The Official Home Vote.

...e Harrisburg Telegraph exposes in a few ...s the system by which the manipulators of ... Democracy figure up a majority of 467 on the ... vote. A few days since they claimed not ... than 5,000, but the real figure on the home ... stand as follows:

...th Union Congressmen.....197,392
...e Copperhead Congressmen.....197,001

...nion majority.....391

...order to cipher out a majority for their ...didates, they willfully lie in the returns from ... following counties:

Adams county they claim 411 majority.--...real majority is 355--a lie of 46 votes.

Fulton they claim 200. The official is 288 ...lie of 2 votes.

Clarion they claim 936. The official is 903 ...of 18 votes.

Cambria they claim 1,070. The official is ...--a lie of 37 votes.

Westmoreland they claim 1,476. The official is 1,477--a lie of 1 vote.

York they claim 3,689. The official is 2,808 ...lie of 72 votes.

...veral other manifest mistakes are down in ...tablet, but these are more than sufficient to ...r that the calculation is made for the pur... of cheating Union men out of the best which ...y indorsed them to make. The whole Union ...rality will not be less than 15,000.

...lant Charge of Pennsylvania Soldiers.

...correspondent of the New York Times, in ...ng the details of the recent reconnoissance ...o Army of the Potomac, says:

...peculiar incident occurred during the even... of the 27th, while the army were out in mo... on our old line, resulting in the temporary ...ure of one of the rebel forces in front of Pe...burg, and bringing in the commanding offi... and three other officers. It appears that ... Miles, commanding Barlow's division (the ...t) of the Second Corps, who had been left in ...ge of the line occupied by General Hancock, ...rmined to make a reconnoissance on his front, ...deavor to discover what force the rebels ...e along their line before the city.

...lling for one hundred volunteers from the ...h Pennsylvania volunteers, in Colonel Mal...and's brigade, (the Fourth,) and four ...ers, he ordered an attack to be made from ...picket line on the fort that was blown up last ...

...his attempt was made at dusk, under the ...ership of Captain H. D. Price, 116th Penn...ania Volunteers, Acting Assistant Adju... General of the Fourth Brigade, and Captain ...n, Lieutenants Sprankle, Gibbs, and Ban... of the 148th Pennsylvania, and 100 enlisted ...

...charging rapidly across the open space before ...work, some 200 yards in width, the gallant ...e band succeeded in surprising the garrison, ...e of the party springing over the parapet, ...e others passed round to the right and left ...d entered the works in the rear of the fort. ...y found the 46th Virginia in garrison, and ...ugh the rebels demanded their surrender ...diately refused, and a sharp skirmish was the ...lt.

...he men were all armed with the celebrated ...ailing arm called "seven shooters," and our ...s used their weapons with terrible results.

...apt. Price was instantly killed while in the ...t of entering the fort, and he was the first man ...at his foot inside the work. He was a very ...ant officer, and bore a high name in his com... and for distinguished bravery. He was a son ...he Rev. Mr. Price, Episcopal clergyman at ...hown, Pa., and originally entered the ser... as a private in Company G, 116th Pennsyl...nia volunteers. Subsequently he rose, step ...step, from a Sergeant to a First Lieutenant, ...on the reorganization of the regiment as ...ers he became Captain of Company C. He ...untered to lead the assault in which he so ...y lost his life.

...Success of the Late Reconnoissance.

...special correspondent of the Philadelphia ..., writing from before Petersburg, under date ...the 31st ult., says:

...he late reconnoissance turns out to have been ...more successful than was at first supposed, ...han might be inferred from the modest dis... of General Grant. The General states ...his official account that we took nine hundred ...oners. I learn from good authority that this ...ber has swelled to thirteen hundred. Again, ...General merely claims that we repulsed the ...my; while the Richmond papers, while con...ding that they gained some advantage on ...right, acknowledge that we whipped them ...th. And it is the general opinion that ...ll, we had another hour of day-light, we could ...e captured as large a thousand prisoners ...e, for the woods were filled with rebels, ...kers from Mahone's division.

...Considering the difficult nature of the country, ...the almost insuperable obstacles which the ...gled undergrowth and dense woods present ...military operations—collapsing, by far, in this ...pect, the embarrassment of the Wilderness—...is surprising that so much was accomplished ...easily, and with so very little loss. We did ...know at the time how badly we had beaten ...enemy. In any other field we could have ...en advantage of their confusion, and ...ped what was in itself a decided success into ...t brilliant victory. The rebels, however, ...contest with the natural obstacles in the way ...our advance, had the most advantageous sites ...trenched with earthworks, and every available ...ance of approach to their position was choked ...with "slashings;" in other words, with ...her hewn and suffered to lie as its fall.

