Recruiting in the City.

...sterday was a busy day with the ward ...ting committees. From early dawn till late ...he afternoon the various recruiting offices ...re crowded, and an unusually large number ...cruits were obtained. The Third Ward ...ersed its about the hundred and twenty men, ...e raised in Birmingham, and who will ...ose one of the companies of Col. Gallupe's ...y Artillery Regiment. Several of the other ...s were very successful in securing recruits. ...e understand that the quotas of at least ...wards will be filled to-day. The Fifth and ...th Wards have been very successful in ob...ing recruits, and will enter the field this morn...

There was no material advance in the lo...bounty offered yesterday, and it is probable ...t will remain at from $350 to $475, although ...e of the districts decline paying more than ...y. We anticipate that recruiting will be ...ally brisk to day and Monday, as a num...of large squads are expected from the coun...districts.

...Allegheny, the excitement continued un...ted, and about thirty men were sworn in. A ...derable amount of money was raised, and ...lings were held in several of the wards last ...ning for the purpose of securing the full amount ...ired. The citizens appear greatly interest...in the matter, and appear determined to re...e their districts from the coming conscription.

A Serious Joke.

...he Wheeling Intelligencer of yesterday related ...following incident: "Some days ago a rural ...p who had in charge a lot of melons, came ...ard a steamer near Marietta, and wanted to ...w what the captain would charge to take the ...ons and himself to Pittsburgh. He was in...med that if he would put the melons down in ...hold, go down with them himself and give ...crew what they could ask he would take him ...nothing. The man agreed to this, and after ...ositing his melons in the hold got down him...f. The proposition had been made in a joke, ...d no one supposing that the fellow was in the ...d, the hatches were closed and nothing more ...s thought of the matter until late in the night, ...en a search was instituted for the melon man, ...d could not be found, and he was supposed to ...ve fallen overboard. In consideration of this ...lancholy affair the crew decided to eat a wat...melon to his memory, when the hatches were ...ened for that purpose. A singular noise was ...ard among the melons, and a closer examina...n with a lantern discovered the man lying flat ...on his face blowing like a porpoise and snap...ng vigorously at the musquitoes, which were ...arming about his sweltering body to the hand...ed. The man, upon being hauled out, had no ...planation to make of his quarters except that ...e musquitoes were a little troublesome."

Coal.

...enormous increase demanded by diggers ...coal is a matter of importance not only to the ...anufacturers and coal shippers, but to every in...vidual in the community. If immediate mea...res are not taken, the people will be taxed ...avily for their winter supply of fuel.

We are glad to know the Coal Association has ...animously refused to pay over five cents per ...shel for digging, and we note with pleasure ...a call for a public meeting to be held on Mon...y, August 29th, at three o'clock P. M., ...the Board of Trade Rooms, to take proper ...asures to obtain coal at a reasonable price. ...very one is invited to attend, and we trust all ...e coal manufacturers, and all our ...al proprietors who receive their coal by rail...ad, as well as our citizens generally, will at...nd promptly. Now is the time to have united ...tion in relation to demands of coal diggers and to arrange for a supply of coal at rea...nable prices.

Larceny of a Watch.

On Thursday, Joseph Grimes, a resident of ...ewickley, appeared before Mayor Lowry, and ...ntered a complaint against two of his neigh...ors, named Wm. Allen and Wm. Larner, charg...g them with stealing from him a valuable ...old watch. Warrants were issued, and officers ...Williamson and Messler dispatched to Sewickley to ...rrest them. Larner in the meantime came to ...is city, and was arrested on the Monongahela ...harf by the Chief of Police, and locked up. ...llen was arrested about three miles from Se...ickley and brought to this city. They ac...knowledged the theft, and stated that they had ...dged the watch at a pawn broker's establish...ent on Smithfield street, for twenty-five dol...rs. Yesterday afternoon they ...ad a hearing before the Mayor, who committed ...hem to jail, in default of $500 bail each, to an...wer the charge at Court.

The Oil Market.

