DAILY REVIEW OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS. Rice in New York. MEDICAL ohe Zittsburgh Gazette FOR SALE--FOR REAT. BARKETS.

BATTEDAY, JAX. 7, 134.

It must be admitted that the first week of the new year has not been characterized by any puriticular activity in business. There are, however, some good and sufficient reasons for the present apparent spathy in commercial circles, and among others we might notice the suspension of navigagation, which restricts receipts; the inelement weather, which restricts needings; the inelement weather, which restricts outdoor operations; the fact that our merchants, generally, are engaged in setting uptheir business of the past yeaf. The general, markets, therefore, are quiet and somewhat depressed, and while the transactions are almost entirely of, a local and unimportant character, there has been no change is values worthy of chan.S. If the war is prolonged, while if we have peace, a great fail will surely occur. Undersuch a state of facis, the only safe way is to contine all purchases to immediate wants. Those who buy on speculation now are taking immense risks. Some believe that peace will advance prices, as the whole South will be in the market for every description of merchandise. This may possibly be the case for a few days or works. But when all Europe shall deluge the country with their products, which will be under the prices. All who buy merchandise saw will want to sell them, and the result will be disactrous. The consumption of goods will be great during the present year, whether we have peace pr war; but no man, however wise he may be, can fell us that it is safe to engage in any kind of apeculation.
