BEN WADE ON MCCLELLAN.—We refer the reader to the first page for one of the most scathing criticisms of McCLELLAN'S generalship that has yet appeared. It is a perfect volley of facts, shot with keen and killing precision. Mr. WADE being chairman of the Committee on the Conduct of the War, his statements are high authority. No man in the country is better posted than he.

A TWO-EDGED SWORD.—An electoral ballot in the hands of a Union voter at the coming election will be a two-edged sword, cutting both ways—as destructive of Southern treasons as of Northern Copperheadism. It is a glorious privilege to vote at such an election.

"OUR SUCCESS IN BATTLE (says the Charleston Courier) INSURES THE SUCCESS OF McCLELLAN. OUR FAILURE WILL INEVITABLY LEAD TO HIS DEFEAT." How can any loyal man act with a party thus linked to Rebellion?

The result of Work.

Several districts in this county, at the late election, did better than ever before. Why? Because they were thoroughly organized. WORK—systematic work did it. Those districts did worst in which the least work was done.

In the Same Boat.

The leaders of the Chicago Convention visited GEO. N. SANDERS, at Niagara, and hobnobbed with him; and the St. Albans robbers and murderers, when caught, telegraphed to the same SANDERS to do what he could for them. They are all in the same boat.

The Two Things Needed

To give us an overwhelming success at the November Election are ORGANIZATION and ZEAL. These must be our watch words till the election. Too much work cannot be done, and the victory cannot be too great for the demands and the glory of the cause.

A Decisive Victory.

We want a decisive victory in November. We must not be content with merely whipping the enemy, but we must rout him, horse, foot and dragoon. We must make the majority so decisive that there can be no cavil at it. And the way to accomplish this is, let everybody take hold and help.

Skies Bright.

We have the most cheering news from all parts of the State. Our friends are up and actively at work, in every county in Western Pennsylvania, and the prospect is that we shall largely increase our vote. Much good work has been done since the October election, but much yet remains to do. Work, friends, work! Steady work until the election will give us an overwhelming victory over the enemy.

Union Meetings.

The Union County Committee have arranged meetings to be held in this city and neighborhood, for able and eloquent speakers, as follows:

Rev. Mr. BAIRD, of Washington co., at Concert Hall, to-night.

Hon. JOHN CESSNA and Rev. Col. GRANVILLE MOODY, at Concert Hall on Saturday night, next.

Hon. SAMUEL GALLOWAY, of Ohio, at Concert Hall, on Tuesday night next.

These are all prominent men, and all excellent speakers. Rev. Mr. MOODY, will probably speak at two or three other places during his stay.

Hon. F. HASSAUREH will also address the Germans, in German, on Saturday night, Nov. 5th. We anticipate for him the biggest kind of a crowd.

A Model Document.

It is an old remark, and a true one, that history repeats itself. On the 29th of April, 1780, BENEDICT ARNOLD issued an address to the citizens and soldiers of the United States, from which we take the following extract:

> You are promised liberty by the leaders of your affairs, but is there an individual in the enjoyment of it, saving your oppressors? Who among you dare to speak or write what he thinks against the tyranny which has robbed you of your property, imprisons your sons, drags you to the field of battle, and is daily deluging your country with blood?

Your country once was happy, and had the proffered peace been embraced, the last two years of misery had been spent in peace and plenty, and repairing the desolation of the quarrel, that would have set the interests of Great Britain and America in a true light, and cemented their friendship.

I wish to lead a chosen band of Americans to the attainment of peace, liberty and safety, the first object in taking the field.

What is America, but a land of widows, orphans and beggars? But what need of argument to such as feel infinitely more misery than tongue can express? I give my promise of most affectionate welcome to all who early disclose to join me in a measure necessary to free the remnant of our oblation, which must increase until we are satisfied with the liberality of the mother country, which still offers us protection and exemptions from all taxes but such as we think it fit to impose upon ourselves. BENEDICT ARNOLD.

October 20, 1780.

With very little alteration this address of BENEDICT ARNOLD would make a first rate campaign document for the supporters of the Chicago nominees. The things at which he grumbles are very nearly the same as those enumerated in the Chicago platform, and, like that document, this one talks of "peace, liberty and safety."

When ARNOLD issued this address, the cause of the struggling colonists looked dark and discouraging. He, like the authors of the Chicago platform, tried to persuade them that the war in which they were engaged was a failure; and, like M'CLELLAN, he was for exhausting the resources of statesmanship to get the old state of things restored. With what success he labored history tells us, and the unanimous verdict of the American people, from that day to this, has consigned him to infamy, and his name has been coupled with TARLETON, and his name has been coupled with that of JUDAS ISCARIOT as a synonym for treason. Yet look at this address of his, and call to mind the circumstances under which it was set forth, and see if it is not more defensible, and less atrocious, than the platform of the Chicago Convention. Rely upon it, history will consign the copperheads of the Great Rebellion to a deeper and darker infamy than that to which it has already consigned the forgers and traitors of the Revolution.