General Ransom.

...One of the bravest and noblest of our military ...ders, Brigadier General T. E. G. Ransom, ...manding the 17th Army Corps, in Sherman's ...y, died at Rome, in Georgia, on Saturday ..., of dysentery, from which he had been suf... for some weeks.

...General Ransom was a son of the brave Col. ...nson, of the regular army, who was killed at ...apultepec, Mexico. Ransom entered the war ...Captain in the 11th Illinois regiment. ...e in this regiment to the grade of Colonel, ...d was made Brigadier-General at Gen. Grant's ...uest. He was for some time chief of Grant's ...f, distinguished himself at Donelson and ...iloh, and was very prominent for bravery and ...ill at Vicksburg, especially as a leader of ...rming parties.

...After the capture of Vicksburg he took part ...the short Texas campaign, and next went up ...Red river, commanding a division in the 13th ...y corps. Gen. McClernand falling sick, Ran... took command of the corps. In this cam... he received a very severe wound in the ..., which for a time disabled him. This made ...e fourth time he had been wounded since the ...ening of the war.

...General Ransom stayed for some time with ...nds in New York. When he was able to re... to his duty he was sent to join Sherman, ...Grant; and after General Dodge was wounded ...d disabled, Sherman placed Ransom, as the ...d of the 17th Army Corps, which he com... ...nded to the entire satisfaction of his superior. ...mson was one of the youngest general officers ...the service. He showed himself on all oc...sions a brave, intelligent, and zealous soldier; ...d he had been strongly recommended for ...motion to a Major Generalship for the ability ...displayed in the campaign against Atlanta.

...e Sons of Liberty at Work in Ohio—Probable Murder.

...A special dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette, ...ter date of Columbus, Nov. 3d, says: Another ...rage and a probable murder has been commit... by rebel scoundrels in the 15th Enrollment ...rict. Yesterday a deputy provost marshal of St. Mary's, Auglaize county, accompanied ...two soldiers for the purpose of arresting a de... ...er known to be secreted a few miles from ...t place. Without much trouble the deserter ...s found and secured, and the party was soon ...ke their way back to St. Mary's. When within a ...rt distance of town they were attacked by a ...g of Copperheads armed with guns, rifles and ...olvers. The deputy provost marshal received ...se shots, fired by these rebel cut throats, and ...latest accounts it was thought that he could ...t survive.

...One of the soldiers was shot in the abdomen, ...that there is no hope of his recovery, while ...e other soldier was severely wounded in the ...ulder. The deserter, of course, was carried off ...his friends. Capt. Tyler, provost marshal of ...s district, with a strong force at his command, ...s gone to arrest the insurgents.

Coal Mining Machinery.—It is understood ...at the Coal Trade Committee of Newcastle ...ve it in contemplation to offer a large premium ...the best "coal-cutting machine," to public ...al to be made in order to determine as to the ...rits of the various machines submitted to ...m; £500 has been mentioned as the sum to be ...ered, and also £5,000. The latter sum, we ...lieve, is not likely to be adopted. A meeting ...s held, a few days ago, when this question was ...nsidered, and although no determination was ...de to, it is expected that a decision will shortly ...e arrived at. It is time, indeed, that such a ...p should be taken, as the question appears to ...e ripe, the various machines having arrived at ...ch a state of perfection as to require only some ...shing touches to make them really serviceable, ...ly another step or two being required to com... this class of machinery.—London Mining Journal.

A Richmond newspaper reporter has been ...laced in hands of $40,000 for calling the office ...the mayor of that city a pig-sty.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Pittsburghers on the Stump for the District of Columbia.

A great Union meeting was held at Giesboro', D. C., on Wednesday last, in which several well known Pittsburghers took part. Colonel James A. Ekin, the efficient officer in charge of the first division of the Quartermaster General's office, was called upon to preside. After an appropriate prayer by Rev. A. M. Stewart, chaplain of the post, Colonel Ekin arose, and was received with much applause. After thanking the meeting for the honor which had been conferred upon him in calling him to the chair, Colonel E. remarked that, whilst he had duties to perform as an officer of the Quartermaster's Department, he conceived that he had other and important duties to perform as a citizen in this great crisis. He ignored the idea that official station divested a man of the high prerogatives of American citizenship—the right to say who should rule over the destinies of the country, so far as his voice and vote were concerned. He then referred to the issues in this great contest, as presented by the two platforms framed at Baltimore and Chicago, and dwelt upon the character and antecedents of the present incumbent of the Presidential office, who had been highly eulogized as an honest man and a true patriot. He also alluded to the candidate for the Vice Presidency, who was devoted to few of his country, possessing all the requisite qualifications for the high position for which he had been nominated. He then made an earnest appeal to the friends of the Union to support this truly national ticket.

