Dr. Page, on taking the chair, made a few resries, stating the discumstances under which shad consented to ach as President of the meetg, and closing by quoting the conclusion of Tebater's colorated reply to Rayas. Previous introducing the sminent Bishop, Dr. Page

woked the blessing of God upus the assemblage.
Bishop Simpson was then announced, and on sing was greeted with hearty appliance. After brief introductory, he entered upon his subject by advancing the following propositions:
Will care country be bestroyed. Z. Will it be livited. S. Shall we have a monarchy. A hall the country be preserved. Under the first I three handings, the Bishop argued that God's callings with mations were uniform, and that no ation had yet been destroyed while progressing a civilization and conferring blessings on maniton. He cited the case of Egypt, I sreet, Rome and other nations of antiquity, in support of its idea. I are reference to the second proposition, he contained that there was no maintail no of apparation—no mountains high enough, in the progressing the contained that there was no naintail no of apparation on mountains high enough, in the proposition of the processing superior of a peaceable separation. And if we could not live together in peace, when united, internable ware would investibly follow a separation. For his part he was in favor of atting this, under the high dand "Shall we have a sonarchy?" he suggested that perhaps some of a blatch to chann to be governed by a queen.

Sation. For his part he was in favor of settling this question how, if it required twenty years ghting. Under the third head "Shall we have a contrarchy?" he suggested that perhaps some of a night content to be governed by a queen. Jome might content to have a nobility, provided bey were the nobies. Some might not object to large landed estates, provided there was off in hem. The substance of the argument under his head was, that a monarchy in this country was impossible. The last, and main propasition "Shall the country be preserved?" was iscussed at great length, and with remerkable ower and eloquence. He referred to the providence of God in the discovery of this country, and the manuer in which it was provided. He then well on to show how God had repared the mainer for the great struggle in which it is now engaged. Money was the sin-was of way, and the discovery of our jouchausthis mines of gold and silver had given as the last own which we were enabled to create and support samiles without the aid of a foreign sam. These mines were not only sufficient to say the whole debt incurred in carrying on the var, but also to-afford every man, woman and hild in the country a handome tortune. The airred to as an indication of the design of Providence in proparing us for the war. It was a lockworthy eircumstance that all the great line in the restrict out, and hundreds of thousands engaged in optimization, it was fasted that out hands on the war, to be be account which our battle could not have been unconstituted under the second out, and hundreds of thousands engaged in optimization, it was fasted that our lands would lie houstity stick, and the crops ungathered. But now the substance of the sating machine was addreed as an illustration of the design of Providence, by the sating of the suring machine was addreed as an illustration of the design of Providence, by the sating of the suring machine was addreed as an illustration of the design of Providence, by the said of which immers armise were cotted, as it were, in a hattration by the design of Providence, by the said of which immense armies were clothed, as it were, in a single day. He then cited numerous indications tending to show that the nation would unimately succeed in over-throwing the rebellion. Among these indications was the fast that, since years of war, we had at least found a general to lead our garmens. There were shous and opened for a Jackson, but he for the had done prayed for a Jackson, but he for the had done prayed for a Jackson, but he for the had constant that prayer, believing that the exhaustion of the Confederacy in men and neans; for, in the terse language of the Licetionent General, they what orbibed the cratice and the grave" to fill up their depleted as the while the men who had gone from the horth were scarcely missed. The immense andiance before him, the crowded streets of our populous ofties, the incessant ring of the hammer in our shorts, were proofs of the language of the Confederacy in the whilling a heals in our latories, were proofs of the language of the Confederacy in the whilling has in our latories, were proofs of the language of the Confederacy in the whilling has to the Confederacy in the shall be done to serve went in winniar time. It refers not to our currency, it had been predicted that greenbacks would not be worth a dollar brubel, but even those who had made this residual mount show girly invest in them at anoth higher figure. One or two more votories retail more the bottom out of the golden caster, and money speculators would be giad to that drow made were survived to the black form of the block, and we were strictly income the out of the block, and we were strictly income the out the war, but the head of the chellion wes now on the block, and we were striking itself block the botter of the head of the chellion wes now on the block, and we were striking itself block form of storing the union. It one sense, slavery had hothing to do with the war, but he head of the chellion was now on the block, and we were turniving hard blows ait. If the black form of hisrary would partie in threating in its head, set them both dis together. The 'institution' had gredently gone into 's communitor, and his yearser was 'God hasten it through the less tages.' He also alluded to the Ranneigation. Proclamation, by which President Vincoln and, as it were, by a powerful bettery of continual selecticity, meited the chains from four nillions of thewar. He then discussed, as some ength, the future she which as described in the health of the health of the best of the future day and dischard which we wenthrow of American slavery. After would jet by christianised and dison-halled the best of the future destiny of American shaver. The learned Bathop down graphic and prilliant ploture of the future destiny of American. He concluded with a most beautiful and brought the matter and see so the war the see the best the matter and see as colleges. locad. He concluded with a must beautiful and licque not aportrophe to the American flag, which included the antire antilence, and was followed with prolonged applanes, and the waring of hats yed handkerchiefs.

