The Zittsburgh Gazette, "ob, the Flag is Afloat over Sumter at LCBITSHED BA THE CARRYTE PUBLISHING ASSOCIATION

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1868. PAYING OFF THE NATIONAL DEBT It is too soon, yet, to decide upon how the antional debt is to be paid; thut it will do no harm to talk about it. A propositi was started some time since, that it should be paid off by a subscription of $10,000 each by 200,000 persons. The Philadel-phia North American seconds the mevement, but suggests that the subscription should not be limited to $10,000, but that any sum, however large, or however small be received for the patriotic object. We agree with the Worth American. If the nations debt is to be paid off in the way suggested let every man have a chance to contribute Mr. THOMAS ALIEN, of Mass., writes to the N. Y. Journal of Commerce as follows "For one, I should be willing to pay the $10,000 if I could thus end the heavy taxation to which I am otherwise to be subjected on account of this war for the rest of my life. And it is clearly the interest of all those persons, firms or corporations now paying Federal taxes exceeding the interest annually on $10,000, to de likewise. There are many persons whose interest it would be, for the same reason, the pay twice, tarice, or even ten times that amount, and in the case of the weatthlest, it would be cheap if they could commute for half a million." There are many persons whose interest it, would be, for the same reason, to pay wise, thrice, or even ten times that amount, and in the case of the wealthlest, it would be chesp if they could commute for half a million."

Beyeral years ago it was proposed that individuals in this State should be allowed to capitalise their State taxes—that is, to pay late the State treasury such sums as would redeem their share of the State debt and so forever five from debt the property held by them at the time of such payment. Thus if the amount of State tax upon the farm of A. B. was $00, by paying in $1,000 to the State treasury, he could release that farm forever from any State tax to pay the interest on the State debt.

The exports from New Yerk to the ports of Mexico have been for some time on a vastly-increased scale—greater than to any other country except. Great Britain—and embedding which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry and ingonity of merchandiae which gives compleyment to the mechanical industry sensible. If it is at all practicable to adapt the same idea to the National debt, the point made by Mr. ALLEN is a good one. It does not seem to us practicable, just now, the United States taxes being levied mainly on incomes and such personal property as is constantly changing hands. It seems im possible to fix upon any fair system of commutation; but, as Mr. ALLEN says, it would be a great relief to very many tax-payers if they could pay off their share of the principal of the National debt at once.

SHERMAN. The fact that the rebels are concentrating their forces for an attack on SHERMAN, and the further fact that Lun has gone to take command, have caused some anxiety lest SHREMAN may find himself confronted by superior force. The Army and Navy Journal, however, seems to think that a de fatal or final. A battle must be a bloody one to LEE, whether it be decisive against SHERMAN or not; and every battle he fights caves him less and less able to cope with leaves him less and less able to cope with the Union forces pitted against him. The Army and Newy Journal says:

Concontrated between our columns with forces probably equal to the stronger, Leewood occupy much the position of Negovien in this relebrated compaigs of 1814. In that, interposing between the columns of the Allies advancing upon Paris, striking powerful blows which his genius alone could conceive; he snatched victory from almost overy encounter—from Champ-Aubert, Chateau Thiorry, and Montmiral to bort, Chateau Thiorry, and Montairal to Neges and Montercau. But he was 'doon ed to fall' before the combinations of the' enemy, their superiority in fumbers, the impossibility of his obtaining reinforceimpossibility of his shtaining reinforcements to supply the drain of hattle, and the want of that levy of 60,000 men, which he had hoped his victories would enable him to rally to a standard thear to France, for the victories that it symbolized and the glory that haloed round it. Men for his samles it was no longer in his power to sebtain; for France, was tired of slaughter, and saw at last the unbolives of the cause she had fought for, stripped as it was of the false brilliancy it once possessed. With such obstacles, the magnificent combinations and the brilliant genins of Napoleon were useless.

such obstacles, the magnificent combinations and the brilliant genius of Napoleon were useless.

This war has shown that armies of 60, 600 min, though frequently defeated, caunot be destroyed in a single battle. An titlem, Chancellorsylle, Chickamang, Cettysburgh, all illustrate this fact. The material of which our armies on both siles is composed, their long experience of war, the great advantages which the defensive six own poses as moder a desirabe victory over either Grast or Sharman, under any circumstances, whatever, impossible for Lee. But an underedux one would be a defeat. A battle prolonged for many days with either of these commanders would absolutely incapacitate. Lee from confronting the other. How can he replace troops loss in the states. He has no territory from which to draw grops strams, except that which has already been exhauted by the most violent combats of this war. He cannot arm and drill his negroes in time; and time is everything; for Sherman never halts while anything is to be achieved.

Whether, therefore, Lee, recalling Hoke, Beaurogard, and, if possible, Hardee, by rail to Richmond, endeavors to overwhelm Grant that he may afterwards fall upon Sherman; or, leaving a small garrison and the hopeless mud to oppose Grant, concentrates on the borders of North Carolins to attack Sherman before Schofield joins him; whether in either of these cases he meets with a temporary success or with the defeat which a just confidence in our soldiers.

whether in either of these cases he meets with a temporary success or with the defeats which a just confidence in our soldiers, in Grant's tenacity and Sherman's genius causes us to anticipate, the ultimate siddees of the combinations of the present campaign can, without the development of new resources our test of the South; which meither they nor we appear to anticipate, can be no longer a matter of reasonrble doubt.

