DAY MORNING....NOV. 4, 1864.

TY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GREAT UNION JUBILEE.

ense Demonstration—Procession ur Miles Long—A Brilliant Illumination—Grand Pyrotechnic Display The City in a Blaze of Light, etc.

e Union men of Allegheny county joined, hursday evening, in celebrating the recent ous victories achieved at the ballot box, he splendid success of our army and navy, grand torchlight procession and pyrotechnic ay, and succeeded in getting up a demonion, which, for extent and magnifi, has never been equaled in this ity. The celebration was gotten nder the auspices of the County Executive mittee, of which Major A. M. Brown is man. The preliminary meeting was held t three weeks since, and the arrangements confided to the following named gentlemen: M. Hersh, James Miller, C. W. Batchelor, Hare, and J. K. Brown. These gentlelabored most industriously to render the nstration worthy of the occasion, and are led to great credit for the able manner in h they discharged their duties. The active of the party went vigorously to work in district of the two cities, and in the neighg boroughs and townships, and were heartily ded in their efforts by their patriotic fellow ns. Delegations were organized in all the icts, and under the direction of Dr. Mc-, as Chief Marshal, the preliminaries of the ession were skilfully arranged, and the d event was looked for with great anxiety e public Thursday evening, November as fixed as the time, and during the day ands of strangers flocked into the city, all awaited with interest the approach of ing.

e various delegations began to assemble, t six o'clock, at the places assigned them e Chief Marshal. Immense crowds of men, n and children assembled to witness the al and formation of the district delegations. een half-past six and seven o'clock the deions from either side of the rivers began to ntrate in this city, and while on the way hailed with cheers, and alluted with the g of flags and displays of fireworks.

Count eight o'clock the head of the procession n to move, and so complete had been the gements that each delegation fell in line at proper time and place.

THE PROCESSION

e Marshal and Aids were mounted, and nated by red, white and blue sashes.

st Ward delegation, headed by Eagle Fire pany, Fancy Hose Carriage, beautifully rated and drawn by eight gray horses, dressed man's uniform. Reel drawn by four horses, decorated with flags, Chinese lanterns, etc. e Steamer, drawn by six horses, and decod with flags, signal lamps, wreaths, etc. lowed the First Ward Delegation, in cles and on foot. There were several ape designs and mammoth transparencies bited here. Among the mottoes was the lowing: "We propose to Fight it Out on This ."

e Union Central Glee Club followed in the e Engine Wagon, with banners. Motto—ll bless our Loyal Women."

ext came a wagon with men employed in rockets, Roman candles, etc.

e Vigilant Fire Company followed, the bers in firemen's uniform, seventy five in bers, and walking four ranks deep. The was drawn by four bay horses, and decorain a tasteful manner. The Steamer was rated by lanterns and flags, and was drawn four gray horses. The Engine Wagon followwas drawn by four mules, and was used for disg fireworks.

e Second ward delegation came next in orheaded by the Duquesne Fire Company. The was drawn by eight handsome horses. The was prettily decorated. The Steamer was n by four black horses, and was handsomely rated. The Steamer was followed by a wadrawn by four horses and filled with solers. Next was a wagon containing a large parency on which was a design representing lician in a circus ring, performing the exordinary feat of riding two horses which were ing in opposite directions. One of the es was labeled "Chicago Platform," and the "Letter of Acceptance." A clown was ding in the ring, exclaiming, "I Can't you on to them both until the 8th of Novem." In large letters above the design were ds "Little Mac's Last Feat of Equita-

Another inscription was "Second Ward for 350 majority." On the other side, on addressing Calhoun, "By the Eternal, Union Must and Shall be Preserved." Then ed a wagon containing a small cannon and orks.

e Third ward delegation followed, headed he Neptune Fire company. The Reel was n by the members in uniform, and the ner by four horses. Both were elegantly Citizens in wagons and on foot. ng the mottos was: "The Third Ward to her duty."

