British American Federation.

A new nation, destined, ere long, by the mere force of events to be independent and powerful, is rising on our northern boundary. Heretofore the six British provinces lying between the Atlantic ocean and Lake Superior, except the two Canadas, have been independent of each other, although all alike dependent upon the crown of Great Britain, to wit: Canada West, Canada East, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward's Island and Newfoundland. Now they are to be federated. A conference is in session at Quebec to arrange the time. The total population of these provinces, exclusive of Newfoundland, is 3,170,616 —about that of the United States at the close of the war of the revolution. Of this population Canada west, or upper Canada, as it used to be called, contains nearly one half.

The Pacific provinces of Columbia and Vancouver's Island are not yet embraced in the Federation; but if the scheme works well, we may be sure that in due time they will be. The vast intermediate territory, yet under the jurisdiction of the Hudson's Bay Company, embraces large tracts of good land, especially the valley of the Saiquihawen, a river as large as the Ohio, will soon be occupied, and ultimately become a part of that magnificent empire that is growing rapidly on our northern border. The colonial relation now subsisting between these people and the imperial government is likely to grow less and less controlling, until ultimately a condition of entire independence shall be attained without resistance on the part of the latter.

THE REBEL LEADERS are all coming out for McCLELLAN. HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON, who ran with DOUGLAS in 1860, has published a letter in which he assigns subjugation to be better than submission to the Union, the only honorable peace to be based on the recognition of the South, and that such a peace would result from the election of McCLELLAN. Mr. Vice President STEPHENS says the only way to secure absolutely final secession is through the "ultimate Convention" proposed by McCLELLAN's supporters, and BOYCE, of South Carolina, has addressed a letter to JEFF. DAVIS urging him to do all he can to promote McCLELLAN's election as the only hope of the Confederacy. Why are all the Rebel leaders of the South in favor of McCLELLAN? It is because they know he is their friend, and because they know that in his election is their only hope of independence.

Why are all the aristocrats of Europe earnestly desirous of McClellan's election? Is it because he calls himself a democrat, and is the candidate of what is called the democratic party? Not at all. These men hate democracy worse than ever; and they long ardently for McClellan's election because they know it will result in the disruption of the Union, and the formation of its fragments into separate governments. It is a united government under Lincoln which they fear.

Sheridan's Victory.

The victory of SHERIDAN in the valley is complete—the most complete of any yet gained. And the fact that it was a victory snatched from the jaws of defeat gives it great lustre. The generalship was brilliant; and no higher compliment was ever paid to any soldier than that paid to Gen SHERIDAN by his own when, dispirited, broken, scattered and dying, demoralized by defeat and thoughtful only of escape from the victorious enemy, they rallied to the call of his clarion voice, gathered their broken columns into a solid line, turned their faces once more to the enemy, retraced their way over the ground yet red with the imprints of their retreating feet, and dashing at the astonished foe, scattered death and destruction among them, and sent the lately triumphant but now utterly demoralized hosts once more "whirling up the valley." It showed what a man of brains can do, and what thorough confidence the men of our army have in him; and the result stamps SHERIDAN as one of the most skilful Generals of the age.

Convention of War Democrats.

A general mass meeting of the War Democrats who are opposed to M'CLELLAN is called to meet in Cooper Institute, New York, on Tuesday the 1st of November. The call is signed by the following leading Democrats of New York:

E. B. Cutting, Moses Taylor, Edwards Pierrepont, John A. Dix, Henry G. Stebbins, Alex. Hamilton, jr., Alex. T. Stewart, Theodore Roosevelt, Gustavus A. Conover, James R. Whiting, John A. Stewart, M. Ulshoeffer, Wm. H. Webb, Peter Cooper, Geo. B. Butler, Henry Nicoll, D. S. Coddington, Robert B. Roosevelt, A. Vanderpool, James Wadsworth, Alfred A. Valentine, Henry T. Ingalls.

