e on Christma, under the title of "The proaching Solemnity," which shows features of this feast in connection h the services of the Roman Catholic urch, not generally known. It is rerded as one of the greatest festivals of the ole year, and it is the only one in which. ording to the present discipline of the ureb, each priest is permitted to celebrate we Masses first, as a plous author ob ITCR, to give thanks to the adorable Trinity o cooperated in the Incarnation of the deemer, and second, to celebrate the three 1 is of Jesus Christ. His eternal birth in osom-of His Eternal Father; His tem-1 birth in the womb of the Blessed in Mary, His Mother, and His spiritual that in the hearts of the Christian by the heration of Divine Grace. Formerly the rat blass was celebrated at midnight, the and at daybreak, and the third at days t: hours which have also a mystical ning, suggested by the feast listif. For the world sat in darkness at the birth of rist, so the first Mass is said at that part the night when the darkness is greatest, d as light was about to dawn on the Genis by the coming of the Redeemer; the und Mass is offered at the time when the ight of day begins to be perceptible, and ce Christ is the light which dispels the atkness of sin and ignorance, and enlightacth every man that cometh in the world : he third Mass is said at that hour when the old is emerging from darkness, is ilminated by the first rays of the rising sun avoid the inconveniences and unseason ences of the hour for the first Mass, the arches are not opened now until five lock. The writer then groups together interesting particulars connected with n of the Saviour, and brings Incarnatio t prominently the doctrine of the Roman tholic Church, on what is styled the "In culate Conception," which has provoked much controversy among theologians in onote the first and last of er sex in whom maternal duly and immac late purity are so miraculously blended; er, who, by an unparalleled privilege, has come a mother without ceasing to be a
