Commissioner Lewis announces a decision of the Department in reference to oil leases and the stamp duty, which will interest many of our

The law makes the 'rent or rental value' the est which determines the amount of the stamp luty, and of course when the rent is fixed at a pecified sum in money the stamp duty is easily as well as to pay a certain rate per gallon or barrel for the oil produced, or deliver a certain portion of the oil instead of cash paymonts, and in others the reat is to be a certain portion of the oil or its value in money—the machinery in the first case to become the property of the lessor at the end of the term."

"In such cases the annual rent-or rental value can only be determined by estimation. If the lesso is of new and untried lands, there is, of course, a possibility that it may turn out to be worthless so far as the production of oil is concarmody but it would not be safe to assume that it would always, or, perhaps, ever be so. If the lease has evected valuable machinery upon the premises, or made valuable improvements which upon the termination or surronder of the lease, became the property of the lessor, it is evident that he has received a portion of the rent or compensation for the use of his landagreed upon, although no oil is produced.

"The rental value, then, cannot be accurately determined, and of course the stamp duty cannot be accurately accurately accurately although the determined and of course the stamp duty cannot be accurately accura of course involves the calculations of the annual rental value.

"If the land has been worked before the lease is made, or if the original leasee in stude case in made, or if the original leasee in stude case underiets or assigns his lease, or a portion or undivided interest in it, the Collector will, in such case have some reliable data to a tart upon; but in all cases he should estimate from the best information he can get, the probable average rental value; and of course, is doing this, he will have regard to his own knowledge of the premises, the information derived from the parties and others, and the stipulations of the lease—and if the rent is payable in oil, the average market value of the oil is an element in the calculation; and in cases where he is in doubt, he will, of course, receive such instructions as may be dealred from this office.

"Buch leases, whether of oil, coal or mineral lands, sie held to be subject to stamp duty as leases, and a stamp as an agreement or contract is of course humilicient.

"There are instances of farms in the country and the quantity as well as value of the severamydratis must become elements in the calcula tion, and yet no difficulty seems to have arisen in such cases. The calculation in the case of a coalor off lease may be more complicated, but the principle is the same.

The Draft-Address by Major Dodge. Major Dodge, Acting Assistant Provost Mar shal General, has issued the following address to the people of Pennsylvania, in reference to the approaching draft. The suggestions are important, and every man should assist in filling portant, and every man should assist in filling the quotas in the manner mentioned:

"The President has called for 300,000 (roops, to be raised by volunteering or draft. The 15th of February, 1665, has been fixed upon as the day of draft. If your quotas are not filled by volunteers by that time the deficiency will most certainly be made up by draft. Ward and Township Committees are carnesily invited to commence work at once. The longer you delay the more difficult will be your task. The stiention of these Committees is also invited to the more difficult will be your task. The stiention of these Committees is also invited to the necessity and propriety of delivering up to the District Provost Marshals all delinguants from former drafts. It is impossible for the United States anthorities to find these axin, secreted as they are by their friends and by persons hostile to the Government. Committees, the United States, State and county officers, and all good citizens are requested to arrest these men, and deliver them to the Provost Marshals. Every man so arrested and put into service by the Board of Enrelment counts one towards dilling your quota. Information, by letter or otherwise, furnished to District Provost Marshals so of the where-abouts of these delinquents will be thankfully received and promptly acide upon. Provost Marshals will cause lists of delinquents from all former drafts to be made and distributed, to the could the red that all so disposed may understandingly assist in foreing these delinquents (exert yourselves to put in volunteers, and the necessity of a draft will be avoided! Our armies and neces are veryperhere victorious. The dawn of pace is, at hand. One powerful blow now given, will be fastal to the Robellion. Let us all; in our several capacities, and as far as in us lies, unit to make that blow effective and final." e quotas in the manner mentioned:

Return of an Escaped Prisoner Pennsylvania regiment (Roundheads), arrived at his father's residence, in Elizabeth township, on Thursday last, much to the surprise of his parents and the neighbors. Mr. Allen was captured, with others of his regiment, at the spring-ing of the "mine" in front of Petersburg last summer, and taken to Danville, N. C. The rebela had detailed the most able-bodied prisoners to chop timber for their fortifications, which the Tankee boys did not reliak very well, and con-cluded to make a "strike" for liberty. One morning, as they were going out to the timber, they overpowered the guard and escaped. Alles rays about one limited made the attempt, becamed tell how many succeeded. Nincothe came in with him, via Knoxville. Maj. Leasu was among the number who made the attempout has not been heard from since. but has not been heard from since.

Prisexvation.—Among the many quiet and unostentalious expressions of regard which characterized the Christmas holiday, was the presentation of a beautiful gold chain to Mr. John Routh, the gentlemany conductor of the Wall's Station Accommodation Train. The chain is a very fine one, with seat and coatly ornaments, and was donated by a number of the regular patrons of the train, as an evidence of their regard and esteem for Mr. Routh. The presentation was made by Frank Van Gorder, Esq., and tine speeches, although brief, were pointed and appropriate. There is no more careful, competent or accommodating conductor than Mr. Routh, and the gritons of the train know and appreciate or accommodating conductor than Mr. Routle and the patrons of the train know and appreciate his worth.