The Oil City Monitor, of the 24th inst., con...ains the following: The market continues firm, ...ith a good demand. The producers appear to ...ave the control of prices in their own hands. ...e have a report of a sale of seven hundred ...arrels on the Tarr Farm at $10,50, which may ...e quoted as the average price at the wells, and ...11 to $11,50 at this point in bulk. The Phil...ips Oil Company have struck a new well on the ...Widow McClintock Farm, which pumped yester...day thirty barrels, with frequent stoppages. The ...oil was struck at the third sand rock. When ...properly tubed, it will doubtless yield 100 bar...rels per day. The sand company have a good ...show in another well on the same farm, at the ...depth of 300 feet, from which 15 barrels a day ...can be dipped with the sand pump. A sixteenth ...interest in the well, first mentioned, was sold a ...few days since for $5,000, and since re-sold for ...$10,000.

Not a Desirable Substitute.

The Draft in the Eighth Ward.

Below we give a stirring address to the enrolled citizens of the Eighth ward, in relation to the draft. The address was prepared by Mr. John M. Killen, and is at once a vigorous and well-timed paper. Mr. K. hits those hard who have not subscribed, and we doubt not his appeal will exercise a happy influence in awakening the enrolled men to a sense of their duty in the premises. Here is the address:

To the Enrolled Citizens of the 8th Ward: The undersigned have been appointed a committee to prepare an address to you, or more properly speaking that portion of you who have thus far refused to give any assistance to those who are now laboring so zealously to fill the quota of the ward. While it gives us great pleasure to perform any duty required of us in so good a work, we most heartily regret the circumstances which renders the performance of such a duty necessary. There are three duties which are paramount to all others, which every intelligent Christian man is obligated by religion, patriotism and honor to perform. They are, first, the duty which he owes to his God; second, that which he owes to his country; third, that which he owes to his family. Whether you perform the first of these duties or not we do not know, but we have no hesitation in affirming that, in refusing to give us your aid in our efforts to free the ward from a draft, you have not performed the second and third. "By your actions shall ye be judged." In an old rule, and, though it is not an infallible one, it is oftener right than otherwise, and can be used in your case without doing you the least injustice. It is a matter of great surprise to us that men, intelligent men, men who are absolutely certain that they would be unable to purchase a substitute in the event of their being drafted; men who love the society of their wives, and the prattling noise of their children, who know that they would be deprived of many comforts, and perhaps some of the necessaries of life, by you being compelled to leave them,—men who value the religious privileges which you enjoy, and the social relations which surround them; men who are very well aware of the inevitable consequences which will follow the drawing of their names out of the wheel on the 5th day of next September,—we say it is a matter of great surprise to us that men who know all this will not make one effort to avoid the rock which may wreck their families.

Now, we affirm to you that it is certain that you will escape the draft and all its disagreeable consequences, if you will come forward and contribute to our fund. We appeal to you, enrolled men of the Eighth Ward, to delay no longer. If you cannot give us fifty dollars, give us twenty-five; and if you have not got the money, borrow it, and give your bond as collateral security. If the Committee do not find you, make it a point to find the Committee. Come to our meetings, and give us encouragement by your presence, and aid us by your counsel. In conclusion, we appeal to you once more to come up to the work. Let us give a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, and if you do this, when the shades of night fall on the city of Pittsburgh on the 5th day of next September, the draft will not have caused a single pang of sorrow to have crossed the threshold of an enrolled man in the ward. If you fail to do this, you neglect a sacred duty which you owe to your country and your family. JOHN M. KILLEN,
ROWLAND D. JONES,
SAMUEL MORROW.

The Death of Young Hagey.