e Fourth Ward delegation came next, preed by the Allegheny Fire company.

e Hose Carriage was elaborately decorated illuminated globes and flags, contained a girl representing the "Goddess of Liberty," as drawn by members in uniform. The was drawn by four white mules. The ner was beautifully ornamented, and drawn ur bay horses. On the air vessel of the e was a large grey eagle, stuffed with extd wings. Next came a Glee Club in a wag, which was followed by citizens in carriages on foot.

e workmen in the Steel Works of Messrs. y, Wells & Co. led off the Fifth Ward Dai. Then came the citizens in vehicles and ot. Among the designs displayed were: inch bowl labeled "Soup." On the reverse, ersted rolling mill, date, "1857." Another in full blast, date, "1864." "Paddlers" in 1857, $3,50 per ton. In 1864, $9 per and demand for mechanics."

e Sixth Ward made a very good turn out, pally on foot, bearing torches. Among the gns we caught the following: "Liberty and ce—Lincoln and Johnson." "No Peace Traitors."

e Seventh, Eighth and Ninth wards made a display, and were largely represented by en bearing torches. In the latter delega- was the motto: "We Reverence the Purity e Ballot Box."

e Draymen, Carters, and Wagoners next ed. Preceding them was a wagon containe little girls, neatly dressed, and singing otic songs. Among the mottos were: "Ho! Mac, the Draymen are Coming." Then ode in two tanks, on splendid horses, and a fine display. They all wore sashes and d torches.

e Lawrenceville delegation followed. A n represented Gen. McClellan making long s for Harrison's landing—ship in the dis- "Ho! for the Gunboat! Ho!" Portrait raham Lincoln.—"The Man our Enemies e." Another device, "The Political Bid- representing McClellan with a pair of very ears. Design—Portrait of Diabolis white- to Little Mac, "Now, Mac, give up your pies and be a great man." On the reverse ath to Traitors and Perjurers." Design le with a Copperhead in its beak; motto, Noble Bird ever Victorious." Motto—ion't want to know the Gunboat General." ody don't remember."

Ft st ward, Allegheny, headed by the Hope pany, made a fine display. The new Hose ge was very tastefully decorated, and was by one horse. The Reel was also drawn e horse, and was used for displaying fire- The Steamer was neatly trimmed with and illuminated globes, and drawn by horses, rode by members dressed in white dark pants, and fireman's hats. A large followed, from which a grand pyrotechnic y was made. Then came the citizens bearrches.

Second ward, Allegheny, was next in The delegation was preceded by a Hose drawn by citizens. The employees in the Wayne railroad shops, in a four horse ll, finely decorated, and containing a locoe headlight. Citizens in open carriages n foot.

General Grant Fire Company preceded the ward, Allegheny, delegation. The Reel tastly ornamented and drawn by one horse. er drawn by four horses, and surmounted large flag. Citizens on foot. Motto: d Ward Good for 500 Majority."

Fourth Ward, Allegheny, was led off by Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, exd and drawn by four horses. The Reel drawn by the members, in uniform, and corated with a canopy of wreaths, underwhich sat a lady, representing the "Goddess of Liberty." Motto: "McClellan's Wounds Played Out." "Death to Traitors." oth Stock Better than Oil Stock." "The Fourth of Washington Still Lives." "The Fourth good for 1,000."

Another delegation next came, in wagons n foot. Motto: "Manchester good for 100." "One Country, One People, One Government are the Demands of the Loyal."

Reserve Township followed—" Hurrah for the Banner Township of Allegheny County—Good for 100 " " All Men are Equal."

Neville Township was well represented, and laid claim to being the 'Banner Township.' The wagon containing the delegation exhibited a humorous design entitled "Little Mac's Last Dance." This was a diminutive chap, in regimentals, suspended over a platform by a string, and at every movement of the wagon his legs shook about in a most comical manner.

The Allegheny Glee Club, in a large wagon, came next in order, and enlivened the procession with numerous songs.

