What the Election Settled.

The Friends of Mr. LINCOLN have the satisfaction of knowing that during the late contest not a single principle at issue was shirked by them. They laid down their principles plainly and frankly at Baltimore, and adhered to them firmly throughout the fight. They stood manfully by the policy of the entire abolition of Slavery by constitutional amendment; by the Emancipation proclamation; by the confiscation act; by the enrollment law; by war taxes, and by every other incidental measure deemed necessary by the Administration for the entire suppression of the Rebellion. They met all these issues, on the stump and in the press, firmly and pluckily. How every vote given for Mr. LINCOLN was given understandingly. The people knew how and what they were voting for; and the overwhelming majority for the Administration is a complete, effective, thorough endorsement of it. The re election of Mr. LINCOLN means an approval of his measures—nothing less and nothing more.

On the other hand, the votes given to McCLELLAN mean nothing—at least nothing decisive. He was supported both as a War candidate and and a Peace candidate; by some voted for because he was, as they fancied, an eminent warrior, and by others because he was, as they thought, the bitter enemy of the war. The Platform on which he was nominated was intended to catch the votes of the ultra Peace men, and his letter of acceptance to catch those who had still a lingering love for the Union, and a desire to see the rebellion put down.

His friends and supporters wore two faces, and at no place or at any time did they make a square, stand-up fight on a well defined issue. They angled for votes with any and all kinds of bait, and the votes cast for McCLELLAN mean anything or nothing, as his supporters may chance to believe.

The Impressible Negro

The late election had no sooner settled the negro question on our side of Mason & Dixon's line, or, rather, on our side of the Potomac, and settled it on the side of justice and right, than that ubiquitous and irrepressible bugaboo pops up as a disturbing element on the other side.

The question of arming the slaves has set the Rebeldom by the ears. One party, with JEFF. DAVIS at their head, favors the measure—some cautiously, and with many reservations, others boldly. The controversy has grown very hot in the halls of the Confederate Congress, in the press, and among the people. The other day, it is said, two members of Congress came to fisticuffs about it in view of the Richmond hotels. The propositition is to call out some two or three hundred thousand able bodied slaves, and make soldiers of them, giving them, in consideration for faithful service, their freedom, the right to remain in the State, and fifty acres of land.

The strongest argument urged by the opponents of the measure is, that it yields the only ground upon which the system of slavery can be justified and defended. For many years it has been strenuously contended, by the statesmen and divines in the South (and by many in the North too) that slavery was positively appointed condition of the black man; that he was happier and better in that condition than he would be in a state of freedom. But now it is proposed to confer freedom upon him as a boon, and reward, as something better than his former condition. They argue that it is unimpeachable logic that this measure, if adopted, will convict every manager, son of them, of treason, D. D.'s and all, of blasphemy and hypocrisy in all their former teachings and practices on this subject. Why even the think heads of the Yankee could not prevent so plain an inference as this from penetrating, and filling their minds with contempt and loathing. No wonder it startles the more astute logicians among them, and puzzles them out in fiery opposition. To keep their "niggers" is bad enough; but to stand self-convicted before all creation of having long contended for years for what they knew to be false, is more than they can bear. Moreover, they see plainly that that which they proffer as a BOON, is reward for military service, one set of negroes, the others may and will claim as a God-given right, one of those inalienable rights mentioned in the Declaration of Independence." They see plainly, that if this thing is done, slavery must be abandoned as not only indefensible but impracticable.

Still we think it probable that the Rebel authorities, rendered desperate by the election of LINCOLN, will overrule all opposition, and at least attempt to call the negroes into the service. This seems to be the tenor of the latest news from Richmond. They know that slavery is gone in any event, and so intense is the hatred of the leaders of the rebellion towards the Yankees, that, rather than yield to them, they would consent to undo the work of the revolution and return to their colonial dependence upon Great Britain, or to become a French province, or even make their negroes the master race. This is no exaggerated view of the desperate bitterness of the leaders. But the time has come for the more sober-minded men of the South to assert their power, and they will do it. They will accept emancipation, make terms with their laboring population, as the late slaveholders of Maryland are doing, and so peaceably return to the Union. So the South will be subjugated, as the phase goes; so the rebellion will be crushed, and so the States of the South will occupy precisely the position in the Union that Maryland now occupies. Just as soon as they repudiate their bad and traitorous leaders, who got them into this scrape, they will be all right again.