The call is also signed by many other leading Democrats from other States, and among the rest by the following from Penns:

Daniel Dougherty, Wm. M. Meister, Thos. Fitzgerald, Benj. H. Brewster, James Worrell, John Hill, William Bostwick, Geo. S. Kamble, John M. Speed.

An Example.

Geo. DAVID B. BIBBEY, almost in the hour of his death, presented an example of patriotism which should be a reproach to all the lukewarm in the Union ranks. He was brought to Philadelphia on election day, with the impress of death upon his features. Before allowing himself to be taken to his home, he insisted upon being carried to the polls, to vote, as a citizen, for the cause for which he had fought as a soldier. And yet we know of men in this county who lived within a stone's throw of the election, who suffered themselves to be so absorbed in business as to forget there was an election or be utterly careless about it.

LET every Union man in this county consider himself a committee of one, to see that all his neighbors who can be induced to vote with him, do so. There is no man, no matter what his position in life, who has not some influence; and if this proposition be adopted, our majority for LINCOLN and JOHNSON must be overwhelming.

THE PEACE CONVENTION at Cincinnati did not result in a new nomination. Its managers, FERNANDO WOOD, LONG and VALLANDIGHAM, impressed upon its members that McCLELLAN was practically with them, and therefore no other nomination was necessary.

Our dispatches this morning show that SHERMAN is safe; that the way is once more open to Atlanta; and that HOOD is hot footed on his way to Montgomery.

Address of the Union State Central Committee.

TO THE LOYAL MEN OF PENNSYLVANIA.

ROOMS OF THE UNION STATE CENTRAL COM.,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21, 1864.

To the Union Men of Pennsylvania:—The smoke of the first engagement has cleared away, and upon the vote of her citizens at home, Pennsylvania stands by the government of our fathers, while her brave sons in the field will not give less than twelve thousand majority for the good cause. The last hope, therefore, of the supporters of General McClellan has disappeared, and the only result of continuing to sustain him is to give aid and comfort to the rebellion by increasing the appearance of disunion among ourselves.

General Sheridan dealt a terrible blow to treason on Wednesday, and every patriot's heart thrilled with joy upon hearing it; but a great majority for Abraham Lincoln in Pennsylvania would be far more fatal to the armed conspiracy against the Union and the Constitution. Every vote for our tried and faithful President will paralize some arm raised to shoot down the flag, while every vote for the base surrender at Chicago, and the men who carry its white flag, will encourage some rebel to shoot another northern soldier. The ticket nominated by Vallandigham, Wood, and Seymour, is now black with treason, and after it is voted will be red with the blood of our brothers fighting for us. The war has existed for the last year only by reason of our divisions, and its continuance to-day is solely owing to the activity of the disunion party of the north and the platform of its convention. While any hope remained of the election of its candidates, plausible excuses might be found by misguided men for giving them their suffrages; but after the verdicts of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, all sensible persons know that the election is already decided by the people, and that it only remains to ascertain the majorities. It follows, therefore, that every vote for McClellan and Pendleton is an earnest invitation to Jefferson Davis to continue this fearful war, to waste more of our treasure and to murder others of our sons.

The sublime spectacle of a united north will end the war. We invoke all patriots to lend their efforts unceasingly to produce this result. By perfecting the ward and township organizations; by the circulation of documents; by public addresses, especially by local speakers; by earnest personal efforts with honest but mistaken men; by making arrangements to bring every voter to the polls; by sending tax receipts to every soldier and sailor; by the immediate formation of campaign clubs in every borough and community; by great meetings of the people by daylight and by torch-light, and by all the honest agencies of an active and thorough canvass, appealing to the patriotic heart and kindling the patriotic enthusiasm of a great and loyal commonwealth, we can attest the fealty of our State to the flag of the Union by a majority worthy of the historic character of the contest and of the great issues dependent upon it.

