PUBLISHED by THE CAZETTE PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION. TUESDAY JANUARY 24, 1805.

This vastly extended secret organization is causing no little trouble and alarmamone our neighbors of Canada. Its prime object is thought to be the dissolution of the union between Great Britain and Ireland. Its Irishmen, and embraces probably millions in Ireland, Canada and the United Stetes. A convention of the order is now in session in Cincinnati, or was a few days ago; but what they have been doing has not trans-

Its object is political, not religious. We believe that some of the priests of the Catholic church favor it, while we know that others oppose and denounce it. A tremendous excitement was occasioned at Skih. bereen, in Ireland, recently by the burning in effigy of the parish priest of that Catho liè community, because he had denounced the order from the pulpit. The clergyman who was the object of this outrage was Rev. D. Collins, parish priest of Rath The Cork Examiner states that "during the famine, he assisted to rescue hundreds from starvation. In the streets of Cork he begged from door to door for the perishing people of Bkibbereen; in the lobby of the House of Commons, he implored money on their behalf; in the cabinets of Ministers of State he supplicated for assistance in impassioned accents; in the boardroom, in the press, he fought the battle for those poor creatures, who were then helpless as children " It is but a few weeks since a priest in Jersey City was assaulted in the streets for a similar cause. We may infer from these and other similar occurrences, that a new power is rising in the bosom of the Cathoic church which the church cannot control-a power rife with the spirit of mis chief, but which has in it, so far as we can discover, no element of good. To effect their object—the dismemberment of Ire-Britsitt and the United States in war by every means in their power. Their organs in this country profess loyalty to the Union; but in Canada they and the rebels are manilly working in concert to breed trouble between the two governments. This thing is winething akin to what is called Red Relicanism on the continent of Europe—a spirit of discontent and violence, arising from a feeling that something is wrong, but in the content and violence, arising from a feeling that something is wrong, but the foot graph of the content of what that something is. The Cettic Irish for example, ard since that their condition is not what it entire that the members of the Georgia Legislation is not in the interest of the condition is not in the rebellion to the interest opinion of that people that this means by which to bring that State spirit which prevailed among our slaveholding population prior to this rebellion to. ing population prior to this rebellion to wards our own government, and the bitter hostility which has ever filled the mass of the Celtic mind of Ireland towards the Bri ish, government. In the latter case it has similiarity of religious creed; and although this Fenian organization is not religious in itself, it is, so far as we can perceive, confined almost exclusively to Catholics, as Red Republicanism on the continent is found only in Catholic countries. It is simply a disturbing element out of which agitation, and possibly war, may spring, but which has in it nothing that promises to promote either the freedom or happiness of the race. It may bring Ireland into trouble; but we think there is too much good sense in the American people to suffer themselves to be drawn into a quarrel by such an organization as this. Many thoupast two years, solemnly sworn allegiance to the Queen of Great Britain before our bearing their part in our greatenational struggle, and no men have done that thing more eagerly and impudently than these Irish Celts. Now, if they fancy a quarrel with the royal lady under whose skirts they are not ashamed to crawl, when the count try which, for years, has given them shell ter. protection and employment, needs their services, let them fight it out themselves; but let us not suffer burselves to be drawn into it. Some Celtic Irishmen have Tought bravely for the country of their adop tion; but the number of these bears no pro pertion to those who invoked the protection

On Friday night everything was put in readiness for an advance from the position near Beaufort. By means of a pentoon bridge, constructed by the Engineer corps, the troops-crossed at Port Royal ferry, and proceeded cautiously yet resolutely in the direction of the ruilroad. In this movement the Seventeenth Corps, Gen. Blair, formed the left, and Gen. Hatch's troops the right. Gen. Howard, it will be remembered, commands the right wing of Sherman's army Gen. The enemy threw out, at three or four different places, heavy lines of skirmishers, who, however, retired in haste, after discharging a few rounds from their pieces.

