SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th 1864.

Gold 200 t the good time is hurrying on. It is no fiction that goods are falling or stocks either, as many of our readers can testify.

The market for stocks was dull to-day at the decline. Bidwell sold during the day at various rates, from 9 to 9½; about the same rates in Philadelphia, until evening dispatches brought word of the tumble in gold to 200. Cherry Run Central lively in demand after the morning's sale at 13½ per share. Reports of a large sell on the adjoining grounds occasioned the demand. But present writing's reply has been received to enquiries made per telegraph.

The best evidences that the rebellion is tottering to its fall are probably afforded by the downward course of the gold, since the late important successes of the Union arms, and the gratifying response to the new loan lately offered for general competition, this indicating an ebbing confidence among the people in the stability of the government. Despite the despondent view of speculators' circulars in Wall street, there is a growing conviction that the capricious commodity is nominally at a higher quotation at present than it is ever again be, except perhaps by temporary fluctuation, and it is this conviction that is bringing to light from hidden recesses increasing amounts, by hundreds, day by day, and making our or course the fall of gold has carried with it some reduction of commercial values, though the reduction of the latter has not, thus far, been commensurate with that of the former.

The Oil City Register, under date of September 21st, says: A new well was struck on Cherry Run on Saturday last, which is now pumping at the rate of 50 barrels per day, and hourly increasing. It is a short distance above the Cresswell well. We have not learned the name of the company owning the well, further than William Fairfax purchased an interest on Saturday, just before the oil was struck. The reports of production among the Cresswell stars are favorable.

The Atlantic Oil company announce a dividend of four per cent, payable on the 30th inst, free of tax.

The Hydraulic company announce a dividend of two per cent, payable October 5. The transfer books close from the 25th instant to the 3d proximo.

The Bidwell oil company announce a dividend of one per cent, payable on the 20th inst, until which date the transfer books are closed.

The Tarr oil company announces a dividend of one and a half per cent, (fifteen cents per share), payable on the 25th inst. The transfer books close on the 20th and open on the 26th instant.

We take the following items from the New York Shipping and Commercial Advertiser of Saturday evening:

The gold movement also occasioned some of the panicky feeling which developed itself yesterday. Large amounts of coin were offered and thrown up in the market, which, all of a sudden, fell short calls, put down prices 1 to 2 per cent. at one time, and left off with yesterday afternoon.

There is no special assignable cause for this downward movement. But the fact that the country had grown to attach the greatest importance to gold as the only safe investment, and that every fluctuation in its value was watched with the greatest anxiety, may account for the sudden panic. Any attempt to restore the course of affairs is out of the question, and all that can be done now is to be prepared for it, and waiting to see what other movement will end.

There was a strong bull movement on Cleveland and Pittsburgh, at one time, the price advanced 5½, closing at 112½.

The decline in produce in the New York market is partially checked by the strong efforts of the merchants of Chicago and Cincinnati to keep up prices. Large orders are now being received from the interior of Pennsylvania, and through New York rates and that throw very heavy sympathy with the general decline of prices in other articles of trade. The current scarcity of money in the West, and the advancing rates of interest, partially throw down lenders to call in large amount of their loans, and thus compel merchants and others to sell. Their only way is to hold on to their stocks until next the time of navigation opens, or to produce a sufficient amount of currency when it can be sent to the interior, in which event they will be able to realize the equivalent in currency which appears to threaten them.

Rags and Paper.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says:

While a number of paper manufacturers met lately in Paris to oppose the reduction of the duty on the exportation of rags, another assembly was held in a different quarter to adopt measures for the preservation of the same article, of which a great quantity is suffered to go to waste. Establishments have been formed for the collecting, sorting and working rags, which, it is expected, will secure considerable importance. One of these attempts is to obtain at present light hundred and fifty tons of rags annually. It appears from official returns that while the rags found for the manufacture of paper exported from France to England during the first six months of the present year amounted to 562,000f, the quantity imported to France during the same period was 2,500,000f. The value of paper consumed is estimated at 250,000f. The works which are being constructed at Hennebont and at La Villette for the preparation of the rags for manufacturing use will lead to a more practical result than all the speeches made at the congress of paper-makers in favor of prohibition."

Baltimore Grain Market.

SEPT. 22.—The market, influenced by the declining tendency of gold has ruled heavy throughout the week. Prime white wheat, for shipment, has been in demand for eastern ports and prices have ruled quite steady, but lower grades have ruled dull, and prices in favor of buyers. Red wheat shows a further material decline compared with the close of the preceding week. Corn to without any alteration worthy of remark. Oats are steady. We give transactions as follows: Wheat—the offerings to Chicago amount to 42,000 bush; sales comprise 15,000 bush white at $2,80@2,88 for fair to choice; 20,000 $2,55@2,70 for red; closing at $2,70@2,80, and closing on Thursday at $2,82@2,85. Corn—receipts on Chicago embrace 20,000 and decrease the item for the week, with sales of 10,000 bush at 1,42. Yellow has ruled quiet, with sales of 2,000 bush at 1,43. White has ruled dull, with sales of 2,000 bush at 1,45. Oats—Sales of 2,000 bush, in lots, at 1,02@1,10, bulk at 1,08. Gale—The receipts and sales for the week comprise 15,000 bbl at $8,50, weight, country at $8,50. Rye—Very little offered or sold. We quote prices nominal at 1,85@1,95 per bush.

Cleveland Market.