The more Votes The less Blood.

The more votes we give to the Union cause on the 8th of November, the less fighting will be required to subdue the rebellion, save the Union, and restore peace. Let the Copperheads be thoroughly thrashed, overwhelmingly routed, and their rebel allies will soon knock under. Let them see that their sympathizers and allies in the north are such a weak and contemptible minority that they can hope for no aid and comfort from them, and they will give up the contest, and the war will be brought to a close with but little more bloodshed. The rebels would never have begun this war had they not expected aid from their party friends in the north; nor could they have kept it up so long but for their aid and encouragement. Our business, therefore, is to crush out the Copperhead party. That done, the crushing out of the rebellion will be a short job.

What the Conspiracy Has Done.

A secret organization forced the cotton States into rebellion against the wishes of a clear majority of their Union-loving people, who would have prevented it had a fair election been allowed them.

A secret organization recruited armies for rebellious purposes before the cotton States had seceded.

A secret organization overawed the border slave States, and dragged most of them into the rebellion against the wishes of their people.

A secret organization has maintained all the spy service of the rebels in this war, enabled them to know all that they desire respecting our affairs, and to delude us with pretended details respecting their own, by means of disguised traitors professing to be our friends.

A secret organization has encouraged deserters from our armies, shielded deserters from arrest, organized resistance to the draft, recruited for the rebel armies in the North, carried on the contraband trade with the rebels in arms, supplies, &c.

A secret organization has demoralized the Democratic party, deprived it of all freedom of action or deliberation, vitiated its tone, diffused treasonable sentiments throughout its ranks, and prepared it for aiding the rebellion.

A secret organization produced the bloody and terrible draft riots in New York city.

A secret organization fomented the draft riots in the Democratic districts of Pennsylvania.

A secret organization is the source of all the copperhead riots in the West.

A secret organization projected a revolt at the West, and an invasion of the free States by the Confederate rebel armies to aid that revolt.

A secret organization is the actual basis of the Democratic strength and hopes in the pending canvass.

A secret organization, sworn to aid the rebellion, but seeking the election of McClellan and Pendleton as the means most available for treasonable purposes, has eaten into the vitals of the Democratic party and destroyed it, so that it is now nothing more than a mere shell, in which this secret conspiracy is concealed.—Phila. North American.

The Copperhead Platform.

Resolved, That the war is a very good war, and a most enrighteous war, and while it should be stopped at once, must be carried on with great vigor.

Resolved, That the Rebels have been fairly provoked by the vile Abolitionists, and should be tenderly treated by a Major General who will be all for peace, and at the same time for a vigorous prosecution of the war.

Resolved, That while we disapprove of the course which the Rebels have conscientiously adopted, we regard as distinguished patriots all gentlemen known as Vallandighamites.

Resolved, That the country is in a most unpleasant condition, and that it is the duty of a President-Major-General to make matters pleasant.

Resolved, That we are for this thing, that thing and the other thing, by which we mean that we are for the other thing, that thing and this thing.

Resolved, That we are for the good old times, the great gold times, the beautiful old times, the high old times—any times but such times as these times.

Resolved, That we are for McClellan, who will be a Man of War, and for Pendleton, who will be a Man of Dough.

Resolved, That we are for peace and no taxes, peace and no war, peace and universal prosperity, peace first, peace last, peace at any price, and peace all the time, and for a vigorous prosecution of the war—and especially for peace.

Fate of McClellan, if Elected.

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post says: I was at Niagara Falls this week, and talked with many secessionists on the Canada side, among whom were several of John Morgan's men, and some of Mosby's guerrillas. They talked very fiercely about our approaching Presidential election, and all concurred in the belief that if McClellan is elected he will be governed strictly and literally by the Chicago platform. "If he is not," said one (and all the rest assented,) "he will be a dead man within thirty days after his inauguration; and Pendleton, as President, will bring around a peace which shall give us our independence, or establish slavery in every State in the Union. In that event the North shall pay our war debt, and the d—d Abolitionists shall be shot if they ever utter the treasonable doctrine of abolishing slavery." I asked who would kill McClellan? "Three hundred thousand men would quarrel for the privileges of doing it, if only his life stood between us and success," was the prompt reply. I believe there men were perfectly sincere in their declarations; and if McClellan should be elected, and attempt to put down the rebels, I would not give sixpence for his life.

Negro Prisoners at Danville Escape from Their Rebel Guard.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 11th has the following:

"Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, the negro prisoners engaged at work on the fortifications around Danville, made an attack on the guard, and after a desperate struggle, succeeded in overpowering the small force, and gaining possession of about twenty muskets. One hundred of the scoundrels then made their escape, following the Dan river in an easterly direction. During the scuffle eight of the negroes were killed. These negro prisoners, with their white brethren, were carried over the Danville road during the last week, on their way south, but for the want of transportation were temporarily detained in Danville. The authorities thereupon determined to put the negroes to work on the fortifications, and while so engaged they availed themselves of an opportunity offered to make their escape. The citizens, armed with shot guns and muskets, turned out promptly and started in pursuit of the fugitives, and hopes are entertained of the capture of the entire party."