Forward, then, every lover of his country in this good work! Looking not to the past but to the future, forgetting all personal considerations, and appreciating the privilege of some sacrifice for Liberty and the Union, let us relax no effort until the polls are closed. This committee will continue to do its whole duty, and relies upon your instant, earnest and constant assistance.

Grant's march of valor and of glory from the Rapidan to the James sealed the fate of the rebellion. Since then She man has turned its left wing. Farragut is closing its avenues of escape. Sheridan has sent its vanguard again whirling up the valley. Only remains for us to sound the charge along the whole line, and wrapping our banners around our brothers' bullets, march to the peaceful, final triumph, which awaits us in November.

Proclaiming the war to be a failure, George B. McClellan himself is the great failure of the war—a general without a victory—a statesman without a record, and if we are faithful, history will add to his epitaph that he was a Sandidate for the Presidency without an electoral vote. Let us all, therefore, labor without ceasing. In memory of our buried martyrs, in regard for the wounds of our living heroes, to guard liberty from its deadly peril, and the Union from its treasonable foes, in the interest of religion, and in the hops of the prosperity of the future, loyal men of Pennsylvania, forward to victory!

In behalf of the Committee,

SIMON CAMERON, Chairman.
A. W. BENEDICT, } Secretaries.
WIER FORNEY, }

Our City's Vote.

So many anxious inquiries reach us from different and distant sources as to the probable vote of our city on the 8th of November that we propose to give them all this public and circumstantial answer.

The vote of our city for President in 1860 was cast as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Lincoln, | 83 290 Fusion, | 62,298 |
| | Anti-Lincoln, 20,008 | |

There have since been a few changes from Lincoln, but not less than ten times as many to him. The names of John A. Dix, George Bancroft, Frank's B Cutting, Moses Taylor, Edwards Pierrepont, James R. Whiting, David S. Coddington, are but samples of a host who in 1860 were ardent opposers of Mr. Lincoln's election, but who now support his reelection. From what we know of positive, open changes to our side, we are confident that Mr. Lincoln's poll next month in this city cannot fall below 35 000.

How much can this be overmatched? We say: By honest voting possibly 20,000; by the aid of wholesale fraud, perhaps 30,000.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Nebraska Election.

OMAHA, N. T., Oct. 4, 1864.

Editors Missouri Democrat:

The election in Nebraska has resulted in a perfect Waterloo to the Copperheads.

P. W. Hitchcock, (Union) has been elected Delegate to Congress by over 500 majority.

The Legislature will stand thus:

| | Union. | Cop. |
|---|---|---|
| Council | 10 | 3 |
| House | 30 | 9 |
| Joint ballot | 40 | 12 |

In 1862, Mr. Daily (Union) was elected to Congress, by 152 majority.

The bogus Democracy endorsed the Chicago surrender, and the result is, they have been buried beneath an avalanche of loyal ballots.

The Raid at St. Albans.

The organization of bands of rebel marauders in Canada, for the purpose of coming within our lines, committing depredations on our property and shooting down our citizens, is of so grave a character as to demand the prompt and decisive action of the government. If measures are not adopted to put an end to this abuse of the right of asylum and the violation of the duties of neutrality, our citizens on the frontier will take the matter into their own hands. We should deeply regret such unauthorized acts of reprisal. Whatever is done should be done under the authority of the government. Either the Canadian authorities should be called on to send the rebels, who are getting up predatory enterprises against us, out of Canada, or we should have armed forces on the frontier ready to take summary vengeance on these marauders, and for that purpose to follow them, as we have a right to do, across the lines, if the pursuit is instant. When Gen. Dix was advised of the outrages at St. Albans, he sent the following dispatch to the commanding officer at Burlington, Vermont: "Send all the efficient troops you have to St. Albans, and try to find the marauders who came from Canada this morning. Put a discreet officer in command, and in case they are not found on our side of the line, pursue them into Canada if necessary, and destroy them."

