The Meeting To-night.

By all means go to the meeting at Concert Hall, to-night. The opportunity to hear two such orators as JOHN CESSNA and Col. GRANVILLE MOODY does not often occur. Concert Hall should be crowded to hear them. All who go will hear the truth most forcibly and eloquently put.

The Great Election.

It is hardly possible to exaggerate the importance of the approaching election, or the momentous interests involved in it. It will decide whether this war is a triumph or a failure—whether we are a conquered or a victorious people—whether this Union shall be preserved or broken up—whether we are to have a permanent and honorable peace, or interminable war and anarchy—whether loyal men or traitors shall hereafter rule this nation whether slavery shall be reinstated as the ruling power to dominoer over us, or whether it shall perish with the rebellion which it engendered and maintained with such obstinacy and desperation.

This election will determine the question whether all the precious blood which has been shed in the present war has been poured out in vain, or whether it shall yield a rich harvest of blessings, and be the inestimable price paid for the salvation of a great nation.

The whole civilized world is looking for the result with a more intense interest and anxiety than they ever before awaited any event. The people of Europe are divided upon the question as much as we are. The republicans, the friends of liberty and progress, such men as GARIBALDI and JOHN BRIGHT, with their millions of brave and generous followers, are hoping and praying for the success of ABRAHAM LINCOLN; while the aristocracy of Great Britain, and the haughty patrons of the rebellion, who are represented by the London Times, Napoleon and his set, in France, with the enemies of freedom and progress of every class, are anxious for the success of GEORGE B. McCLELLAN. England is so closely divided that it is doubtful which candidate would get its vote if it had a vote. Of the popular sentiment of France we have no means of judging; but several of the great representative men of the liberal or democratic party have written earnestly and eloquently on the side of LINCOLN and the UNION. The Germans are almost unanimous for LINCOLN; for in spite of their wretched political systems, there are no truer votaries of liberty than they.

This election will react upon Europe with tremendous power, let it terminate as it may. Should McCLELLAN be elected, every tyrant there will feel that he has a new lease of power; while they will exult in the failure of the grandest experiment of popular government the world ever saw. It will set back the cause of liberty and progress in Europe for a generation at least, and shake the confidence of all her people in the theory of popular government. But, on the other hand, should these loyal States proclaim, by the election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, that they are resolved to maintain their great Union, their free institutions, their matchless constitution, and to abolish the only one incongruous and disturbing element in their great social system, it would shake every throne in Europe, except those of the beloved VICTORIA and that progressive abolitionist, the CZAR of Russia. No political event that ever happened since men were upon the earth would give such an impulse to the cause of liberty throughout the world as the re-election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN in the very crisis of the most tremendous civil war that has marked and stained with blood the history of this warring world.

To hand a little bit of paper, with a few names printed upon it, through a window seems not to be a very great act in itself; but we tell you, friends, that the act of depositing your ballots on the 8th of November will be the greatest act of your lives. For once the American citizen will be invested with a power that will be felt to the remotest regions of the earth—felt in the palace of the Emperor and the cottage of the peasant—felt centuries after the voter shall sleep in the dust—and felt, perchance, in that unknown state, where the disembodied spirit shall exult in perfect liberty, or pine in everlasting bonds. To vote that day is both a duty and a privilege more solemn, imperative and glorious than is ever likely to be yours again, or of your descendants for many generations. Rarely, indeed, are men placed in the position you occupy at this moment; and old men will exultingly tell their children of the third and fourth generation, that amid the fire of the Great Rebellion, they voted for ABRAHAM LINCOLN in 1864—voted that Liberty and Union should be maintained, and that the foul blot of slavery should be wiped from their national escutcheon; and as those venerable men shall linger on the shores of time, fewer and fewer in number, the homage of generations now unborn will be paid to them, as ours was paid to the last surviving signers of the Declaration of Independence.

A Characteristic Fraud.

The McCLELLAN men having no hope of winning by fair means, have resolved to try what they can do by fraud.

A prominent Copperhead of this county lately purchased 500 LINCOLN and JOHNSON envelopes, in this city (having the portraits of these candidates on them), with the design, doubtless, of filling them with Copperhead electoral tickets and sending them to Union soldiers, trusting to the loyal appearance of the envelopes to deceive those who should receive them.

This is a fraud characteristic of Copperheads. None but men who are dishonest and false to their country would take part in such a villainous cheat.

