Ream. Desertina.—It has been noticed that whenever the rebel armies have abandoned any Southern State, we have invariably had from the troops of the State, wherever they were stationed, a tide of deserting. One came of the depletion of Hood's army, on its retrief from Mashville, was in the desertion of thousands of the Tennesse soldiers, who declared they would never again fight, who declared they would never again fight out of Tennessee; and there have been very many other illustrations of the same phenomenon in the course of the war. The latest development of the kind has occurred alnce Sherman's army passed trimphantly across the State of South Carolina. The contesting over into our lines in large numbers.

On metion of Goorge R. Riddle, the rules were suspended to take up other business, whereupon the same gentleman offered preamble and resolutions, against any further extension of the Water Works, and instructing our generatives in the Legislature to have the "acc relative to additional Water Works" repealed.

A very stormy debate followed the reading of the resolutions, from which it appeared that many of the members of Councils were devidedly opposed to the act creating the Board of Commissioners for the extension of the Water-works; fort, because the extension was not needed; and, second, if needed, the Councils, and not an outside commission, would be the propor parties to make the extension.

After a long debate, the whole subject was presqued until Thursday evening next, whoe Councils adjoined. honor, of fairness, and of decency."