Col. Ekin was succeeded in powerful and eloquent speeches by Hon. Jasper E. Brady, Rev. A. M. Stewart, Hon. Francis Jordan, Captain L. L. Smith of the 5th army corps, and William A. White, Esq., all of whom were greeted with repeated rounds of applause.

The meeting adjourned with nine rousing cheers for Lincoln and Johnson, and with the resolution to work incessantly until the last vote is polled on the evening of the 8th of November.

The Washington Tragedy—A Card from Sample Sweney.

We have already noticed the arrest of Mr. Sample Sweney, a merchant of Washington, Pa., for aiding and abetting the murder of Hon. Brady. It is alleged that Mr. Sweney gave Fuzz Williams the knife, with which he stabbed Brady. The accused is a highly respectable and worthy citizen, and not only denies all connection with the murder, but expects to be able at the proper time, to prove his innocence. He has published the following card, in order to counteract attempts which have been made to prejudice his case:

The Washington Review of this day has most unfairly attempted to prejudice the public mind in reference to my connection with the unfortunate occurrence of yesterday. Without entering into detail, I will merely say to my fellow citizens, that neither by word or deed, did I in any way encourage the fatal transaction, or furnish a knife or any other weapon to either party.

My interference was with a view to separate those engaged in the conflict, and to prevent personal injury to either of them. This much I deem it due to myself to say, and I ask the suspension of public opinion, thus sought to be perverted, until I have had an opportunity to vindicate myself by a judicial investigation.

The Criminal Court.

But little business of public interest was transacted in this Court to-day. The following sentences were imposed:

Mary Boice, convicted of the larceny of some clothing from Mary Brawdy riot, in Brownstown, was sentenced to five days' imprisonment in the county jail. The defendant has been in jail ever since her arrest, about two months since—hence the light sentence imposed.

Hiram Ray, convicted of fornication and bastardy, on oath of Eliza Webster, was sentenced to pay $70 to the mother, and the further sum of one dollar and fifty cents per week, for the support of the child, for the period of five years.

Coal Oil in Ohio.

Prof. L. D. Williams, of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pennsylvania, is engaged at present in investigating the geological evidences of the existence of coal oil in Southern Ohio. It is his opinion, we understand, that it will be found as abundant as in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and that the coal oil region extends into Southern Indiana, forming a district of which Cincinnati is nearly the geological centre. The scientific deductions of Prof. Williams are the more valuable that he has made the practical confirmation of coal oil lands a specialty, living, as he does, within sight of the celebrated Oil Creek and its famous wells.

An Excellent Lady Departed.—Mrs. Phœbe Brown, wife of James E. Brown, Esq., of Kittanning, died in Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning last, whither she had gone for medical treatment for cancer. Mrs. Brown was, for nearly half a century, an ornament and a blessing to the society of Kittanning, and many a loving and grateful heart will cherish her memory fondly. C.

The restoring influence of Osgood's India Cholagogue upon constitutions impaired and injured by a residence in bilious climates, is one of its most valuable qualities. There are many constitutions that become gradually undermined by miasmal causes, without even a day's actual confinement. In such cases, the Cholagogue acts like a charm—the sallow complexion, loss of appetite, languor, weariness and depression of spirits, with other unpleasant symptoms which render life a burden,—all yield to this remedy if only faithfully used according to the directions of the pamphlet which accompanies each bottle. Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers.

Special Notice.—The attention of our readers is directed to the brilliant assortment of Fall and Winter Goods just received by our friend Mr. John Weier, No. 126 Federal street, Allegheny. ## THE FRAUDULENT SOLDIERS' VOTE.

Report of the New York Commissioners.

TRIAL OF THE PRISONERS POSTPONED.

Testimony of Lieut. Col. Murphy.

New York, Nov. 5.—Messrs. Amasa J. Parker and Wm. Kelly, the Commissioners appointed by Governor Seymour to visit Washington and investigate the charges of fraud against the State Agents for receiving the soldiers' votes, have made their report. They had interviews with the Secretary of War, and obtained from him permission to visit in person Col. North and Messrs. Colm and Jones, the arrested persons who were subjected to improper treatment and great deprivation. They say that they could obtain no copies of the charges against the accused, and have found no evidence that frauds were committed by them. They state, also, that soldiers desirous of voting the Democratic ticket met with great difficulties in their efforts to do so.

