averywhere-the same in New York as in Chembersburg, in Bin irs as at Frederick. We have got to learn, as a prople, that the only way to fisish this war is to drop everything else and devote sure lyrs exclusively to that. When we have reached that point we shall have soldiers crough in the field comploy all the force of the enemy whihout giving him time to make a ds. When we can reach that point there is Lot a town in the entire North that will not be well definded in case of attack, and th t will not be until then. As it is, our armi s in the feld are languishing for wast of men, while there are millions of strong arms at home ; and cur cities and willagis i e expered and undefer ded because the at orgth of these arms is all devoted to money
