CANDIDATES. Pittsburgh Gazette. TROMAS PARRY, Plain and Ornamental Slate ASSEMBLY -JOHN SMITLEY, New York, July 14 .- At the convention of railroad officers, held here to day, the rates from defensive operations in active hortilities ngainst the enemy's rear.

The ratiers have succeeded in destroying rapprepriating a large am unt of property, and it they make their way back with their hosts they will have much cause of congratuation by their friends. But they have at the same time, although they should escape, done an important service to the Government, which they are endeavoring to overthrow. They have railited loyal people once more to its support, as no appeal from authorities could have done, and they have thus made cary the othersite difficult part of recruiting an army to the extent which was deemed necessary. The whole country will now be cravinced of the importance of placing at the command of the Government a ferce sufficient to defend Washington and the North, without weakening the armies engaged in assulling the rebel strongholds.

In the above the Chronicle calls it a three BY TELEGRAPH. railroad effloors, hold here to day, the rates of freight were increased two per cent. The Adverticer say: The bank ocmmittee has adjourned until to morrow. No result had been reached relaire to the loan. Mr. Festenden proves to be a strict constructionit, and feelars that the law is against his either making the State banks depositories of Government funds, or accepting payment on account of loans otherwise than in legal tonders. The probability at present appears to be that the banks will yield to the Secretary's views, and take a loan of fifty million payable in installments as wide apart as possible. At present it asoms meat likely that the loan would be upon 7 30 notes or non logal tenders.