The revolution in progress is wonderful. In 1861 an abolitionist durst hardly show his face in Maryland, and loyal soldiers were shot down in the streets of Baltimore. In 1864, that State, by the votes of her own people, abolished slavery. In 1861 ABRAHAM LINCOLN was obliged to disguise himself to avoid assassination in Baltimore. In 1864 that city gave him a majority of 12,000 votes. What has been done in Maryland will be repeated in every slave State, just as soon as the cause of the rebellion is removed.

THOMAS F. WILSON, Esq., the American Consul at Bahia, who was driven away by the Rebel sympathising populace, on account of the capture of the Florida by the Washington, is from this city, and is well known to many of our citizens. He has able and zealously defended American interests in that place, and by his energy in resisting the aid given by the Governor of Bahia to Rebel cruisers, has incurred the ill will of those interested there in Rebel ventures. Mr. Wilson is now in Washington, and will probably soon return to this city.

A QUERY TO CAESAR.—Every schoolboy reader of history is familiar with Caesar's celebrated dispatch after encountering the Gauls—"Veni, vidi, vici"—I came, I saw, I conquered." Rivaling this brevity is the account of one of our "loyal" Africans who was in the Pelvington affair. Said he: "We 'Al'am, and woopi 'em, and kotch 'em up'am."

[From the New York Evening post.]

Maryland Free.

Maryland! Maryland! beautiful Maryland!
Lifting to light to the sun and the sea!
Oh, at from thy mountain sides!
Sing where each river glides!
Thunder with ocean's tides!
MARYLAND'S FREE!

Maryland! Maryland! beautiful Maryland!
Pride God for Maryland! Maryland's free!

Maryland! Maryland! oft-chastened Maryland!
Long has oppression's wing dark over thee!
Now every fetter breaks!
Now a new life awakes!
Shout till the welkin shakes!
MARYLAND'S FREE!

Maryland! Maryland! sorely-tried Maryland!
Bless God for Maryland! Maryland's free!

Maryland! Maryland! conquering Maryland!
Mast are the patriots thy glory that sep!
Sing, for thy foemen dead!
Recreant from 's blow red!
Thou art too Canaan led!
MARYLAND'S FREE!

Maryland! Maryland! hail, happy Maryland!
Thank God for Maryland! Maryland's free!

Maryland! Maryland! glorified Maryland!
Sanctified! sealed with the blood of the free!
Now is thy streets no more,
Fettled Baltimore,
New England's blood shall pour!
BALTIMORE'S FREE!

Baltimore! Baltimore! Thank God redeemed Baltimore!
Praise God for Baltimore! Baltimore's free!

Maryland! Maryland! penitent Maryland!
First from pollution and peril to flee!
First rifts of them that slept!
Where thy dark children wept
Freedom's bright robe hath swept!
MARYLAND'S FREE!

Weep for joy, Maryland! shout for joy, Maryland!
Bless God for Maryland! Maryland's free!

Maryland! Maryland! not alone Mary'and!
Sounds for thy ransom the sweet jubilee!
Millions that h ar of it,
Awed by its fear of it!
Filled by the dread of it!
ROSE SHALL BE FREE!

All the great Southern land, down to fair Mexic' strand
Knows to the Jubilee heard, soon shall be free!

NEW HAVEN, CONN., November 1, 1864.

The Rebels Despondent Over the Re-election of Lincoln—A Fight at the Spottswood House.

The Norfolk (Va) Old Dominion of Friday publishes the following letter, dated at Fortress Monroe, November 10:

You will always have observed that when the enemy show signs of weakness manifested through the treachery of their deserters, it is a sure precursor of something being in the wind. The news of Lincoln's re election was received by the rebels yesterday, and it caused a depression of feeling I was told this morning by over eight hundred deserters came over in a body. This begins took place on the extreme right of the rebel position. They were marched up to the office of the Provost Marshal General and related the same tale of sadness and woe that hangs over the doomedcity of Richmond.

It seems that a number of these deserters were fresh from Richmond, not having been absent from there over twenty hours. Despite all the predictions of the northern press, the assertions of which had been canvassed most thoroughly, the rebel authorities believed the triumph of McClellan a sure thing. The houses of Congress so believed and now they find their fallacy. Added to the hopelessness of their cause which is now rendered doubly sure, the houses of Congress are divided on the question of the employment of negro soldiers in the army.

