R. H. DAVIS, Bewickley, THE IS UE TO-MORROW There is hut one question to be decided at the election to morrow—whether the Government or the Rebellion shall triumph. The McCleulan men say that the war is feated us-and that we ought to make peace with them at once, on their own terms. The Lincoln men say that the war is not a failure ; that the Rebels are bolding out only under the hope of McClentan's success and their Enhanguent recognition; and that all that is morded, now, to secure an ultimate Union tri mmph in the field, is to achieve a thorough Union victory at the polls.

Reader, how do you stend on this issue ? Are you for submission to the Bebels-fer withdrawing our armies-for acknowledging ourselves whipped? Then your proper place is in the ranks with the cravens who support

But if you are for whipping the Rebelsif you are for making them submit instead of submitting to them-then your proper place is with the friends of Mr. Lizcolu. Every loyal man who is not found there is either cheating himself or allowing others to cheat bim.

The election to morrow is not for President; but it is a preliminary contest, involving the Issues of the Presidential election, and its regult will do a great deal towards sattling the dection in November. A decisive Union vicsory in Pennsylvania in October will dispel all doubts of the result in November. The first will be a grand reconneissance in force. Let us carry the enemy's rifle pits and first line of works, then, and the great November battle will be be easily won. The effect will be felt not in this State only. The who'e North will be electrified; for as goes the Keystene State, so will go the Union We want not simply to elect our County and Congressional zickets, to-morrow, but to give them an over-ensjority, so as to contribute our share to a decisive majority in the State. Let us aim, therefore, to give as large a majority, to morrow, for our County ticket, as we gave in 1860. We can do it, and more, if we try.

The Value of Votes in October. We wish our friends to hear in mind that a wate on next Tuerday is worth far more than a volcin November; therefore let none be lost. In this county, where the election of the Union card dates is a matter of course, some woters may think that it is of no great importance whether they cast their votes at the Orober election or not, but let all such bear in m'n' that if their votes are not neeled in the county, they are needed in the State. As we have no State ticket this year, the aggregate vote for members of Congress will thrown together to aspertain the relative sir ogth of the opposing parties; and to this end a vote in Allegheny county is just as imperiant as a vote in Westmoreland or Wash-In tom. Let every vo'er take care to vote th ·Corgressional ticket; but, which is better still, let him vote the whole ticket

Everything looks encouraging; but as our opposents are putting forth unwouted efforts, ailed by funds contributed by men whose for tunes depend upon the encouse of the rebellion, It is the duty of all loyal men to put forth every effort to bring about such a result in this State as will put an end to the reballion and copperheadism at onca. A triumph in sylvania over the party around whom the hopes of the robols now cluster and cling more then they do around Lee's army, would be worth more to the country than the capture of Bichmond, for it would be a sure precursor of a glerious triumph in November, and would show the robels that their copperhead friends however willing to encourage and help them, can do nothing for them. A large Union ma-Jerity in this State would so blight their hopes of success that they could hardly maintain the contest for a digie week after the result should be anneunced to them.

Capt. Kountz. We understand that a person of this name ming for Congress in the 28d District and it is as well to note the fact, now, to after the Election it may be necessary it procure affidavits to prove it. He will deny being a cardidate, as he denied making that ofane and volgar speech in Chicago. And we wall settle the question of veracity with the Captain about it. He deried, in a card published in this paper, that he made that althy speech. The editor of the Chinago Tri-Sems, from which we copied the speech which denies having made, in a letter to the Editor of it is a fact that Captain Koun'z main a speech on Monday night, August 29, from the more barned baseny of the Tremont House, Chicago, so the crowd that; stood on the street below him. Our reporter, Mr. Griffith, stood at his sidde, note-book in hand, taking sown his remarks. When Capt. Kounts commanced his barnegue he handed his hat to the Tribms reporter to hold. The reporter saked him his name at the moment, and inquired of a bystander how it was spelled—whether it commanced with a C. or a K. He then wrote on as the Captain gave uiterance so his atrocious sentiments. Our reporter new affirms that the report of his remarks in the Tragans is a fair, is thiful, and truthful condensed report of what actually said. The reporter is actonished to learn that he denies having made such a speech.

RD. Tainum." There. That is enough, we take it, to the Captain. After to morrow be will be known as " the late Captain Koustz."

They Give it Up. Hon. ALEX. Long, of Ohio, who made a Rebol speech at the late session of Congress, and was a delegate at Chicago, writes in a very gloomy strain to a friend of his. The letter Se dated Sept. 29, and in 16 he says:

There's no exthusions in the Democracy here, and this election is almost going by difault. I are nothing but defeat; others see differently. But short time will determine it now. That is the way they all feel, though but the of them have the courage to say so.

Mr. Doad's Flight

It seems by a dispatch to the Cincinnati Gezette from Indianapolis, that the Indiana traitor, Dodd, (the leader of the M'Clellan Democracy in that State.) was at first con fined in the guard h the at the So'dier's Home a secure blace, but as close quarters affected he health, he was removed the third story of the post office building. He had previously given his perole that he would not tal's administrate of Gen. Howev's kindness to make a secupe. So be not only confessed himself trainer, by escaping, but gave his word of honor with the intention and for the purpose of violating it. His recepe is an admission of the truth of the allegations as to the treascrable jurposes of the secret order over which he presided; and as the M'Clellan men depended en the order to carry the State, his flight is a happy omen of utter defeat to the conspirators at the polls.

McCaklan, but he knew not bow to grasp it. He possessed 'the sword of Scanderberg, but could not wield it.' He neither comprehended the value of time, nor the advantages of prompt action and celerity of movement. His encamping in the swamps of the river Warwick, and the mud in front of Yorktown, for a month bosinging the place, permitting the rebeing sprison to be increased from nine thousand to over one hundred thousand men, as he represented, (the rebels say only sewenty thousand,) and then allowing them to escape from Yorktown unobserved, was no less fatal to him than the result was disastrous to his army—at the same time it was no less latal to him than the result was disastrous to his army—at the same time it disappointed and depressed the hope of every patriot throughout the Union.