We advise all who have friends in the army to caution them against such tricks as these, and put them on their guard against the many attempts that will be made to mislead them.

And let every man at home be on his guard. All sorts of efforts at fraud will be made, and we must watch as those who know what a treacherous enemy they have to deal with.

The New York Fraud.

The history of election frauds in this country cannot show a parallel to the gigantic fraud attempted by the Copperhead agents of the Governor of New York. It is a deliberate swindle upon the soldiers of that State yet in the field, and an outrageous attempt to vote thousands of ballots in the names of the gallant dead. And all this in the interest of McCLELLAN!

If there are any honest men left in the Democratic party, this exposure must bring the blush of shame to their cheeks. The very thought of being affiliated with men who thus deliberately plan to poll thousands upon thousands of fraudulent votes, and to swindle the soldiers out of their votes, by substituting McCLELLAN for LINCOLN tickets in the Soldiers' proxies, must crimson the face of any true man who finds himself in that predicament.

All the evidence goes to show that this is not an individual, but an organized, fraud. The men engaged in it are the appointees of Governor SEYMOUR, and it is plain, from all the circumstances, that the party has undertaken this vile job.

To understand the facts thoroughly, it must be remembered that the New York soldiers do not vote in the field, as ours do, but each soldier sends home his proxy, to some friend, to vote for him. Agents were sent out by Gov. SEYMOUR (Copperheads, of course,) with blanks, and these men (being provided only with Electoral tickets, and the election in New York for Congress, local tickets, &c., being at the same time as the Presidential election,) cunningly advised the soldiers, in distributing the envelopes, to put in an Electoral ticket along with the proxy, but to leave the envelopes open, so that their friends at home could put in the local tickets. The envelopes thus temptingly left open, were entrusted to these agents to take home, and the developments show that they have abstracted the LINCOLN Electoral tickets and substituted McCLELLAN tickets for them.

But the fraud does not end here. These agents have gathered up the names of dead soldiers, prisoners, &c, and forged their names to proxies, filling the envelopes with McCLELLAN tickets. How many thousands of these forged proxies have been found, does not yet appear; but doubtless enough to carry New York for McCLELLAN, if the fraud had not been exposed.

Of this last great villainy the New York Tribune says:

> The Democratic party is doomed to go out like a Chinese fire-work, to be followed not only by utter darkness and nothingness, but by an intolerably bad smell. It is not only dead, but it already stinketh. In desperate attempts to prolong its existence it resorts to frauds, props itself up with lies, attempts to obtain possession of the Government by villainies hitherto unknown in any political canvass, and failing in that, proposes by conspiracy and insurrection to involve the whole land in a new and bloody civil war. The latest development will be found in dispatches from Washington, published this morning. The McClellanites have, for days past, been in an unusually jubilant and confident state of mind. Gold has risen rapidly without visible cause; bets on the election have been offered freely; and all the signs of renewed confidence in a falling cause have been apparent and striking. It was clear that there was some influence at work known only to the favored few, some new and stupendous fraud. It was conjectured, on which the conspirators relied to defeat the votes of honest men and to put themselves into power. Baffled hitherto in everything else; the preparations for insurrection discovered and guarded against; State elections lost by the unswerving loyalty of the people; measures taken everywhere to defeat a fraudulent home vote; the Copperheads have now played their last card, which they hoped and believed would be a trump. It is a fitting end of all their schemes that the enemy in the rear should attempt to cheat the soldiers at the front out of their votes. The Government has the clue to this whole bad and base business—the theft of soldiers' letters and the substitution of McClellan for Union ballots; the forgery of soldiers' names; the voting for the overthrow of the Union in the names of those who had laid down their lives to preserve it—all the knaveries that the arts of theft and forgery could supply to make the vote of our brave men in the field seem to be that which it is not! No wonder the conspirators were jubilant! The plot is as ingenious as it is villainous, and had it not been detected in time to-night have worked infinite mischief. But it is discovered in good season, and its discovery is its defeat.

Why Don't He Resign?

McCLELLAN hangs on to his commission as tenaciously as Judge WOODWARD held on to his, last year. That is another point on which his views and those of the Judge agree. The Judge knew he wouldn't be elected, so he held on to the bird in the hand; and McCLELLAN, with a like premonition, holds on to his place in the army with an eagerness that argues but little confidence in his chances for the Presidency.