The Butchers made a very grand display. They turned out in full force, mounted on elegant horses, and dressed in white shirts, blue scarfs and red sashes—each bearing a torch.

Ross township, in vehicles. Motto: "Mac's too little for the President's chair." "All Hail Free Maryland. Next comes Missouri."

Birmingham borough came next. The Clinton Iron Works made a fine display. The turn out was not large, as the men are mostly engaged in the rolling mills and glass factories, requiring their attention at night.

East Birmingham was handsomely represented. Among the mottos, we noticed the following: "Singular Phenomenon—Copperheads Blind in November."

The delegations from the south side of the river met in the Diamond square, Birmingham, where a grand display of fireworks was made, for the benefit of the citizens.

The rear of the procession was brought up by large delegations from Robinson, Baldwin, Snowden, Union, Scott, Lower St Clair, and other townships, on horseback.

APPEARANCE OF THE CITIES.

During the afternoon, numerous flags were displayed throughout the two cities, and in the evening many of the principal buildings—stores, offices and private residences—along the route of procession, were handsomely illuminated. In this city, we may specially mention the Monongahela House, the Custom House, Union Headquarters, and Gazette and Commercial Buildings. Numerous stores and private residences made very fine displays.

THE EXTENT OF THE PROCESSION.

The procession occupied over an hour in passing a given point, and was between three and four miles in extent. It would be impossible for us to give anything like a detailed description of the various designs, mottos, transparencies, etc., as the column moved rapidly along, with scarcely a single halt. We have only aimed to give the principal features of the grand occasion.

In Allegheny, the City Hall, Mayor's office and Post-office made an attractive display. The Provost Marshal's office was neatly illuminated, and in the centre window of the third story was a large transparency neatly designed, with the inscription: "Abe and Andy—1776—1864."

The large building of Mr. Kinder Blair, confectioner, corner of Federal street and Stockton avenue, was exceedingly attractive, as were also the establishments of Messrs. Bailiff & Brown, Tate & Co., and others. Time and space would fail us, however, to enter into details under this head.

THE PYROTECHNIC DISPLAY.

The display of fire works was the grandest ever witnessed in this city. All along the route of procession, rockets and Roman candles were constantly shooting up heavenward, which, together with the lights of thousands of torches, kept the streets in a perfect blaze of light. There were fine pyrotechnic displays from the Union Headquarters, the Monongahela House, Custom House, Gazette building, and many other public and private places.

THE RAIN.

While the procession was moving over the Suspension Bridge, to Allegheny, a slight rain began to fall, which gradually increased until it assumed the character of a shower. Though this circumstance interfered somewhat with the comfort of the spectators, the procession moved over the entire route, as published, and dispersed about ten o'clock, soon after which a heavy rain fell, causing all to make hasty steps towards their homes. On the whole, the demonstration was a magnificent success, highly creditable to the Committee of Arrangements, and all who participated therein.

We are happy to state that no serious accidents occurred, and that good order was maintained throughout the evening. We heard of but a single assault having been made upon the procession—and the party making it, a boy named Dean, residing in the Third Ward, was promptly arrested and locked up for a hearing. He was caught in the act of throwing stones, on Grant Street, and would have been roughly handled had it not been for the prompt interference of the police.

Col. J. B. Kiddoo.

MR. EDITOR: I observe the New York Times correspondent states that Col. J. B Kiddoo, of the 2d U. S. C. T. was mortally wounded in the late advance of our forces.

I received a telegraphic dispatch, on Saturday last, direct from an officer, who conveyed the Colonel from the field of battle to the hospital, which states that "Col. Kiddoo is severely, but not dangerously wounded."

I make this statement to relieve the anxiety which the republication of the Times' report may cause to the numerous friends of this brave and useful officer. Very Respectfully,

D. L. EASON.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 3, 1864.

Sudden Death.