The Commissioners requested of the Secretary of War that either Colonel North and Messrs. Colm and Jones should be given up for trial to the State authorities, or that proceedings in their cases should be postponed till after the presidential election, and that they be released on parole, neither of which being complied with, a communication was addressed to President Lincoln by them, stating their entire care, and their labors being completed, they left Washington. It will be seen that one of the desires of the Commissioners—the postponement of the trial till after election—has been complied with, by the adjournment of the court to the 14th inst.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Lieut. Colonel Murphy, of the 4th New York Heavy Artillery, whose arrest has been noticed, was before the Court, to-day, and testified that a large number of soldiers' affidavits and powers of attorney, purporting to have been sworn to by him, and bearing his name, were forgeries. He makes the 7th officer whose name has been forged in Colonel North's office.

THE DESIGNED RAID ON BUFFALO.

Particulars by a Canadian.

FRAUDS IN SOLDIERS' VOTES.

Buffalo, Nov. 5.—A letter received in this city from Findley, a Canadian, dated Drummondville, near Niagara, gives the particulars of the designed raid on Buffalo, which only failed, he says, through the promptitude of our authorities. Two Confederate officers, named Meek and Denzie, had charge of the affair, and all the arrangements were completed. They had one hundred men in Buffalo, who had been there for a week previous, and were scattered about the city in different boarding places. At a signal these men, by means of Greek-fire, would fire the city in various places and then proceed to commit murder and pillage.

Though the plan failed, it is not abandoned, and they swear they will yet destroy Buffalo.

Captain Ottenall, of the 17th New York regiment, was arrested here and sent to Washington day before yesterday, as being implicated in the soldiers' voting fraud.

The Express, this morning, editorially states that frauds in soldiers' votes have been discovered in this city.

Rebel News.

New York, Nov. 5.—Late rebel newspapers contain but little concerning war movements. Some of them appear to have caught our present northern political contagion. The Richmond Whig is disgusted with the despotism existing here, but congratulates us on what it designates President Lincoln's mode of conducting elections.

The Richmond Enquirer instructed by the lesson given by Sheridan to Early at Cedar Creek, descants on the demoralization of the rebel army and urges the necessity of its re-organization, especially of the cavalry branch.

Vessels which recently arrived at a Southern blockade port, it is said brought ammunition, freight, 450,000 pounds of English bacon for the rebel troops.

Hy. Boswell, a member of a Union (Tennessee) regiment, charged with having deserted from the 4th Alabama, (rebel regiment) was shot near Richmond last Monday.

Rebel Dispatches from Louisiana.

New York, Nov. 5.—The steamer McClellan, from New Orleans on the 28th ult., has arrived. Mobile papers of the 19th and 22d report that a messenger has just arrived from Shreveport, La., with the most important dispatches ever brought from that quarter. They assert that the news is of the most encouraging nature; that Shelby was near the Arkansas line, capturing forts, and destroying Steele's reinforcements and supplies. Magruder, in Arkansas, is operating in a most vigorous manner, and swears that he and Steele can't live long in the same State.

Enough Men for the War.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Times' Washington special says: Mr. Whiting Solicitor of the War Department, says that on the first of October we had received, under the last call, over 120,000 volunteers; that we have been informed by authority, to which he gave the highest credit, that the last draft, when completed, would furnish all the men that would be needed for the war.

Soldiers' Deaths—Home on Furloughs.

Fortress, Monroe, Nov. 4.—The following deaths are reported to have occurred at the Hampton Hospitals: John M. Kelly, 89th Ill., S. Chatam, 17th Ky.

Several hundred convalescent and disabled soldiers left here to-day for home on furloughs.

Destructive Fire.

Buffalo, Nov. 5.—A fire broke out this forenoon, at No. 157 Washington street, corner of Goy, and a building occupied by James Pratt as a warehouse was entirely consumed. There was about $5,000 worth of drugs stored in the building. The entire loss will reach nearly $75,000.

Gale on the Hudson River.

New York, Nov. 6.—A strong gale prevailed on the Hudson river yesterday, the tide being higher than ever before at this season of the year. At Cruges station a portion of the Hudson river track, a few yards in length, has been washed away.

Precautions Against Raiders.

Oswego, Nov. 5.—Precautionary measures are being taken by the civil and military authorities, against any attempt that may be made by raiders.

For the Canadian Frontier.

New York, Nov. 5.—Major General Peck left here this morning for the Canadian frontier.

Camels for the Plains.

