In the light of present facts, a review o their course towards the United States Government during the past four years must be anything but consoling to them We have no doubt the Tories, in their bitter hatred to Republican institutions, would willingly declare war against us, if by so they could save their Rebel friends from "subjugation ;" but as every fresh mall from America carries to them stronge and stronger evidences that the Robellion is rapidly collapsing, we fancy they will be compelled to restrain their yenoni and bottle up their wrath. In a few weeks they will find the Rebellion past praying for. Lord DENNY and his aristocratic friends may fret and fume over the "subjugation" they dread, but they are powerless to prevent it to England throughout the Northern States.

The Rebei Loan. Sumner was induced to offer his reso lution declaring that the United States will in no event, became responsible for the rebel loan (which passed the Senate yester day;) by representations made to him by some eminent patriotic citizens of this cour some eminent patriotic cilizens of this coun-try, now residing in Europe, to the effect that the schelloan was kept up in England and France by assertions in financial cir-cles, that at the close of the war and the resteration of the Union, the Government of the United States would assume it and pay. it, Mr. Summer's informants are of the optimion-that if the leading bankers of Lon-don and Paris were convinced that the Uni-ted States would not assume the robel debt, it-would depreciate to almost nothing very speedily.

Consternation at Natsau Over the Capture of Fort Fisher.

Contextuation at the test of the capital solution of fort Khaler. [Extract from a Letter from Nassau, dated Janu-ary, 234, 1333] "The Owl returned on the morning of the 20th, having on the night of Sunday, the 16th, communicated with Fort Caswell, they were informed Fort Fisher had been captured, and they at Fort Caswell were to surrender the next day. Several other steamers were about to lave here when the Owl returned. Upon the receipt of the in-formation by the Owl business was nearly suppended, and thay known the Islands were to sink in twenty four hours there could hardly have been greater consternacould hardly have been greater constrant fion. The blockade runners and their aid ers feel that their doom is scaled."