Yesterday, Acting Coroner Donaldson was called upon to hold an inquest on the body of John Adams Krill, a resident of West Pittsburgh, who died suddenly on the previous evening. Mr. Krill was employed in a rolling mill, and had been working during the day, and upon returning home in the evening, complained of a pain in the breast and right arm. A short time afterwards he was taken suddenly sick, and died in a few minutes. A physician, who examined the body, was of opinion that his death resulted from disease of the heart, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly. The deceased was forty-six years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

THE DEATH OF THOMAS GOEHEGAN—VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.—The jury empannelled by Acting Coroner Donaldson, to inquire into the circumstances attendant upon the death of Mr. Thomas Goehegan, (which occurred at Brown & Co's rolling mill on Monday,) re-assembled yesterday. A number of workmen employed at the mill were examined, and testified that Mr. Goehegan's death was the result of accident; when a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

ARRIVAL OF COLONEL CLARK'S REGIMENT.—The 193d Pennsylvania Regiment arrived in this city last night about nine o'clock, and met with a cordial reception, as they passed along the streets to the City Hall, where a bountiful repast had been provided for them by the Subsistence Committee. The regiment appeared to be in fine spirits and in excellent condition. It will be mustered out of service in a few days by Capt. Micphead.

GERMAN MASS MEETING.—A meeting of the German citizens will be held in Concert Hall, on Saturday evening, and will be addressed by Hon. Frederick Hassaurek, of Cincinnati. A large audience will doubtless be present to listen to this distinguished speaker.

THE LATEST NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Trial of Col North.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The official statement shows that on the first Monday in October, the resources of the National Banking Association, were over $297,000,00, including about $93,000,00 in loans and discounts, and nearly $45,000,00 in specie and other lawful money. Their profits are stated at $600,000,00.

The trial of Col. Samuel North, the New York State agent, and Levi Copen, and M. Jones commenced to-day, before the United States Military Commission, of which General Doubleday is president, and Colonel Foster, Judge Advocate.

Messrs. R. H. Gillette and J. D. McPherson appear as counsel for the prisoners. The above named prisoners together with Reeves and Schofield, are charged with conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline, and of fraud onwards the New York soldiers, and that they forged the names of soldiers to what purported to be ballots of said soldiers, to be used at the election to be held on Tuesday next. They are also charged with falsely and fraudulently issuing divers and sundry blanks which purported to be signed by officers and soldiers in the military service of the United States, authorising certain parties to cast their votes at the ensuing State and national election, with intent to defraud the true elector of his rights. Mr. Gillette, one of the counsel for the prisoners, pleaded to the jurisdiction of the court, arguing, 1st, That the court has no jurisdiction over the parties; secondly, Over the subject matter; thirdly, That the matter was not within the jurisdiction of the national Government; fourth, That it was a subject over which the national Government had never legislated; and fifth, That there was no law of the Federal Government authorising the jurisdiction of a military court for the trial of any person not in the military service of the United States. He further argued that the Federal tribunals had not in any way or manner authorized the trial of persons by a Federal Court, for crimes committed against the laws of any State or States. If the accused had committed a crime, it was only a violation of a statute of the State of New York, and consequently the tribunals of the United States had no jurisdiction. If an offense had been committed, it was against the laws of New York, and that same law prescribes the penalties and modes of trial and punishment. If an offense was committed in any other State against a law of the State of New York, under the extradition law, the party charged with the crime is liable to be taken to New York. If the parties here charged have not committed a crime against the State of New York, it must appear affirmatively that the crime is one against the statute laws of the United States, as it has been decided that there can be no offense against the United States unless it is specially made so by statute. It is not averred that the prisoners have committed an offense against the statutes of the United States. There are no common law offenses in the United States, and it expressly rules that what are common law offenses in England are not law offenses against the United States. No offense such as these prisoners are charged with has been created by the statute of the United States, and consequently this tribunal has no jurisdiction. The Court then assumed jurisdiction, for no power has been conferred on it to try cases, and a man cannot be arraigned when it is impossible to put your finger on a law designating the crime? What would be the effect if this Court assumed to execute the laws of the State of New York? Would an acquittal or conviction stop the mouth of Empire in New York? Will this or any other tribunal assume to deprive New York of vindicating her own laws? It matters not what the decision may be here, the State of New York demands the off-ender, if there is one, and insists on receiving him. Is it the justice of New York that overpowers these men if they have been guilty. If any other tribunal tries them, what is the measure of punishment for them? In all laws there is a fixed punishment for their violation; but what is to be there punishment here? If there is no limit then there is no boundary beyond which the Court cannot go.