Jacob B. Hagey, the young man who was killed by the carson Saturday last, was not run over as stated. He was standing outside the track, on the cross tie, very near the rail. His attention was attracted by the troop train going west. He was struck by something near the cow-catcher of a train going east, between Derry and Millwood stations. He was struck on the head—the other part of his body was touched. He was thrown some distance, and was insensible when lifted. Consciousness soon returned, and he answered intelligently the questions asked him—told his name and his father's place of residence, which was near the Intersection, about eight miles distant. When told that the train was approaching which was to take him home, he answered, "I am glad of that." When he arrived home he was speechless. Two physicians were immediately called, but the brain was crushed in, and he died at ten o'clock on Saturday evening. He was nineteen years of age, had been a resident in our city for ten years past, had studied the profession of dentistry, and would have been a proficient in that profession had he chosen to follow it, but his mind had been turned toward the ministry. He was pursuing a course of studies with that view in the school of Mr. Newell, Penn street. He was a young man of the purest and most unblemished character, amiable disposition and accomplished mind, and would no doubt been an honor to the profession he had chosen. He came to the city to make inquiry about the commencement of school, and was returning home. He leaves parents, a brother in the army, sisters, and many friends who mourn his untimely end—not without the firm belief that "it is well with him."

Third Ward and the Draft.

The enrolled men of the Third Ward had an enthusiastic meeting at the School House Friday evening, and the bounty bonds were taken up rapidly, and large cash contributions were made. The ward only requires about thirty men to exempt it of the draft, and a united effort in all that is required to secure them. A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of one for each block, whose object is to solicit subscriptions to the bounty fund, and also to take the names of such parties as refuse to contribute, and their reasons for so doing, which is to be published in the daily papers.

The following are the names of the committee appointed under the resolution:

Louis Reineman, Robert W. Mackey, James Bown, F. Eilek, Henry Daub, Thomas B. Hamilton, P. Brogt, A. J. Griggs, Louis Gerst, A. Hutchison, John Barry, Peter Dean, William Drummond, B. Deaker, Thomas Coyle, William Best, C. H. Duncan, Peter Brady, Thomas A. McClelland, W. J. Montgomery.

There will be another meeting at the School House this evening, to which all the citizens of the ward are invited.

The Weber Piano.

The name of Weber, familiar to all musical connoisseurs as belonging to one of the greatest composers—for who has not heard of the immortal "Freischutz," the most popular opera of the great Carl Maria von Weber—is, however, now often mentioned in a different connection, as belonging to a fast rising manufacturer of pianos in our city, Albert Weber. After a critical examination of his instrument, we believe with John Zundel, who says: "A ten years' acquaintance with a Weber's piano has convinced me that they are as good as the music of C. & V. Weber." And what music could be better? The Weber pianos are fast rising in favor, and are now sought after by many of our best artists and amateurs. They deserve it, too, for the merits are too prominent to be overlooked, and entitle them to the confidence and patronage of the public. We do not particularize the points of excellence of the Weber piano, but prefer recommending our readers to call at his warerooms, and spend a leisure hour examining and judging for themselves.

The above is extracted from the New York Evening Post, a high authority in musical matters. Mr. C. C. Mellor is the sole agent for Western Pennsylvania for the Weber pianos, and a fine assortment may now be seen at his manufactory, No. 81 Wood street.

The Draft—First Ward, Allegheny.

At a meeting of the citizens of the ward, held at the School House last evening, Joseph King, Esq., in the chair, and Mr. Henry Irwin, Secretary, the following committees were appointed to report to an adjourned meeting to be held at the same place this evening:

Committee on the Disposal of Bonds issued by the School Board—Josiah King, Wm Bigaley, George Black, Hon. James L. Graham, Jno. F. Jennings, Henry Irwin and Samuel Dyar.

Committee on Soliciting Subscriptions from the Enrolled Men of the Ward—John C. Smith, Charles Arbuckle, Dr. Wm. Thorn, Wm. Moore and Simon Drum.

A large and interesting meeting is to be held this evening, when it is expected measures will be consummated to relieve the ward from the approaching draft. Let every man in the ward attend.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS.—The Christian churches of Western Pennsylvania will hold their annual meeting with the church worshipping in Execelsior Hall, Allegheny city, commencing at 2 P. M. on Friday, August 26th, and continuing till the following Monday. Services on Saturday and Lord's Day, morning, afternoon and evening, at 10½ A. M., 3 P. M. and 7½ P. M. ELDER HAYS of Elder Isaac Errett, of Detroit, Profs. Loos and Pendleton, of Bethany, W. Va., and other speakers, will be present.