The order was carried out so far as to pursue the marauders into Canada, where eight were captured. If they had been shot down as they shot down the peaceable citizens of St. Albans, it would have been no more than exact justice. A single example of stern retribution would go far to break up these piratical expeditions. But the government should take the matter in hand, as a grave international question, and not leave it to local commanders.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

☞ NOTICE to PROTHONOTARIES.—The different Prothonotaries to whom scattering returns of votes have been made, should return the same to the proper counties, where the persons voted for are candidates, as they will add therein by in arriving at results which are now in doubt. A failure on the part of a Prothonotary to attend strictly to this part of his duty, may not only contribute to the formal defeat of candidates who are really elected, but it may involve the Prothonotaries themselves, on account of such violation of duty, in serious trouble.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Union of the Union Party in Pennsylvania.

Complete harmony now exists in the ranks of the Union party of Pennsylvania. It is stirred by national necessities, inspired by general enthusiasm for the cause, and will be maintained by mutual concession. The late canvass taught a lesson by which this canvass will profit. Men who expected a great Union majority on the home vote, and thought the cause would prosper without their aid, have been shawn the evils of indifference and overconfidence. All the friends of the Government are now united. They will make one undivided, irresistible effort to increase the Union majority on the 8th of November.

Bear in mind, friends of the Union, the differences between the State canvass just ended and the national struggle that is now nearing its end. We have now no Congressional rivalries; no local disputes; no difficulties between rival candidates for county offices. Individual preferences and prejudices have no part in this grand battle of principles, in which all minor disputes are engulphed and lost.

Thus united, all that remains is work, work, work! We have two weeks from next Tuesday to redeem every Union county which in October gave a diminished majority, and to increase our gains in all the others. It is true that many of the counties have sent thousands of Union voters to the field as soldiers. Nearly thirty thousand of our Union citizens have gone in the last year to charge with Sheridan or hold fast with Grant, yet we polled a larger aggregate vote than ever before. We have begun well. We shall end better. There is not a county in the State that cannot give an increased Union vote if the friends of the Union will work.—Phila. Press.

Kentucky Loyalty.

We should dislike exceedingly to believe the statements of the Louisville Journal, respecting Kentucky loyalty. It declares that "everybody knows that thousands of persons have been draf ed in Kentucky who have declared to remain at home, but who, if compelled to fight at all, prefer fighting on the rebel side." It then goes on to say that "we are assured, and believe, startling as the fact may seem, that our draft, got up with so much trouble and expense, and creating such deep and widespread dissatisfaction and disaffection, has given more men to the rebel than to the Federal cause, and the evil is becoming worse and worse every day. So, to prevent ill feeling among semi-rebels, the Journal opposes a draft, but would prefer that those who would fight on the rebel side, if compelled to fight at all, should stay at home undisturbed and unite with it in the effort to elect McClellan.—Wash. Chron.

DAVIS AND STEPHENS.—We have been favored of late with the views of both the rebel President and the rebel Vice-President. Jeff Davis gave his views of the war, and Stephens gave his views on peace. Davis speech was filled with complaints, and the plaint letter is filled with demands. Davis could see nothing but darkness in his military situation; Stephens sees a "ray of light" in the action of the Chicago Convention." Davis beat about him like a madman, abusing everybody; Stephens is smooth, sophistical, plausible and inoffensive. The difference in the character and tone of the two utterances may be easily explained by the fact, that the one was an impromptu and his rifle declamation, addressed to and for the benefit of the rebels of Georgia, while the other was meant for effect upon the people of the North.—N. Y. Times.

CAUTION.—On Monday, November 21st 1863, I purchased from A. D. LINDSAY, of Rollit Depot, the right to manufacture and have been manufacturing it since that time. This right I intend to maintain, and give notice to the public that upon every bottle the name of A. M. FULTON is blown in the glass, and to each wrapper is affixed a Revenue Stamp, the same is worth the counterfeiting.