Here, it is sus-pected, they will make a temporary stand, and then fall back on Charleston. They will be handsomely entertained should they prolong their stay at either place beyond a very short while. The appearance of our naval ships on foreign stations will eatiefly broken the "backbone of the rebellion," of which there was so much talk in the early part of the war, and that we can now attend to pur interests abroad. The American navy always commanded respect in Europe, but its deed in the present rebellion will add to the estimation, is which it has been held. Its amazing development during the progress of a great rebellion one of the wonders of our country and of the Republic. The address contains the Sentiments of two millions of Welshmen in their native tue of their early education, as well as their historical associations. Yours, obediently,

To Abraham Lincoln, President of the Uni- | TOR RENT, ted States of America:
RESPECTED SIR: In conveying to you our congratulations on your re-election to the important dignity of Chief Magistrate ica, we do so with the ut ity, and of heartfelt emotion in witnessin your success.
The solemn and deliberate verdict given

The solemn and deliberate verdict given by the people of America in this great crisis, is to us the most convincing proof that your conduct during your tenure of office has met with their hearty approval, and that the measures enacted by your government have been wholly in accordance with their wishes. This unmistakable record of their free and unbiased opinion we consider to be pregnant with the most important results, and a lesson worthy of consideration in the other nations of the civilized world.

With a frightful and desolating civil war raging in every direction; with party spirit aging in every direction; with party spiri ampant in all its worst moods, with house rampant in all its worst moods, with house-holds rent in twain, father against son, and brother against brother, yet have the people pronounced their judgment without shrink-ing from future consequences, and by the efficient agency of the ballet box, as Pro-fessor Smith has stated: "The national de-cision has been pronounced with majestic calmess, under circumstances the most verilous and exciting."

cision has been pronounced with majestic calmness, under circumstances the most perilous and exciting."

The friends of freedom may well take heart, and rejoice that popular representative Government can pass through so flory an ordeal, and come out of it stronger and more purified for future action.

As Welshmen, we feel proud that so many of our countrymen, who have made America the land of their adoption, have responded so voluntarily to the call made upon them, and that they have fought and died so nobly in defence of what we deem the great principles of freedom.

We regard your triumphant re-election as the death blow to the festering blot of slavery, so long mixed up with, and so deadly in its influence upon your institutions, and we look forward with sanguine hope, that but a short time will elapse ere this constant weapon of attack in the hands of your onemics will be completely destroyed.

mics will be completely destroyed.

We carnestly hope that Providence will vouchsafe to you yet many years of life, and that when the battle shall have been and that when the battle shall have been won, when strife shall have ceased, and peace reign in the land, you will be able to look back upon the mighty struggle of the part with the consclentious feeling of having done your duty, and of having been the humble instrument in the accomplishment of the great work of freeing the slave, so that hereafter he may stand before his Maker as A MAN and A BROTHER Signed on behalf of the meeting.

Signed on behalf of the meeting, John W. James, Chairman. PROSPECTUS.

The substribers to this, propose to form a Company under the Mining and Manufacturing Laws of Pennsylvania, with a capital of $200,000, in $240,000 share of $10 each, fer the purpose of buying Oil at the Wells, transporting to Pittaburgh, re-ient. The only property proposed to be bought by the lemnany for its use, is that known as Kirk's Oll Cempany for its use, is that known as Rifk's Yard, and Columbia Oil Works which is situate on the Bank of the Allegheny Rifer in the o skirts of the Cily of Pitisburgh, and consists about five acres of ground, fronting on the riv with the Allegheny Valley and Citizens' Passen Railroad running through it. when the access of contact and the conting on the river, with the Alegheny Nulley, incoming on the river, with the Alegheny Nulley, incoming on the river, with the Alegheny Nulley, incoming on the river, with the serected on the property a large two story Warehouse, a thee story Engine House, Pump House and Paint Shop, still House and Office; also, a Taige Platform with Railroad running to river, used for transferring Oil in barrels from Boats to Cara, also a Railroad Siding from whence Oil can be shipped to any point East or West. The State of West. The State of West and Forward in the necessary Epps, Pump, filted up with all the necessary Epps, Pump, Tanks an. Machinery for doing a large Storing and Forward ing business. The arrangements are such in this cepartment that all the Oil coming down the friver, for shipment East or West, would be transferred from the river to the care through it, if the railroad would furnish enough transportation. This, it is expected, will soo be done; at paying business in that line.