TPNNESSEE. The loyal men of Tennessee voted on the 22d on the amendments to the Constitution of that State abolishing slavery and otherwise adapting that instrument to the changed condition of the people. The vote in favor of ratifying the smendments was mearly unanimous, and will reach 20,000 throughout the State. Davidson county,in which Nashville is situated, gives over-1,400 votes for ratification, and the other counties voted about the same way. Ten-

ANOTHER REHEL RETURNED.—The Nashville (Tenn.) Union says that John Overten, Sr., a wealthy and well known residers of that vicinity, returned from the South recently after following the fortunes of the rebellion four years past. He is now seeking to save his vast property (amounting before the war to several millions) from confiscation by taking the ammenty oath. His property, rather than any disposition to feturning loyalty, however, was probably what brought him back. was probably what brought him back. FRUIT PROSPECTS.—We are glad to know REGIST THOSE CES.—We are giad to know that, in this city, and west along the road to Rocky river, the peach and cherry buds aro in good condition. These being our delicate—they are the pulse by which we know the condition of all the fruits. When they are all right, other fruits are safe.

We are told that, at Painesville, peaches and cherries were killed by the late heavy frosts.—Uless. Herald.

PORT SUMTER

Oh, the flag is afloat over Sumter at leat—Hursh!
From his nest the red sorpent of treaton is east—Hursh!
How strong, oh, ye breeze, blow strad, and bold.
Till we see our dear flag, without winkle or fold,
Float shross o'er the heights of the robel stronghold! Hurrah, hurrah and hurrah!

Tis the fort where our Anderson stood at this guns, Hurrah! Where the South learned to blush for her traitor-ous some Our some—

Hurrah!
The skies fushed afar with the fiames of affray,
And orings with ahance wore the waves of tho bay,
Eve the banner came down that is foating to day!
Hurrah, hurrah sale harrah!
Is shall foat till the rampart of Sumter door—
And still float forevor, hurrah!

Oh, we made the air mad with the rushing of balls, Hurrah!
With the shricking of shells and the scassing of walls-

Hurah!

Embraure and casement and parapet shone, Fike furnaces hot, where our ficebrands were thrown:
It was this way our fine was restored to its own—
Hurah, hurah and harah!
It shall float till the last king is dead on his throne,
And still float forever, hurah! Then resound ye glad guns over billow and strand Hurrah i Let the select of rejeicing be loud in the land—
Hurrah.
Let the select of rejeicing be loud in the land—
Hurrah!
For Washingrow's spirit rejoices on high.
O'er Sumter the fing of his love to derry:
It shall don't till the bed of the cocan is dry—
Hurrah! Surrah and hurrah!
R shall don't lill the last trumpel sounds in the city,
And then-first in glory, hurrah t

400. This sudden demand for these articles from Mexico has one of two causes, perhaps both. They are designed to be sont across the border to the robels in the Trans-Mississippi Department or they are to fill the Mexican warehouses, preparatory to the disruption of peaceful relations with the United States. Which is the leading motive in the matter, a vory short time will probably determine. THE FEUD IN THE FRENCH REFORMED CHURCH.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News, writes: "The contest between the Conservative and Liberal Protestan the Conservative and Liberal Protestants has terminated by a measuring cast majority in favor of the formerr but with this serious drawback, for them that their leader, Mr. Guizot, is at the bottom of the poll of the six members of the Presbytery elected, and his election, for want of an absolute majority, is not definite. Mr. Guizot pelled 1,282 votes, while Mr. Barbezat, who stands first on the Liberal list, had 1,306. There being what is called balotage, a second electon is necessary, and in all probability Mr. Guizot will be thrown out. It seems that the Protestants living in Paris proper are in favor of Mr. Athanase Conquerel and the Exberals, but the Conservative majority was smade up by the inhabitants of the suburbs."

OHAPLAIS French, who has the spiritual charge of the contrabands at Hilton Head, is inaugurating a vigorous system of matrimony among the dusky denisens of that place. If a man and woman are living together he compels them to marry, whether they have been joined in the "bands" before or not. And as the luxury don't cost anything, the darkies are rather pleased than otherwise. It is asserted that a photographer who has been employed by the Datch Government to take views of the most beautiful point on the island of Java, has discovered the ruins of an entire city buried beneath the lava of a roleane close by, which has been extinct for several centuries.

THE Richmond Whig states that William Gil-CHARLESTON fell inte our hands on the 18 inat.; just four years to a day from the time Joff. Davis was inaugurated "Provisional President of the Southern Confederacy."

PATROLEUK—Our readers will have noticed are acvertisement of the New York and Liverpool Petroleum Company in our columns. Daniel S. Dickinson is the President, and he is associated with gentlemen of experience is the business. A careful study of the prospectus will reveal the advantages of the investment. The discovery of Petroleum is so recent, and the necessary demand so large and increasing, that this Company may be said to proceed upon a perusinent basis. Their prospectus speaks frankly and fairly, and the man of Mr. Dickinson, who has here, we believe, for the first time associated his name with any corporate enterprise should satisfy the inquirershat if is not a mere appearance of Mr. Office of the Company, and income continuous and the company, and income continuous profits. Patrolkum.—The New York and Liverpool Patroleum Company, whose advertisement appear elsewhere, offers unrivalled guarantees of the land good management in the fact that it is largely-owned and conducted by real men of oldenot mere speculators in corporations. Mr. Asgrid one of its trustees, belengs to the Titurville firm elmewr, watsan, & Ce., whose wealth counts buillions, Mr. Myers, another, is an extensive well-propriety and els-halper; and others of them so to speak, "live and move and have their being" in oi. Such features shew that a company is real and meant for permanence.