Keep Your Eyes on the Flag, Boys!"

These were the dying words of the gallant Birney. His last act was to vote the Union ticket; and his last words are a fitting corollary to that act. Let every patriotic man do as Birney did—vote the Union ticket as a most sacred duty—and treasure his dying advice.

"Keep your eyes on the flag, boys!

THE GREAT VILLAINY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26, 1864.—Astounding discoveries have been made by the Government of intended frauds in regard to soldiers votes.

The grounds of the confidence of leading Democrats of being able to carry New York are now understood.

A systematic and wide-spread conspiracy has been brought to light, carried on by agents here, at Baltimore, Harper's Ferry, and in the Army of the Potomac, under the immediate supervision and direction of the party in that State. Several of these agents have been arrested, and are now in jail, and others will be arrested as fast as proof can be collected, and proper provision be made for their trial.

Men now in custody have been actively engaged in this business for weeks, and, as one of the parties involved declares, forged ballots of this kind have been forwarded in dry-goods boxes full to New York and Albany.

Judge Holt, the Judge-Advocate General, has had the papers laid before him, and has prepared a brief report on the subject. He pronounces the crime thus committed to be one of the most serious character, and it will be dealt with as such by the Government.

A Military Commission has already been ordered, and will meet to-morrow morning in Baltimore, under the Presidency of General Doubleday, for the trial of two of the leading actors in this conspiracy, who are known to have been in direct and constant communication with leading members of the party.

The testimony in their cases, which I have seen and read, is full, direct and conclusive. It will leave not the slightest room for doubt that a gigantic conspiracy has been at work for months in maturing and executing a plan for defrauding the soldiers of their votes, and for overwhelming the suffrages of citizens at home, by the forged votes of thousands and tens of thousands of soldiers who have fallen in battle or died in the hospitals, or who have never existed. In some cases sealed envelopes containing "Lincoln" ballots have been opened and "McClellan" ballots have been substituted; but the main reliance of the conspirators has been in the forgery of signatures of pretended soldiers to papers transmitting "McClellan and Seymour" votes.

The court-martial which meets to-morrow for the purpose of trying the parties already arrested, will make short work of the case, and the Government will not hesitate to carry into effect whatever sentence they may pronounce.

Other parties implicated will be sent before them as rapidly as possible; and all the agents in the affair are under the vigilant surveillance of the Government.

You must not be surprised if these disclosure and arrests should touch some persons high in political authority.

Among other things discovered in this city, was the headquarters of a set of gentlemen busily engaged in filling up commissions of agents, signed in blank, and some of the parties involved themselves hold commissions.

Lock and Co-nsider.

A telegram in this morning's paper speaks of rebel refugees and deserters being sent over from Canada and colonized in various parts of the country, in order to vote the McCLELLAN ticket. We are informed that there are some of those gentry now in Allegheny City, where, doubtless, they will attempt to vote. Look out for them. Traitors care nothing for oaths, as our country has found to its cost.

If the Richmond Sentinel is to be credited, Gen. Hood's army must be in a low enough condition of discipline! That paper says:

> "If all who ought to be at the front were there, Sherman would hardly be able to make his escape from Georgia." Desertions indicate discontent; and discontent is a disease more fatal to military bodies than fever, and quite as contagious."

Talking of fever, we notice that the blockade runners have carried one very bad bargain to Charleston from Nassau and other infected ports. The pestilence is said to be upon the increase, especially "around the arsenal." We are sorry to learn that it especially affects the children, who are thus made the victims of parental sins and British cupidity. One is especially reminded by this intelligence of the relief which used to be sent from the North to the fever-stricken cities of the South. Who wonder if bereaved Rebels ever think of it?—of the Northern doctors and nurses who lost their lives in Norfolk not many years ago.—N. Y. Tribune.

What is stated in eastern papers that Congressman Voorhees's election is to be tested on the returns from Sullivan Precinct. It has been ascertained, by taking the affidavits of the Union men who voted, that one half the Union votes were not counted by the Democratic judges. In some other Precincts in the District similar frauds were perpetrated. In some other instances the judges took the ballot boxes home with them at night, overhauled them at their leisure, and returned to the place of voting the next day to count out the votes.

Who will—who can, stay in a party that doesn't cheer when SHERIDAN wins victories?
