready for any emergency. And why is it not enforced? Is it not the fault of the poople as much as of the Nilderness General Maede active of the Wilderness General Maede active of the Wilderness General Maede active of the Wilderness General Maede active for intimating something the correspondent of a Philadelphia paper to be sared to the sarry cannot any solitary to General Maede active from an army of Ser, who had heard the report individual that General Maede of the Wilderness General Maede active falling back acroes the Bap dan. It was for intimating something the correspondent of a Philadelphia paper to be sent out of the army. A genleman of this eity, who had heard the report individual the correspondent of a Philadelphia paper to be sent out of the army. A genleman of inquiry to General Maede active from an army of Ser, who had heard the report individual the correspondent of a Philadelphia paper to be sent out of the army. A genleman of inquiry to General Maede active from an army of Ser, who tat the correspondent of a Philadelphia paper dy to answer at short notice, and she can Gen. Meade at the Battle of the Wil-fill in one day her quota of 100 days men.

not the fault of the people as much as of their rulers? What interest have the people shown in this matter? What desire have they ovinced to have a militia force enrolled ready for such emergencies as the present? None that we know of; and we tell them now plainly that they will become a hissing and a byword throughout their rulers? What interest have the mally demand from the British authorities the rendition of the pirate Sexuas and those of his crew who were picked up by the-Grey hound. Writing upon this subject, the The Army and New Journal says that "if we had Captain Sexuas and his English orew in our hands, we should probably lish orew in our hands, we should probably with; and it is not impossible that the United States of colored to the special with; and it is not impossible that the United States of colored to the present. To this surmiss the fact that Captain Wisson problem of the Army of the United States of colored to the Army of the United States of Colored to the Army of the United States of the United States the rendition of the pirate SERMES and

We published the other day a paragraph from the New York News arging Gov. come a hissing and a byword throughout the land if they do not at once see that the cause for repreach is removed. The law may be defective, and the rulers may be negligent; but the people too are negligent; but the people too are negligent; and there is where the fault lies. There is a militia law, and if it is defective, where there is a will there is a way to get over its defects. And now is the time to do it. In a week it will be too late.

The Semmes Case.

We see it intimated that the Government will not demand the surrender of Sexuzs from the British Government, but we do not believe it. Every consideration of justice and right will sustain it in making that demand; and we believe, moreover, that it would be promptly complied with it make. Our minister in France seems to that it would be promptly complied with if made. Our minister in France seems to have been clearly of opinion that the demand would be made, and the press throughout the country almost unanimous ly expresses the same view. We have not any subject than upon this; and the Government will commit a sad blunder if it fails to act up to the national impulse.

We hence, always, the caution and pruchence that aims to cave us from a foreign conflict at the present time; but we are satisfied that any holding back for this purpose, in the present time; but we are sabsolutely and of right entitled to, will be regarded by foreign nations as a sign of weakness and fear of them, and they will be embeldened thereby to heap further insults upon us until our forbearance will.

weakness and fear of them, and they will be emboldened thereby to heap further insults upon us until our forbearsnoe will be worn and and finally we will be forced into a conflict which a timely firmness in asserting our rights may prevent.

We trust, therefore, that the Government will actfully up to the demands of the hour, and will let the Esglish Government know that, although we have a war on hand, it is not safe to insult us. When it once comprehends that fact, there will be no difficulty in getting Sennes, if he is upon Bag-

SHALL SOLDIERS VOTE?

A State Guard.

Why have we no State Guard in Pennsylvania, and why are we to be continually subject to such taunts as this from the Cincinnati Commercial:

It is about time the State of Pennsylvania propared a National Guard, and stood ready for such emergencies as are presented when the annuti rush of rebels up the Shanandeah Valley occurs. The rebel raiders ought not Copperheads. He has the Militia of the HARD UP FOR FOOD.—An officer who ac

State officers to enforce the writ of arrest, telling them that the militin will back them in doing so.

Now, the question is, shall the National Government be compelled to succumb thus to a state government accidentally under Copperhead control? Or shall it assert its supremay and sustain its officers in discharging their duty? The answer to this would seem to be very plain. The Government should not think for a moment of yielding to this Copperhead effort at revelt.

It is stated in our dispatanes that, for the purpose of avoiding a conflict, Gen. Dix
