PROM YESTERDAT'S EVENING GARRITA.) runken Sprce—Money Lost--Alleged Larceny. On Monday, a drover named Colvin, halling nu Lancaster, and putting up at the Red Lion Hetel, St. Clair street, proposed to take a car-riage ride to the East Liberty stock yards, for the rpose of examining some stock. He took with im a friend named George Eschelman, hailing om the same place, and engaged in the same ess, and a lodger at the hotel named Henry C. Story. The rarly made frequent stops on the way out, and on reaching the yards were not in the here condition to judge of the quality of stock.

The longer they remained at East Liberty the drunker they got, and before idaying cold in succeeded in seeling a horse to Eschelman for the sum of $100. Eschelman desiring a promise analities of the granting mailties of the granting of the stock of the granting of the granting Exchelman desiring to test the ramining qualities of the "ag, got on to take aride, where Colvin and Story got in the carriage and drove to the city, leaving Eschelman to take case of himself. When Eschelman reached the hotel, he found Colvin in the barroom, and at once dramanded to know whether he had taken his watch and nearly. Colvin replied that he had not, when Eschelman stated that he had not, when Eschelman stated that he had not, when Eschelman stated that he had been robled of his gold watch, and his pocket book containing about $300. Colvin them sugarted Story, (who was at this time in his room) and went up to see him about the matter. Story came down, and, after hearing Eschelman's statement, denied that he had taken either the moneyor the watch. An excitement was created in the hotel, and the proprietor informed Story that he had better leave, as both he and his room-mate, a young man named J. Weaver, then left, and took lodgings at the Mansion House. This morning, when the men had come to their short year and made an information against Story and Weaver, charging them with picking Eschelman's pockets. They were arrested at the Mansion House, but nothing was found upon them, and as neither Colvin nor schelman had any evidence beyond mere anapticion, the parties were discharged. The whole case was completely "mixed up," and she only joint about which no doubt existed was, that the jurited were "beautifully drunk."

Arrested for Larceny. Joseph Fisher, accused of the largedy of a coat from Mr. McClure, clerk at Ilill & Co.'e planing fall, in the Ninth Ward, was arrested on Monby afternoon, in an outhouse, by officer Messner. Ar. McClure, on missing his properly, started out to visit a pawnbroker's store in the Fifth Ward, and on the way down he met Stephen Ba-Ward, and on the way down he met Stephen Baker, who was likewise searching for a stolen cost.
Air. McClure found his coat in the possession of the pawnbroker, and learned that it had been sold by the defendant; or the sum of seven doitars. Officer Messner was then put upon his track, and succeeded in arresting him in the rear of a tavern in the Fifth Ward, where he had secreted himself. He acknowledged the theft, and also admitted that he had stolen Mr. Baker's coat. He stated that he had sold it while drunk, and could not remember whom he had sold it to. He had in his possession a pocket handkerchef belonging to Baker, which is an cridence of his guilt. He was committed to jail for trial.

Charged with Rebbing the Malls." Testerday, a boy named Wm. Marshall, living in the vicinity of Rural Valley, Armstrong county, was surveted on a charge of stealing letters from the mail. It appears that the accased was employed as mail carrier between Rural Valley and Bernard's Postolice. On several different poccasions letters were lost between the two paths, and all efforts made to detect the third were unsuccessful. The case was then entitled the consumer of the loop. The latest robbery occurred last week, and the boy was seen throwing the envelopes over into a field between the two offices. He was arrested in Kittanning on Monday, a warrant having been issued by U. S. Commissioner Sprunl upon the information made by G. A. Gourley, Fostmaster at Rural Valley. The accured, who is quite a youth, will probably be brought to this city to-day. LAVENDER FLOWERS Testerday, a boy named Wm. Marshall, living MEZEREON BARK.