RECOVERY.—John Leyler, who resides near Temperanceville, was robbed on Sunday, the 14th inst., of $2,000 in Government bonds and $320 in bills. The thief entered the house while the family were in church, and abstracted the bonds and money from a trunk. The supposed thief, one David Williams, has been arrested and lodged in jail, but none of the stolen money has been recovered.

THEATER.—The Theatre was well attended last evening, notwithstanding the heavy rain. The comedy of "Married Life" was rendered in excellent style. An unusually good bill is announced for this evening. See advertisement.

NOW DEAD YET. By J. C. JEAFFRESON, Author of "Live it Down," "Olive Blake's Good Work," &c. New York: Harper & Brothers.

This story turns upon the sudden disappearance of the hero, a young painter, Edward Smith, who only drops out of sight in the latter part of the work. He has been impelled by circumstances to go to Rome, attended by a friend also named Smith. The two, however, appear in Australia, when it is discovered that they are half brothers. Here, after a series of adventures and misfortunes, Edward becomes very sick, and is finally left for dead. Rupert, the other Smith, then makes for England, where he proceeds to carry out a plot against Edward by personating him, having learned that Edward is heir to an estate. He deceives everybody and gets the estate, lives in fine style, pays off old debts, and has a good time generally. But Edward Smith, left dying in an Australian digger's hut, is "Not Dead Yet;" and murder will out. In due time, therefore, the real Simon Pure comes home from abroad, to find that his brother is a lying knave and imposter; having married his own true love, robbed him of his name and inheritance, and proved himself a villain and a profligate. Of course the villain now comes to grief, of the sternest and most retributive kind. He is dragged from his high place and dignity, and branded as an imposter, and before the law can take summary vengeance on him, is pistolled by the hand of a money-lender who has helped to expose his villainy. He dies in Charing cross Hospital, watched by the woman whom he had gulled into marriage under the lying pretence that her true love was dead, and by the brother whom he had thus betrayed. The story ends as all such stories end. The true heir has his own, and virtue is rewarded.

The book is elegantly printed and bound. Minor, on Fifth street, has it.

If "Lubin's Floriline" had been known in the days of the Patriarchs, the graceless boys who were destroyed by the bears for saying to a reverable gentleman, "Go up, thou baldhead!" would have escaped their unhappy fate; for no "baldhead" would have existed for them to play their tricks upon. The Florilline will surely make the hair grow and give it the silken gloss peculiar to the halcyon days of youth and beauty. Try one carton.

If you value a good, healthy head of hair, or wish to prevent your hair from turning grey, or, when grey, wish it restored to its original color, you must use an article called HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER, as it seems to be one of the greatest successes of the present time. Sure to render satisfaction for the above purposes when all other preparations have failed. Sold by Simon Johnston, 84 Smithfield and Fourth streets, and by all solvent druggists.

McILWAIN'S third sale of those beautiful lots advertised to come off Monday, 29th, at Braddock's Fields, will no doubt be largely attended, judging from the general interest, large crowd, and number of lots sold at the last sale. Those disposed to invest should not fail to attend, as this may be the last sale. Free excursion trains as heretofore. See advertisement, and remember the hour.

SALE of lots at Braddock's Field comes off on Monday next, 29th inst.—the sale having been postponed from last Monday on account of the weather. These lots are going off rapidly, and those who have means to invest or wish a cheap and pleasant home should attend the sale. Free excursion trains leave as heretofore. See advertisement.

WASHINGTON CITY, August 26, 1864.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMIC,
August 25, 1864.

The extreme left of our line has been extended to below Reams' Station. Hancock with part of his command reached that place on Tuesday afternoon, when they immediately began destroying the railroad track, while Gen. Gregg went out on the Dinwiddie Court House road in search of the enemy. He discovered a heavy cavalry force three miles from Reams' station and a brisk skirmish ensued. The rebels were driven back, leaving 150 killed and wounded on the field. Our loss was about five or six killed and about thirty wounded.

Yesterday Gen. Hancock was still employed in destroying the railroad, having reached a point two miles below the station at noon. Our cavalry in the meanwhile are protecting his front in strong force about three miles from Petersburg.

Our intrenchments are impregnable. Of those of the enemy I can give no description, but must say his lines of defense are certainly well chosen and his artillery well posted.