Colonel Foster referred to the case of Vallandigham, and argued largely from the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, upon the application of Mr. Pugh for Vallandigham's release, to show that they recognized the fact in the present case, and that military courts had full powers and jurisdiction. In all these cases the state and condition of the country must be considered. It is charged that the rights of the soldiers have been violated, and as they are in the field and not in a State where there are recognized courts of law, military tribunals are the proper ones to take note of the matter. The District of Columbia is considered the field. The parties charged with crime here are also considered as in the field, and consequently assuming the fact that soldiers in the field had been defrauded, and by parties also in the field, they were amenable to answer to a military court as the only one having any proper jurisdiction. At the conclusion of Colonel Foster's remarks the court adjourned at five o'clock to meet at 10 o morrow morning.

SAILING OF STEAMERS.

Election Proclamation of Mayor Gunther.

FEVER AT NEWBERN SUBSIDING.

Lieut. Cushing and the Albemarle

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Three Ocean steamers sailed to day; the Walanga for Havana, Champion for New Orleans, and the North Star for Aspinwall. The usual care was taken by the authorities to prevent disguised rebels from going on board, and persons of a suspicious nature were not allowed to pass the gangways.

Mayor Gunther to-day issued a proclamation advising citizens not to gather in crowds on the streets or in the vicinity of the polls on the day of election.

G. W. Fabers, formerly consul at Aspinwall, has received the first shipment of a large number of camels, designated for the establishment of a caravan from Missouri river to New Mexico and the gold regions.

The yellow fever at Newbern is reported rapidly subsiding.

There is nothing new from the army of the Potomac. There are several rumors afloat, but they are not traceable to any reliable source.

Gen. Butler arrived in the city this morning on business connected with his brother's estate.

The New York Herald's Hampton Road special says:

Captain Walley assumed command of the Albemarle only three weeks ago, relieving Captain Cook, who commanded her in the month of May last. He mustered his officers and men, and assured them that in three weeks he would assault the enemy and sink and scatter his fleet, retake Newbern, and drive the Yankees from North Carolina soil. It is not impossible that he might have effected much damage, endangered our tenure at Newbern and Roanoke Island, as he was nearly ready for his raid.

The Albermarle is an iron clad vessel, similar in general features to the Merrimac and Tennessee, but much stronger. It is said that the iron clad was three inches thick, backed by several feet of solid timber. She was armed with two 200 pounders, and Brooke rifles, and was perfectly shot proof. Her weakest point proved to be below. She could have been captured only by ramming, and for that purpose, much heavier vessels were needed than any that can be got in the sound. A torpedo was the only means of destroying her.

Lieutenant Cushing is the officer who made the expedition with eight men, to the headquarters of General Hebert's, at Smithville, last March, carrying off Hebert's Adjutant General from under the guns of the garrison. Hebert was absent at Wilmington at the time. In June, with sixteen men, he ascended Cape Fear river, within eight miles of Wilmington, capturing a rebel courier, with important dispatches.

New York Stock and Money Market.

