and positions, which conditions two of our chief agri-ultural states. Bockroom, Allen Co. O., Au'y C.—Edge Cis Gazerre. Wheat in general will be much better than was anti-cipated, and will yield in all probability an average errop. There was more weak fown hast year than usual. Oats will be short in consequence of drouth, though they are improving very much tince last week states. The present was the properties of the pring than usual. Fostore are theylorp; there will be in all probability twice as many this fall as usual. Some farmers are complaining very much in regard to the price of potators this fall, as they anticipate a very low price in chargequence of the great amount planted and the general good prespect of an abundance. anticipate a very low price to characterized of an abundance.

The trians Giliston of the 3th says that the best news of the past week was the glorious and refreshing rains with which we have been favored. On Thurnday, Friday and saturday, a large amount of rain fall, complexly saturating the earth, giving new life and animation to vegetation, which had well night poristed during the long continued drenth of some six or eight weeks. These rains will save the corn and potato-crops, which were suffering a verely, and bring out the grass, which was rapidly dying out under the rays of a score-fing sun and dy earth. The heat of last week was intense, the mirrory in the thermometer ranging from 3 to 39 days in the shade. If heat of last wick was intense, the mirroury in the ther-mometer ranging from 35 to 20 degs in the abade. If they -baxe, hotter weather than that down south, they are welcome to erjoy it. The same paper also says that four farmers are now in the mildet of their wheat barvest, and we are pleas-that region.

The Ohlo Farmer, in suming up the wheat prospects for Ohlosaya:

We have of but few good fields, it many that will give peraps one-half of the unnal yield, of many more that will barely justify the expenditure of timor barwating of the provided "therest-time" will never come. We have suffer curselived, to "croak" we know to we used it be to groundly and predict a failure of the crops, but the subbort face must be admitted that this year we of Ohlo must face the reality of a short crop.

The Wool Trade. The Woul Trade.

The Buckeye State, of Now Lisbon, O., says that $1 per B was offered last week in town for wool, and it seems to be the opinion of these who only it to be peated that it will probably reach $1,25. Rhot of the wool in this section of the county has changed hands at the period of the county has changed hands at the period of the county has changed hands at the period of the county has recently a section of Christians, in this county, has recently sheared 2,476 b of wool from $35 heeps, an average yield of a little more than 6% Be per head. One three year out ewe sheared 14% Be, and a two year three year old ewe sheared 14%, lbs, and a two year old buck 15½ fbs. The wool was all well washed. Who can beat this?"

The Detroit Free Press of the 8th says:
Weol, yeaterlay, sold in Monros at 96c, It is thought full three-footneth of the clip is airready marketed, and that this week will close out pretty much all that is to be sold. A few will still hold on to their clips, preferring the wool to the money. They do not when the present prices, but not reeding advisable opp remaities for investing the money, they do not wish to sell. The season for buying wool has probably been shorter this year than any previous assess, but the market has been exceedingly active, and saies have been readily effected.

The Belimont (0) Chronicle of the 7th says that Thomas McCali, of Union Township, sold seven thoursand rounds of wool as few days ago at 90c per pound. This, we believe, is the largest saie of wool ever mats in this county by one man, of his own raising. $8,330 is a very clover sum to receive for the wool crop of two year.

The Tiffin (9) Tribute of the 7th says that the principal buyers are still int temarkst and paying from 85; to $1 per pound. Dick Barker, of Élea Township, dispused of 12.00 pounds at 99\frac{1}{2}c_1$ which only realized him $11,940 in greenbacks.

The Sandusky Begister of the 8th says, that the biggest day Sandusky ever saw on wool came of year-torday. Keech took in over 45,000 has 19 5to 98c. Ferry & Hubbard took in a big pile. There must have been 71,000 fee of wool brought in, which cost over $88,000 in cash.

The Cashecton Age of the 9th says, that the bulk of the wool crop in this county has been dispersed of, a prices ranging from 80 to 90c. & bligh as 90c. is offered by our merchants, but holders ask $10. Boston Cotton Goods Market.
