tally wounded by Sorgeant John Cooley, of the Provost Goard. The circumstances of the af-fair, so far as we have been enabled to gathe them, are these: Farley had served three years in the army and New Your, Dec. 11.—The steamship Canada. arrived at Haitfax, from Liverpool on the 26th and Queenstown on the 27th. Her news is seven had returned to this city a two days ago. On Saturday he had re-cullisted as a substitute for a drafted man, and before being forwarded to duly ad asked permission to visit some places in the city. Sergeant Cooley, as Sorgeant of the Guard, had anthority to give him permission to visit his friends, but it is stated that, in order to relieve himself in a measure of this responsibility, he had consulted Lient. Graham, who was acting as Post. Commandant, in place of Capt. Batis, who is ab-cent on a bridal tour. He obtained permission of sent on a bridal tome. He obtained permission of Lientenant. Graham, and volunteered to accompany Farley himself—the time being limited to me hour. The two then started of together, but what particular, places they visited we have not heard. They were seen together, arm in arm, on St. Chir street, nearly opposite Elliott's shift, store, when a difficulty occurred between them, during which Sergeant Cooley draw his revolver and shot Earley, the ball penetrating the abdomen.

The wounded man was conveyed into Elliott's shirt, store, where Dr. Gallagher was called, who, after examining his wound, promounced it morial. The ball had cutered the abdoment below the treats bone, and taken a downward course.

after examining his wound, promounced it mortal. The ball had entered the abdoment below the breast hone, and taken a downward course, severing the bowels in its progress. The fergrait came into the store where the wounded man luy, and was detained there until the artival of Alderman Bonalson, to whom he surval defaterman Bonalson, to whom he surval defaterman Bonalson, to whom he surval defaterman bonalson, to whom he surval derend himself. He was subsequently conveyed to the Mayor's office, and locked up.

The wounded man was conveyed to the Girard Hotse, where he was kept until nearly noon on Studay, when he, was removed to the Unitel States vicacerd Hospital in the Ninth Wird. He lingered until about three o'clock in the afternoon, when he expired.

Betreant Coolev alleges that when he get down on St. Clair sired; Farfey wanted to go over to Allegheny, where he has formerly boarded.

Cooley objected to this, alleging that his stars was nearly up, and that it was his duty to return with him to the Girard House. Farley then offered him twenty dofters if he would let him gy, when the affect charged him with an attempt to brite him. Farley then struck him oneo or twice, and whs endeavoring to p-scape, when he drew his pistol and fised. This is the substance of Cooley's statement.

It is alleged, that Cooley was under the inflience of Impor when the shooting took place; but this friends state that he was nor addicted to dirinking, and that his singuant conducts after the shooting was the result of excitement. He has an abrasion of the skin over the left temple, as if a blow had been inflicted there by a man's last, and his statement in reference to Farley's attack upon kin is no don't true.

an abrasion of the skin over the left temple, as it a blow had been inflicted there by a man's that and his statement in reference to Farley's attack a hlow had been inflicted there by a man's list; and his statement in reference to Farley's attack upon him is no doubt true.

It is stated that, before permission was given Farley to leave, he was asked whether he had any money about him; the intention being to get him to leave it with Lieur. Graham, so as to secure his return, and remove any ladacement, to descrit. He rejurd that he had no money about him, having given it all to a friend. After the was brought back wounded, money was found as creted in his boots.

A statement has been made out and forwarded to the War Department, and Sergeant Cooley will be tried by our tractial. There is no question as to his lawing been in the discharge of his duty when the difficulty occurred, buttle, he was intextented at the time it will be difficult for him to prove that the shooting was justifiable. There are those who assert positively that he was drunk, while he and his triends deny this charge. He is now in juil attailing the action of the authorities.