Singular Political Contradiction.

One of the singular facts connected with the present political condition of the North and South is, that Jeff. Davis and Alexander H. Stephens, the bogus President and Vice-President of the so-called Southern Confederacy, are, as we are credibly informed, native-born Connecticut Yankees; while Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson, the Northern nominees for President and Vice-President of the Union, are both natives of the slave States, and of the down-trodden class of its poor population, which is denominated by the aristocratic planters, as the white trash of the South. Mr. Stephens, we are told, was born at Haddam, in Connecticut, and went to Georgia at an early age. Mr. Davis was born at Killingworth, Connecticut, and emigrated to Kentucky, where his father for some time kept a roadside tavern. And these are the king-pins of the Southern aristocracy, who pretend to hold their noses when the repudiated Yankees pass between the wind and their nobility.—Wilkes' Spirit.

THE friends and supporters of human bondage in Maryland are fighting the progress of freedom with great zeal. Yesterday they applied in the Superior Court of Baltimore for a mandamus commanding Governor Bradford to disfranchise the soldiers by throwing out their votes. The Court declined to interfere, when the conspirators against the brave boys in the field started for the Supreme Court with an appeal. The law provides for voting by the soldiers of Maryland, and we cannot believe that any Court or responsible officer will venture to attempt their disfranchisement. That the pro-slavery men would do so is very certain; and they would equally as soon shoot any soldier who fights their master Jeff. Davis; if they dared.—N. Y. Trib.

MEN DEBATE NOW, not whether McCLELLAN will be elected, but whether he will get a single electoral vote. The flowing of the patriotic masses to the standard of the Union is wonderful.

The Confederates and Neutrality.

If we interpret aright the item of news received from Bermuda by way of Halifax, it would seem reasonable to expect that the British authorities may in time become tired of their Confederate friends. The pirate Braine and his companions, who repeated the tragedy of the Chesapeake in a milder form on board the Havana steamer Roanoke, have been put on trial, and the Bermuda court has refused to bail them. Fourteen of the bank robbers who profess to hold commissions from Richmond to invade Vermont by way of Canada, are also in jail at St. John's, in Lower Canada, with some prospect of being brought to trial, not as Confederate soldiers, but as common thieves and murderers. These are signs of improvement in British Colonial life.

A COINCIDENCE.—On the 19th of October, 1778, was struck the final blow for American Independence, for that day was evermore consecrated in American annals, by the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. This day has received a new title to distinction, and has, henceforth, an additional claim to the grateful recollections and exultant observance of the American people; for, on the 19th of October, 1864, Sheridan redeemed impending disaster by overwhelming victory, drove the scattered legions of Early in headlong rout down the Valley of the Shenandoah, and annihilated Lee's last hope of raising the siege of Petersburg, by another destroying swoop upon Maryland and Pennsylvania.—Wash. Chron.

THERE is teeth from the crushed heaps of snakes in Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania, a wail that it was not fairly done. Wait a few days, and if will be so fairly done, as well as fully done, that the snake generation not completely done, will be hard to find. Some of them will change their coats and try to persuade posterity that they were Union men. The school boys of to-day will remember them. Our heart aches for the children of Copperheads in coming time.—Chicago Trib.

JUDGE RICHARD, of Trumbull county, a prominent Democratic politician, and eminently a peace man, attempted to shoot one of his townsmen, who pronounced him "an old traitor," but bungled the business so badly that he shot one of his Democratic friends, inflicting a severe wound. The Judge, with a serene unconsciousness of the inconsistency of it, carries the Sermon on the Mount in one pocket, and a six shooter in the other.—Cin. Com.

MR. WINTHROP, in a speech the other day, said it was the testimony of a Rebel "of the most estimable and excellent character," that the people of the South did not like Lincoln, but "would trust McClellan." Our only reply to that is, that whom Rebels will trust loyal men will not. The High Priests and Pharisees were willling to "trust" Judas, but that fact did not commend him to the confidence of the loyal disciples of the betrayed Nazarene.—Alb. Exa. Jour.

SLAVERY challenged the United States of America to mortal combat. It impaled itself upon the bayonets of its adversary, and writhes and twists there in the agony of a death that promises soon to close the struggle. The Democrats put on crape, and rush on our line of battle, and fasten on our shell, in which this secret conspiracy is concealed.—Phila. North American.

COL. THOMAS H. SEYMOUR, of Connecticut has at last taken the stump for McClellan and Pendleton. Col. Seymour is a thorough Peace man.