The Reining Department is capable of refining 150 barrels per week; is new and a good order, and is account truet de that it could be increased to 1,000 barrels per week; is new and a good order, and is a constructed that it could be increased to 1,000 barrels per week; is new and a good order, and it is own the substituted that it could be increased to 1,000 barrels per week by adding the Stills and Receiving Tanks only, the Agitators, Engines, Pumps, Pipes and Buildings being siready sufficient for that quantify. It is proposed by itsil Usampany to Increase from rooms each, which can readily be reated for storing crude and refined oil.

There is also on the premises a number of Tanks

There is also on the premises a number of Tankr
There is also on the premises a number of Tankr There is also on the premises a number of Tarks belonging to sarious parties, which pay a ground rent to the owner of the property of $850 per anoum, besides compensations for pumping Oil to and from the same at good paying rates.

The advantages of Pittaburgh as a refining point are well known to all in the trade, the most important of which is that Oil can be bought from the behalfed to the terminal of the Bailroad to a sixty of the points, and for less than it can be haulted from the veils to many of the refineries, ev. a round Oil City, while in the matter of fuels, chemicals, and a market, it has no superfor. But this properly has peculiar advantages over many of the Refineries even in the vicinity of Pittaburgh. The till, whether in bulk or barrels, its taken from the boats to the Works by machinery, and when refined is rolled out of the warehouse on it when refined is rolled out of the warehouse on it wenerchanged.

ir. David Kirk in fee simple together with all his storage and forwarding business, ground rents, ac., for $6,000, and take the full amount in Steck of the Company, and if desired, personally superintend its affairs, and as he has been connected with the Oll trade from its commencers in, and throughly acquainted with its all its details, it is felt that his experience together with his personal interests as a large Stockholder, aided and controlled by a Baard of Directors, that the success of the Company Stochholder, and the success of the Company Stochholder, and the success of the Company Stochholder, and the controlled by the Stochholder, and the stochholder it is stochholder.

neer its location, income from rents and large amount of real entate, is believed to be the chaps at refiner, or its capacity in the world. This will leave a working cash capital of $120, XO, which will enable it to hold a large amount of Oli ready to sell when the price suits or hold when lecitable.

co., wasca wall enable it to hold a large answint of Oil ready to sell when the price suits or hold when desirable.

As an evidence of the profitableness of the business and the dividends this Oompaty may be expected to pay, we may mention that this Oompany will require 1,500 barrels crude Oil per week; the time the Wells to Pittburgh, is so hear than 40,00 per barrel. As this rate the Company on this branch would clear $1,200 per week; the usual profit on refining is $2 per barrel; this on 800 barrels would be $1,000, or a total of $2,000 per week. Say however, for safety, that this Oompany clears but half these profits, and runs but him emonths in the year, it would yet pay a dividend of 37 per cent. per annum on its bapital Stock, or $2% per cent. amonth from the running profits alone—thus paying exaal to the best flowing Well Companies without noming worth eas all giving out, or the Liand being the same of the Company will enable it to hold 4,000 or 5,600 barrels Reined Oil ready to sell when the price suits, and that no season since the business legan but it has rises $10 or even $20 per barrel. Thus in addition to the running profit there would be every chance of making at least as much more from the increased; pice of Oil. So that it will be seen that there is every reason to expect this Company, to pay a dividend of at least to be re sait, per pays, to pay a dividend of at least to be re sait, per pays, to pay a dividend of at least to be result, per pays, to pay a dividend of at least to be result, per pays, to pay a dividend of at least to be result.

Annum.

The advantage this Company offers over all other Oil Companies forming is that all the Stockholders go in an acqual basis; that it is to engage in a regular and wolf understood business which can be manaque with the certa mty of a Bank or lasu ance Co pany, and that the property is worth the price to be paid for it, and likely to inc case in value, instead of deprediate, and the particular advantage over all other Refuling Com. anies in operating the price of the case in the basis of the case in the case in
