UITY AND SUBURBAN. The Late Gen. Alex. Hays.

The September number of the United States Bervice Magazine contains a well written and interesting biographical sketch of the late lamented Brigadier General Alexander Hays. The article is quite too lengthy for reproduct our columns, but we subjoin a few extracts which will be read with interest. The article opens with a sketch of his early life, and the services to the civil pursuits which occupied the interval between that war and the present rebellion, and states that he was engaged on the plan for a ridge on the Allegheny Valley Railroad when the roar of the first gun fired on the American fing at Sumter came hooming over the land. Bcing an painter came norming over the land. Being among the first to complete the situation, he was foremost in entering the ranks as Captain of the City Guard, and was cast into the old 12th Pennsylvania (three months) volunteers. We outlied

The regular army being increased in the summer of 1861; Major Hays was appointed capital in the 10th U. B. Infantry; but a wider field of nesithess was opaning before him. He returned to Allegheny county at the expiration of the three months campaign, to organise the 631 Regiment Penns wants Volunteers at Camp Wilkins, and manused with it to Washington early in the fall of that year. Its history is bright with laurels, and red with the blood of its decimated ranks. Its commander—new Colonel Hays—was the friend, comrade and fighting colonel of a fighting general—brave old Phil Kearney. Kearney was so superlatively brave himself that unless the bearing of another was also to his officers that he is known to have complimented for this vitrue, except in an official report. If it is painful for us, a istranger to his blood, to realize the tors of so dear a friend, what must the affliction be to the objects of his heart's warment affection? The subject is too said to dwell upon. May the Great Shepherd, who has promised to be a father to the orphan and a friend to the widow, "lead them into the green pastures by the side of the still waters of Irrael." Teachers' Salaries. At a meeting of the trachers of the public schools of this sity, held on Saturday, the following memorial was adopted and signed by all the teachers present :

the teachers present:
To the Honorable, the Central Board of Education of the city of Fittburgh GREVLEWER:—The undersigned, teachers in the public schools of this city, would respectfully represent that while we take this opportunity to account that while we take the opportunity to respectively. That while we take this opportunity to express our gratitude to your honorable Board for the addition which you made to our salaries near the close of the last term, we feel called upon by existing circumstances to make another demand upon your liberality. For while the cost of living has advanced more than one hundred per cant, and wages, salaries, and profits generally in a like proportion, the increase in our salaries is comparatively insignificant, varying from eleven per cent. on stores.

We would further represent that the salaries of the teachers of public schools in this city are generally from thirty to forty per cent. less than that paid in the other large sities of our country; and we know so good reason why Pittsburgh, one of the most prosperous of cities, should be less liberal in matters pertaining to public instruction than other similar places.

Recolutions were also adopted for the formation of a "Pittsburgh Teachers' Institute," and the Central Board will be asked to reorganise it as one of the semi-monthly institutes required by as one of the semi-monthly institutes required by as one of the semi-mutally institutes two to be law, with the provision that attendance upon its meetings shall be received instead of the ward in stitutes now held, or attendance to the meetings of the county association, as the teachers may elect. All the teachers and directors of the city schools may become members of this institute.

Sudden Death. Alderman Donaldson (acting for Coroner Me-Clung,) hald an inquest on the body of a coal mi-ner named Thomas Jenkins, who died suddenly at the Bull's Head, on Second Street. It as at the Bull's Head, on Second Street. It appears that Jenkins was taken to the tavern on Saturday atternoon, by a phayioian, who left him sitting in the bar room. He remained in the bar room until eleren o'clock at night, when the proprietor, Mr. Spencer, gave him a bad. On Sunday morning, after the usual breakfast hour, Jenkins was found sitting on the bedride, apparently fill. He asked for some liquor, and was furnished with a drink of while was and waser. He then called for breakfast some liquer, and was furnished with a drink of whit key and water. He then called for breakfast, which was served in his room. Being an entire stranger in the house, but little attention was paid to him; but not making his appearance at dinner, and not ordering anything to eat, one of the servants was sent to his room, and found him lying on the bed dead. He was about fortly years of age, and had been employed at the Eandy Creek mines. His body was taken charge of by Mr. Williams, undertaker, and will begut until ten o'clock Tuesday morning, to give his friends an opportunity to bury him.

Gratifying Change in our Army.

THE BURPRISE OF THE REBELS. Their Line of Pickets Captured

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 .- The Herald's 9th corps correspondent, dating 10th, says: Four desert-ers from the 30th Georgia, came into our lines yesterday. They belong to Mahon,'s division, L. P. Hill's corps, which is in our front. From heir statement, as well as from other sources, it is almost definitely ascertained that the rebels ave disposed their forces with Longstreet' corps on the extreme right, holding the coun-try between the Welden and Daaville roads and Hill's corps in the centre, occupy-ing the line from the Weldon road to Peters burg, while Besuregard, with his division, gar-risons the fortifications around the city.

These men state that considerable desponder especially among the Georgia troops, who begin o lose all heart in the canse, for the reason that they believe their State nopenessy conquered from the confederacy.

It is a granifying sight to witness the wonderful change effected in our army within a few weeks. From large and frequent reinforcemants curskeleton regiments are filling out to the old proportions which they exhibited to the first stages of their campaigning. Brigades are beginning to show an unusual numerical force, while divisions are becoming something like appropriate commands for our General cheers. With all this there is a decided improvement in the spirits, health and morals generally of our
