The Dittsburgh Geren. MORDAY MORNING Aum: 902, 30, 1864.

Presport Convention. There is to be a grand Union demonstration at Freeport, Armstrong county, to-morrow. Tuesday, Nov. 1. A special train will leave the Allegheny Valley depot at 10 o'clock, tomerrew merging. Pare for the round trip, 50 cents. This will be a pleasant trip, and we hope to see a large turn-out. Freeport is on the borders of Allegheny, Butler, Armstrong and Westmoreland countles, and the tration will, without doubt, be a rousing one. The latch-string is to be out, and the Presport people promise the most enlarged hospitality. A hand of music will accompany the train, and there will be a good time gen erally. Col. Moony, of Ohio, is to be one of the speakers, and other distinguished speakers will be present.

Arrival of Col. Sirwell's Regiment. On Saturday afternoon about one o'clock, the steemer Caroline, from Nashville, arrived at our wharf, having on board the 78th Pennsylvanis Begiment, their term of service having expired. A large growd met the regiment at the wharf. and gave them a warm reception. The regiment was seen formed, and marched to City Hall, where an excellent dinner had been prepar segiment had partaken of the refreshments provided, Mayor Lowry, as Chief Magistrate of the city, tendered them a cordist welcome, and introcked John M. Kirkpatrick, who, in the name of the corporation, welcomed them to their homes.

The rorater stated that the citizens of Pitts-burgh had watched with interest the actions of The speaker stated that the citivens of Pitta-burgh had watched with interest the actions of the 78th, since three years ago they had started it sorfit on our bread river, and bid it God spead. Be also alluded in glowing terms to the regiment rolunicaring to stay six weeks longer than their term of entiatment. The address was an excellent crop, and was recoived with eatherstanic observe.

Col. 7. B. Finley, of Kittanning, was next called upon, who said that the citisans of Armstrong county had appointed a committee, or which he was chaliman, to meet the regiment in this city, and convey them to Kittanning, where they would be greezed with a warm recopilm. A special train on the Allegheny Valley Rail road had been provided, and would leave at fire o'clock.

Gueral Negley was next introduced, and was received by the veterans with the most enthusiastic cheers. The General said that he was proud to meet men with whom he had been associated on the battle field, and particularly with the 76 h regiment, which had fought well in every battle in which it had been engaged. He then alleded to the battle of Stone River, in which the regiment took a prominent part, and bravely maintained its position sgainst a brigade of the casery. nemy, J. Col. Granville Moody, who formerly commanded an Ohio regiment oftschool of General Regiev's division, followed in a brief speech. The speaker stated that while the Union soldiers were fightered by the season of the cantry depends on the carridge box and the bollot box, and with them both we will end the war.

Col. Serwell was then called upon and made a fitting acknowledgement of the recopition which had been tradered his regiment, and proposed three cherer for the haspitable citisens of Pittiturgh, which were given with a will. Three cheers were also given for the fadles composing the Substitute Committee. This regiment was then re-formed; and electrical to the railroad deput by a large crawd of citisans. pot by a large grawd of citizens.

The proceedings throughout were extremely enthousand and reflected great credit upon our patriotiq citizens. Puperal of Col. Coleman

The funeral of Lieut. Col. James H. Coleman of the 102d Pennsylvania regiment, (who was reek, on the 19th, inst , and died shortly afterwards,) took place yesterday afternoon, from the ratidence of Capt. P. E. Hill, River Avenue, Allegheny. Two companies of Veteran Reserves, under command of Capt. Davis, acted as he military escort, preceded by the Great Western bard, and were followed by about one secring Ladges. The hearse, containing the body of the deceased came next, eight officers acting as pall bearors, followed by carriages con-taining friends of the deceased. The procession was size and imposing, and the streets along the route to the Cemetery, were crowded with people, santicus to writness the last sad tribute to a brave and noble afficer.

While the procession was moving along Penn Street, in the vicinity of the canal, an incident occurred which surple to illustrate the indisence which a single act, done must be presented to the root is not abused after it is put on the sides of the street were density covered to the treet were density covered to the man system is to produce a torpor and insowhich a single act, done under pertain droum-stance, acties over the mass or mankind. Both sides of the street were densely crowled in the vicinity of the causa, and, while the hears was passing, all aged, and, while the hears was passing, all aged, and, while the hears was the street age of the cone's country, and that the remains of one who had fallen a markyr to the sacred cause of Liberty were now passing slowly onto their last freshing piace, uncovered his head, and stood reverently gasing at the rollem cleake. In a moment, as though the speciators had been reminded of a nagleoted daily, acorse of heats were litted, and the long line of uncovered heads presented a some as tenching as it was paintotic and appropriate.

Boarding House Thief Arrested. On Saturday evening three young men appeared assinct a man named John Larking, charging him with stealing a quantity of clothing from them. It appears that the parties reside at Mrs. Robinson's boarding house, on Third street, and on Saturday evening, upon g ing to their rooms, discovered that some person, during their so-trence, had entered, and considerably reduced their wardrobes. A fine block go at, several pairs-jof pants, white, shock att, where missing. Hos-pulcion immediately fell upon Lerkins, and a war-rant was issued to his errors. After oursiderable, gesarch he was discovered by officer Messier, in Savage's Euloon, on Liberty street, and taken into consider. A portion of the stoles property Haven's Dation, an Liberty street, and taken into custody. A portion of the stolen propertywas found in his possession. He acknowledged the total and rewriteformation which hed to the alianovery of all the goods stolen. He had a hearing before the Mayor yesterlar, which redwitted in his being committed to juit for trial.
Larkins is a resident of New York, and has been but a few weeks in the city.

says: The intention was to turn the enemy's flank, buthis cavalry was found to extend some distance in that direction, beyond the line of march of the second corps. It was completely matton of the second corps. It was completely cut in two by the sudden appearance of our infantry. One portion, under Wade Hampton, fell back on their infantry, and the other was compelted to beat a hety rotreat in an opposite direction, and make a wide detour around our advancing column to rejoin its main command. Considerable as irmishing surued at the crossing of Harcher's Creek, but no detention was continued the processing of the contractions of the contraction of the contractio direction, and make a wide descur around our advancing column to rejoin its main command. Considerable astrainabing ensured at the crossing of Harcher's Creek, but no detention was occasioned. Hamphon was surprised, and part of his wagon train feil into our hands. Had we arrived twenty minutes earlier we should have had the whole of it as there was no part of the plun to attack any strongly intranched position. The "xpedition partook more of the character or a reconomissance in force by Hancock's corps and the change and extension of the lines of others than of any real movement for the reduction of any particular pit.

During the rain last night we could hear trains on the South Side railroad, whence it is interred the enemy was reinforcing during the night to oppose our further advance. The whole movement summed up in general is a statement after moving out apan the left, and piscing the right where the left originally rested. The samy swung upon the right as a pivot and our corps held the right, and hence its advance has been measured by the progress of other corps.

New York, Oct. 30—The World's Army of the James special of the 29th gives the particulars of Butler's movement conjointly with the movement on the South Side Railroad. The 10th and 18th corps; moved only of their intrench ment, on the night of the 2th and massed behind them on Thurday. The two corps moved simultancously, the 10th corps most to the Darbytoen road, beyond the scene of Kauis' list if ht.