The camels mentioned in Tuesday's Evening Post as having been shipped at Southampton for this city have arrived, and been taken by their owners, Messrs. Fabens, to his residence in Fort Lee, New Jersey. They are from the east of Bokhara, in the Great Desert, and were brought by Mr. Fabens across the Atlas mountains to Algiers, where they embarked for Marseilles.

They are said to have supported their own transportation remarkably well, and to be in as fine condition now as when taken from their native desert. It is Mr. Fabens' intention to import a large number of these animals next season for service on the Plains, and to establish by their aid an armed caravan line between the Missouri river and the gold bearing regions of Colorado. He predicts that after this is done we shall hear no more of Indian depredations on the Plains.

Mr. Fabens is already known as an enthusiastic advocate of this enterprise, and as early as 1861, wrote and published a work on the subject of the introduction of the camel into the new world, entitled "The Camel Hunt."—N. Y. Post.

A Fanciful Wedding.—A wedding took place at Sherwood, Illinois, recently, that was equestrian as well as strong minded, the contracting parties being Josiah W. Crandall and Helen B. Hurst. The ceremony was performed in front of the officiating clergyman's residence, the bridal party being on horseback, and the bride and her three bridesmaids, (Miss Fanny C. Hurst, Julia Shellenburg and Miss Mary M. Taurber,) dressed and mounted en cavalier.

The novelty of the ceremony attracted a large company of the neighbors. After the ceremony was over, the bridal party rode to the residence of Mr. Crandall's mother, where the formal wedding feast took place. The bride and bridesmaids wore their suits during the whole day.

A number of the citizens of New York, desirous of enhancing the Thanksgiving comforts of soldiers before Petersburg and Richmond, have started a movement to send one thousand barrels of apples to the front. The government has agreed to provide free transportation for the fruit. This is a most commendable enterprise, and should be followed by similar movements in other parts of the country.

An actress is one of the largest theatres of Paris is about to bring an action against a minor actress, for imitating both her gestures and voice.

A Son of the Rebel Prince at Niagara Falls.—The Niagara Falls Gazette, of Wednesday, says: "A son of Price, the rebel General, who has caused so much trouble in Missouri, was here on Saturday. Making a too free display of his pistol in a dispute with a hackdriver, he was invited to visit Justice Sam ways. Justice S. informed Mr. Price during the interview that it had not yet become a fashion in this quarter to settle such little disputes by flourishing pistols, and bade him to appear Monday for examination. In the meantime Price settled the matter with the hackman and left for New York Sunday evening. Price claims to be a loyal citizen, who left his home on account of dangers from bush whackers in his section of the State."

The Duke of Newcastle, recently deceased, was the nobleman who had in charge the Prince of Wales during his travels in this country. He will be remembered by all who saw the Prince and his companion, as the plainly dressed, aged, die-a-god gentleman, with a massive round head and keen eye, whose severe expression of countenance was not modified by his heavy, close-clipped, sandy beard. He rode on the right of the Prince, in the open carriage in which they passed through the principal streets of this city, and his face will be re-called by thousands of our citizens.

Visit of French Naval Officers.—A great deal of gunpowder was burned at the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Wednesday, on the occasion of a visit of two French Admirals, Rosand and Bosse, to Admiral Paulding, on board the receiving ship North Carolina. The visitors were received with great cordiality, and shown all around the navy yard. They also went on board the iron clad Dictator. On returning the French were honored with a parting salute, which they promptly returned as soon as they regained their own vessel at anchor in the Hudson river.

A remarkable story comes from Viteolo, Italy, about the late Cardinal Bedini. It appears that his body lay in state in a church there, enclosed in a triple coffin, when suddenly an explosion was heard as if from his coffin, and the corpse was forcibly ejected, the bier and the lighted candles around it were overturned. The people in the church fled in dismay. The police attributed the affair to the explosion of a bomb which had been placed under the coffin, and immediately arrested several citizens suspected of liberalism.

Belmont Backs Down.—Belmont, the agent of the Rothschilds, and purser for the McClellan party, has declined to take a bet of one thousand against two thousand dollars upon the success of his candidate. A writer in the Times offered to bet him two to one on the election of President Lincoln, and Belmont replies through the Times with a bet that if the President is re-elected, the war will be prolonged; and that if McClellan is elected, the Union will be restored within the term of his office. "O, most lame and impotent conclusion!"

Rev. Dr. Chickering has received a present of $10,000 from his parish at Portland, Me., upon his retirement from the ministry.

Women as Telegraphers.—It is said that upwards of nine hundred women are going out to India to be employed on various telegraphic lines of communication.