SEPT. 23.—There is no movement in this article, nor has there been for several days. It is held at such exorbitant figures by first hands that eastern buyers have withdrawn from the market as there is no margin for shipping left. The market is glutted with it at Chicago and Detroit, and stocks are accumulating in Chicago and other cities, limited as figures for above what shipper, are willing to pay, or can pay and save freights. The new whisky is coming in now, in fact the mill is in operation, and buyers are waiting to see what the movement will end.

There was a strong bull movement on Cleveland and Pittsburgh, at one time, the price advanced 5½, closing at 112½.

The decline in produce in the New York market is partially checked by the strong efforts of the merchants of Chicago and Cincinnati to keep up prices. Large orders are now being received from the interior of Pennsylvania, and through New York rates and that throw very heavy sympathy with the general decline of prices in other articles of trade. Hogs and the Future Supply.

(From the Cincinnati Price Current, Sept 21.)

But little sold about hogs; few are disposed to buy them for future delivery, whilst there is an increasing scarcity manifested for feeders to sell. A lot of Kentucky hogs sold in the forepart of the week at $11,15, to be delivered the first half of December. For November delivery, they can be bought at $10@11. We think we never observed more sensitive than now exists now among packer, but to contract at the prices purchase noted above was made by an outside speculator.

The indications are strongly in favor of a better supply of pork than there was last season, and of a much superior quality, as the corn crop is maturing much better than had been expected, owing to the peculiarly favorable weather this month.

Baltimore Coffee Market.

SEPT. 23.—The reduced cost of importations by the decline in gold, has caused prices still further to recede since the date of our last review an invoice of 1150 bags Rio, ex bark Clifton, was taken for the West at 46c. At the close we quote fair Rio at 43c; good do 44c, and we learn large invoices can be bought considerably under these quotations. No imports this week. Stock in first hands, 16,700 bags, and in second hands 1500 bags—total 20,200 bags Rio.

Philadelphia Seed Market.

SEPT. 23.—The receipts of new clover seed have slightly increased, and 300 bush sold $12,50 to $14 per 64 lbs. Timothy has improved, and has been in good request Sale of 1000 bush at 5,50 up to 7,25 per bush—closing at $7a7,25. Flax seed is taken on arrival by the crushers at 2,00@2,70 bags and in second hands 1500 bags—total 20,200 bags Rio.

Pittsburgh Petroleum Market.

SEPT. 24.—There was some inquiry for Crude to-day, principally for home use, and with a very short supply and limited receipts, the market may be quoted steady, while prices are unchanged. The only sale reported was 200 bbls—2000 for an up river refinery—at 20c, bbl returned The monotony which has prevailed in the market for Refined, has at length been broken, and we have to report sales of 2000 bbls in bond—on Friday—at 74, delivered in Philadelphia. There was another transaction about being made to-day, but, up to the present writing, we are without the particulars. We are in hopes now, as the ball has once more been started, that it will be kept in motion. Naptha is quiet and dull, and in the absence of sales, we omit quotations. Benzine is in demand and may be fairly quoted at 7,75a8 per bbl.

New York Petroleum Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, September 24—The Crude market continues very dull and prices have again declined, closing nominally at 40a41. There is nothing doing in Refined, either bond or free, and the nominal quotations are 70 for the former, and 82a83 for the latter. Naptha is dull and nominal at former quotations.

New York Stock and Money Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The stock market continues very dull and prices have still further declined—Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 101; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 1.8. Government Securities—U. S. Sixes, 107½a108; One Year Certificates, 96¾; Seven Thirties, 106¾; Five Twenties, 104¾a105. Gold is lower, but very unsettled, declining 1-16 and closing this afternoon at 234.

New York Wool Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The chief interest of manufacturers and the trade it is week has centered in the large public sale held on Thursday, the few transactions at private being also either of insignificant importance. The sales cannot be brought together in any reliable manner, as they comprise the entire market. The greater portion of whom, however, were present more from curiosity than to purchase in any of the purchases. The catalogue embraced 565,000 lbs, consisting of Domestic Fleece, washed and unwashed, Pulled and low grades, 135 bales Mestizas, and 255 bales Capes. Of the Fleece sold there were 234,000 lbs, and 7 bales at prices ranging for the washed from 65¾a93½c; unwashed, 45a48c; pulled, 45a65c; Mestizas, 37c for the 7th 24 000 lbs at 117½, and 22 bales Lima's Pulled 66½c. Of the Fleece named and withdrawn from the sale, there were 140,000 washed and 34,000 lbs unwashed, also 70 bales Pulled leaving nearly one-half the catalogue unsold. Of the Extras, Wool there were 15 bales Merinos, sold at 60 and 62 cents, a decline of about 6 ₱ lb. and 140 bales pressed; of the Cap-20 bales sold at 66@65½, a decline of 2@3 cents from the highest point at which sales passed. The buyers were twenty-eight in number, comprising fifteen dealers and thirteen manufacturers. There was very little spirit manifested, and the bidders sold not evince much anxiety to purchase. The prices realized for the Fleece Wool were a 2 line of about 5 cents per ₱ from open-hand trade within ten days, and fully 15 from extreme prices during the season, excepting, of course, some small lots of fancy qualities, the high figures. It remains to be seen if now as a wholesale sale the market for Domestic Fleece Wool which depends on the demand for the fall's trade, in Woolen goods will be attributed to the decline to gold; the stoppage of factories for the want of water, the closing of the Woolen mills during the Goods markets, and the prospect of a continuation of good news from the army. The speculation in Wool depends very much on the success of Gold, which regulates the dealings on the streets of Goods, which regulates the dealings on the streets of Goods, which regulates the dealings on the streets of Goods