"Many quarrels have already privately arisen, and many more are likely to arise. The Spottswood House was the scene of a fight on Sunday last, between a member from Georgia and one from Virginia, in the presence of astonishing numbers. Beyond this time actual threats to cut each other's throats were not indulged in. The incident of Colonel Forney's visit to Richmond, and the number of intelligent officers who took the oath of allegiance, evinced them as the Yankees term it, a perfect panic. The notice of the wounded in the battles of the 7th of October, in which Lee's army lost 2,700 in killed and wounded in the battles of September 29 and 30, 2,900. This is reliable, for that numbers are reported officially. His killed and wounded include 1,500 at Fisher's Knob; 100 at Jefferson City, 250 at Boonsville, and 1,000 in other battles and engagements down to the last on the Marias des Cygnes.

The Union loss in killed and wounded is estimated at eight hundred and fifty. About three hundred prisoners were taken, but the enemy not being able to hold them, placed them under parole.

Curtis took up the pursuit after Pleasanton desisted, but the result of his operations must be left until it is more definitely understood, and more facts regarding it are produced."

NEVADA.—The new State of Nevada elects a Union Governor, and gives Lincoln 3,000 majority. Thomas Fitch, Union, has been elected to Congress. The Legislature is largely Union, sending two United States Senators, one for two and one for four years.

The following dispatch has been received from Virginia City:

"We claim the flag for the greatest Union majority in proportion to population. The silver State of Nevada has not one candidate elected on the copperhead ticket throughout.

CHAS. L. PEIRCE,
Corresponding Secretary Union State Com."

CALIFORNIA.—Lincoln's majority in California is over 20,000. In San Francisco 21,000 votes were polled, of which Mr. Lincoln received 18,000. Returns from twenty-four counties give him 18 266 majority. Great rejoicing exists everywhere at his election. D. C. McKeen, William Higby and James Bidwell, all Unionists, are elected.

AN OLD CUSTOM REVIVED IN BOSTON.—Rev. Dr. Stone, of Park Street Church, was visited at his residence at Hillside, Roxbury, by a large number of his parishioners on Wednesday evening. They were accompanied by several teams loaded with furniture, and a most liberal supply of housekeeping articles of every utility.—Boston Post.

SUPERNATURAL CHRISTIANITY.—The Salem (Massachusetts) Observer says that on Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Palmer, of the Tabernacle Church, in that city, was assaulted by an Irishman three times while on his way home from meeting, but he knocked the fellow down each time, and at last secured him by the aid of two other gentlemen.

OREGON.—Lincoln has carried Oregon by from 1,500 to 2,000 majority at least. The State election, it will be remembered, was held in June, simultaneously with the Baltimore Convention.

DIRECTORS:

JOHN GRAFF, J. R. MCCUNE,
WM. MCKEE, P. FAWCETT, (Phila.)
H. H. WENDT, Capt. JAS. GORDON,
Capt. J. P. SMITH.
Capt. J. P SMITH, Superintendent.

This Company owns the property known as the "Mingo Coal Works," together with the "Keenan Farm," adjoining, and containing in all about 310 acres. The property is situated on the west bank of the Monongahela river, about one and a half miles below Monongahela City, in the "Mingo" portion which was situated at mingoes' dwelling houses, store houses, shops &c., together with a railway running to the river with ample abutment and all necessary arrangement for loading coal.

The mines are already opened, drained and ventilated and in good working order, with entries driven, and rooms turned, and all necessary facilities for working eighty to one hundred tons, and the coal is well known to be of the very best quality. The "Mingo" is believed to be one of the most valuable coal properties in the Monongahela Valley.

The Company now proposes to increase their facilities for mining by the construction of an additional railway, and have set apart $30,000 in cash for the purpose of making contemplated improvements and providing a working capital for the new organization.

With facilities which the Company will possess, the Directors confidently believe that the "Mingo" will prove to be one of the most substantial and remunerative stocks in the country.

ALWAYS SAFE! ALWAYS EFFECTUAL!—Fever and Ague is speedily and thoroughly cured by OSGOOD'S FIND A CHOLAGOGUEN. The sallow complexion and jaundiced eye which often precede the attack are also by it made to disappear. The health of the sufferer is then restored by this medicine when all other remedies have failed. Its operation is not simply to suspend the disease for a time, but to remove it cause, by purifying the blood and invigorating the whole system.

Sold by all druggists and medicine dealers.