Special Western Associate Press Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The stock market shows no improvement on the decline of yesterday. At the first board the speculative feeling was dull under the pressure to realize upon late purchases. There was a decline throughout the railroad. Miscellaneous and government were rather strong. The gold market was excited and irregular at the opening. The price was weak, 230, and subsequently declined to 226¼. That quotation brought out the bull party in force, and the price before noon had reached 232½, at which it closed. The present high price of gold is being kept up almost entirely by speculation, and cannot be much longer maintained. A heavy decline is anticipated. The loan market is moderately active. Foreign exchange is quoted at seven per cent., and is considerably unsettled by the state of European finances. Large remittances are refused, and extreme caution is used about bills, other than those of the best bankers, producing considerable firmness in bankers' quotations, under the prospect that the shipments yesterday would be quite large.

The balance of surplus of the Mercantile bank, after deducting the $300,000 abstracted by the absconding teller, is $472,000, or forty-seven per cent on the capital stock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The stock market was unsettled at Gallagher's evening board. Gold, 236. New York Central, 123½; Erie, 100¾; Hudson, 121½; Reading, 134¼; Michigan Central, 128; Illinois Central, 115¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 101¾; Toledo, 112; Rock Island, 101; North Western, 42½; Fort Wayne, 84. Pacific Mail, 320.

Stevan's Letter to Gen. Sherman.

Special Dispatch to the New York Tribune.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Richmond Dispatch of the 31st inst., publishes a portion of H. Stevan's letter to General Sherman with a proposition to negotiate. After expressing an anxiety for a termination of the war, and absence of power on the part of the people to negotiate, Mr. Stevens says: "If in General Sherman's opinion there is any prospect of our agreeing upon terms to be submitted to our governments, he would cheerfully and willingly accede to his request, and enter upon the responsible and arduous task of restoring peace and harmony to the country upon principles of honor, right and justice to all parties." This does not seem to me at all impossible if truth and reason should be permitted to have full sway.

From Fortress Monroe—Exchange of Prisoners.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 3.—A steamer with a flag of truce, left this morning for Aiken's Landing for the purpose of completing arrangements for the exchange of prisoners of war, via Savannah, Ga. About 800 soldiers, wounded in Thursday's fight, arrived at Hampton and Portsmouth hospitals. Among them are Lieut. W. Spurgleberg, 19th Wisconsin, and Capt. P. H. Davis, of General Fosters' staff.

The St. Albans Raiders—Application for a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—An application was made before the Judges, yesterday for a writ of habeas corpus for thirteen of the St. Albans raiders. The application was decided as illegal, As the case was not out of the hands of the magistrates, no final commitment had yet been made public. The examination of witnesses in the case begins to-day.

New York Gold Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Gold has been excited and irregular, opening weak at 230, declining to 226½, but subsequently pushed up by the bulls' party to 235. Another decline followed, and the last quotation was 234½. The prevailing opinion, however, is that the present high price is kept up by speculators, which cannot be long maintained.

Contemplated Raid on Ogdensburg, New York.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y.—5 p. m.—A large number of armed men are in places about and below here, and many strangers have been in town all day. A raid on the place is supposed to be imminent; business has been suspended. Every body are arming, and an armed tug has been sent out to reconnoiter. Three men have been arrested for firing in the street. Men and arms have been sent for.

Disappearance of a Bank Teller.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Mr. Chase Windsor, paying teller of a bank of this place, disappeared last Saturday. On examining his cash account he was found to be a defaulter to the amount of $207,000 in currency and $34,000 in gold. A reward of $5000 for his arrest, and $15,000 for the recovery of the money is offered.

Guerrilla Raid.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 3.—The Journal says a gang of Guerrillas made a raid on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, yesterday, striking it at Cave City. Several negro soldiers were captured and killed. The scoundrels, after the perpetration of this outrage, retreated from the road in great haste.

Gen. Butler and Staff.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Maj. Gen. Butler arrived here this morning, accompanied by members of his staff.

A Colonel Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Commercial Advertiser's dispatch from Washington says: Colonel Murphy of the 7th New York Artillery, was arrested and committed to the Old Capitol today.

From New Orleans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The steamer Monterey, from New Orleans the 26th ult., has arrived.