The address occupied two hours and a quarter n its delivery, and was listened to with breathers attention. The speaker was frequently interrupted with load and protrested applaces, and his speech was pronounced by all who heard it; as most powerful and brilliant effort. At the conclusion or the address, then A. W. Loomis rose and proposed that a vote of thanks be tendered to Birhop Simpson for the patriotic had magnificant address for which they had the ined.

EDITORS GARRIES: Mr. A. Wiedman claims that he was told by a Republican lawyer in this city that a "neg-owner much better than a foreigner, as he (the negro) was a native born citizen;" and he further seprets that "this (the Republican) party prefers the negro more than the foreigner"—meaning, I suppose, that the Republicans with to deprive the Germans and the Irish of their privileges as citizens, and because these privileges on the negroes. The sest answer to this assertion is found in the fast that in 1856, 1,500,000 Republicans voted for John C. Fremont, and against Mittard Filmore, the Know-Kothing candidate, who how supports McClellan for the presidency.

Moreover, would it not be better policy in Mr. Wiedman not to gut himself so compleadously before the public at a time when the remembrance of his commencion with the Dicken-Wiedman-Pancrams Gift-Enterprise is so fresh in the memory of every member of this community?

Is every age of the world, the professions have been elew to admit the value of our discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each depreciates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established mage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. COWARDLY SURRENDER OF DALTON. Beauregard Commander-in-Ohief of the Army of Mississippi.

GEN. BHERMAN KEEPING A CLOSE WATCH ON HOOD.

Gen. Hood's Militia Deserting Him. NASHVILLE, Oct. 18.-Hood's army has destroyed the railroad for twenty-three miles; between Tunnel Hill and Resacce: also between Big Shanty and Alatoona. The rebel commander demanded the surrender of Resects and threatened jeath to the garrison if the demand Weaver, of the 8th Ohio, refused to surrender; after some brisk skirmishing, the rebel force withdrew; the enemy then advanced upon Daltoo, which was surrendered without a shot being fired by Colonel Jonnson of the 44th U.S.C., who could have easily held the town if so disposed. The tunnel at Tagnel Hill was unmolented, though the care and building at that station were destroyed. From this point Hood went south west. On the rund he was confroned by the 4th corps under General Staties at Shake Creek Gap, when severs fighting easied, but the result was not attainable.

Beauregard is reported as Commander in Chief of the Army of the Mississippi, Hood being only commander of this department.

Shermen is watching every move of his untagonist, and news of important operations may be expected soon from that quarter.

A displaint his morning reports Hood at Somewille. No reinforcements have reached him and his militia have nearly all deserted him.

Prominent military men believe the robs movements will result disastrourly to them.

A rebel force is reported at Gedar Hill, near impringuisd, Tannesse, under Holmes, a gustriis, who has opened a recruiting camp there.

Guerrillas Operating in Kentucky-Boiler Explosion and Loss of Life. LOUISVILLE, Oct. 13 — The New Albany (In I.) Ledger, this evening, gives a report, which is decus reliable, that from ten to twelve hundred governiles, mader Hinds, who made a said into currillas, under Hinds, who made a said into finitians, near Lawrenworth, last year, have enonest traised in the neighborhood of Brandenburg, Kintucky, and a portion of them had entered the town and robbed the division of a large amount of goods and other valuable proporty. The same paper says the steamer J. O. Irwin, on Sunday morning, while lying at Hidyville, at the tow head of the Cumberland river, expliced de her boiler, making a wreck of the beat and filling a large number of persons, including Capt. J. D. Smith, John Elliott and Mr. Harriton, pilots, and Mr. Geaver, the mate. Mr. Ferguron, a passenger and two deck hands were found and buried on the Island. Five passengers and a soldier are missing. gers and a soldier are missing.

Naw York, Oct. 18 -The Bichmond Whig of the 15th says the Petersburg Express of yester day says:

Our sumy isosimly awaiting the advance of the enemy on the right, and fully prepared to receive him, when such a move is attempted. Though no disposition has been shown to attack our position there-ince the last reconnoiseance, yet is believed that the allence of the last few days is but the quiet that precedes the outbreaks. It is not unlikely that an attempt will be made to flank our works, as we think the enemy is faily satisfied of the fulfility of all efforts to take them by assault. day says: is fully initiated of the fatility of all efforts to take them by assault.

At the present moment, says the Express, attention is directed to the north side of the James river where a heavy engagement seems not at all unlikely. It is fortified with earthworks, line after line in concentrating circles, while high forts stand upon every possible aminence. The robels have teen making balloon recommodisances over our position at Bermuda Handred.