CONFIDENCE OF THE POTOMAC ARMY.

There has not so much confidence prevailed in the Army of the Potomac, of our final success, since the campaign opened. The feeling is universal from the Commanding General down. A fight that will bring us another victory, is liable to take place at any hour, and must, before many hours, elapse.

ILLNESS OF GEN. BARLOW.

General Barlow, of the 5th corps, has gone home on a sick leave. Gen. Miles is temporarily in command of his division.

CAVALRY FIGHT.

Gen. Kautz's cavalry, it is reported, met the enemy near Reams' station on Tuesday, and suffered some loss. All the accounts I have been able to glean of this affair are very vague and unsatisfactory.

ATTACK ON BUTLER'S LINE.

C. A. P. sends the following to the Tribune Bureau here, under date of Headquarters Gen. Butler, Aug. 25, 1864:

The enemy moved quite a force upon a point near the right of Gen. Butler's line at daylight this morning, probably with the purpose of determining whether we were still here in any strength. They drove in our pickets and occupied for a few minutes the advance line of rifle-pits, but as soon as a force could be brought to the support of the pickets and skirmishers the rifle-pits were retaken and over fifty prisoners captured.

Measured by the casualties—but twenty in number—it was but a skirmish, yet it was so well fought, managed and ended that it deserves attention. Where a long line is held slenderly, and depends upon the strength of the works, the utmost vigilance is required, and this affair indicates the presence of vigilance.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

The river is still receding steadily at this point with about six feet six inches in the channel by the pier marks last evening. The weather yesterday was cloudy and unsettled, with an occasional sprinkling of rain.

The arrivals since our last include the Minerva from Wheeling, and the Roanoke from Cincinnati, both having good trips. The Maggie Hays, Kate Porter and the Julia from Cincinnati, and the Emma Graham from Zanesville, are the next boats due.

The Bertha left for St. Louis yesterday afternoon with a first-rate trip of both freight and passengers. Among other items of freight she had seven hundred tons of railroad iron destined for St. Louis. The Katie will leave for Cincinnati and Louisville early this morning.

The Echo and Petrolia had not arrived from Oil City up to five o'clock, although they were momentarily expected.

The following items are from the Wheeling Intelligencer of yesterday:

"The river was falling yesterday evening, with 12 feet water in the channel. The weather was bright and cloudy at intervals, with slight, drizzling rain.

Capt. Campbell Downey has decided to call his new boat the Bermuda. A large lot of coal is going down upon the present rise. Several tow boats passed yesterday.

There were no arrivals or departures outside of the regular packets. Captain Wm. Lint is loading the Reserve for St. Louis, and will leave on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock."

We are not positive, but we presume that the Julia, after her arrival from Cincinnati will again enter the Pittsburgh and Zanesville trade. If so, she will leave here on Saturday next at four o'clock.

As will be seen by card, Capt. J. H. Marrats announces that his new steamer "Annie" will commence loading for Cincinnati and Louisville on Monday, and will be ready to leave on Tuesday.

The new and pretty Wetzania, Capt Shuman, is now at the wharf ready to receive freight and passengers for St. Louis, for which point she will go, buy be ready to leave this evening. Capt H H. Dewhurst, a gentleman long and favorably known in steamboat circles, will have charge of the office.

Capt. Robert Robinson, of the steamer Kate Robinson, has been here for several days, on a visit to his family in Allegheny city. The Kate is running in the packet trade below.

The Delaware, it is thought, will be ready to come up to-day from the marine railway, where she has been undergoing repairs. Capt. Stevens has not fully determined for what point he will load, though it is probable Cincinnati and Louisville will be the destination of the Delaware this trip.

ONE OF HUNNEWELL'S GREAT REMEDIES.—HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and by such to allow the greatest freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which Throat and Lung Complaints can be effectually cured.

To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, when local causes make almost all such complaints different in effect, I would ask confidence, which will be cared, in Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchial and Asthmatic Complaints, Whooping Cough, and to all Throat and Lung Complaints which, when neglected, end in Consumption. Testimonials from physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.
