Our Army Marching Towards Goldsboro or Raleigh.

EXCUANCE OF PRISONERS IN PROGRESS. EXTRACTS FROM RESEL PAPERS

WASHINGTON, March 0. An extra Rejablica nat issued, says .
Officers of Ges. Schoffeld's army, who arrived here this morning from Wilmington, state that when they left that place, on the lat inst.; deerters and refugees who came into our lines on sovement, had compelled the reficis to evacuat Florence, B. C., and was moving in the direction of Fayetteville, N. C., which is in a direct route to either Goldsbore or Raleigh.

Richmond papers, of February 28th, my. The Yankee, julioners have all been sent from the camps near this place to North East Bridge for the purpose of tedge, exchanged. Many others from Greensbero and Ballabury have passed through, here for the same destination. All the federal prisepers in North Carolina are to be 6x-changed, we learn, at North East Bridge. We presume the exchange will be effected in a few days.

The Raleigh Occupantic closes an article and

In the House of Lords there was an important debate on the defenses of Canada. Lord Lyanden earlied attention to the matter, and printed to the hostile feelings of Americans, and arged immediate measures for the defense of the province.

Earl De Gay and Ripan admitted the importance of the question but regretted that any doubt should be expressed on the concillatory intentions of the American Government. He explained the measures proposed by the Government and would substrake the fefense of fifty thousand pounds for Quebec defenses, while the Canadians would pulsertake the fefense of Montreat.

Earl Derby thought he position of the government was himiliating when the cuestion of prace or war depended on the created papulace. With strong prejudices against English, and strong treasured the government for having we long delayed the defenses and ridicaled the smallness; and Footo asked Granville If he thought Engiand. "Carleton" writes to the Boston Journal as follows:

"After a ramble of several hours through the city of Charleston, we made a visit to Sinuter, entering by the sally port where Major Anderson and his foliabilat few entered on that over to be renembered January night of 1881. The fort bears little reactableneous is appearance then, externally or internally. No portion of the original face of the wall is to be seen, except on the slide towards Charleston, and a portion of that facing Moultrie. From the harbor and from Wagner is appearanced by a tunnil—the devise of an old ruin.

"All the casemates, arches, pithers and ouragets are torn up, rost assunder and utterly demolished. The great guns which two years ago kept the Moulters at buy, which clamed and thundered awhile upon Wagner, are dismounted, broken, overturned, and he buriest beneath the mountain of brick, but, concrete; sand and nortae. After Dupont's attack, in April, 1887, a reinforcement of palmetto logs was made 22 the harbor side and signists that of the wall facing Moultrie. The lower ther of casemates was niled up with with sand bags, but when Gen. Gillmore obtained possession; his fire began to circumble the parpet. The robels endeavered to reconstruct the wall, or to maintain its original height by gabions filled with sand, but this compelled a wideraling of the base leaded. Thousands of bags filled with sand were brought to the fort at night-Bombproofs were constructed. Day after day, week after week the pounding from Wagner was maintained so effectually and thoroughly that it was impossible to keep a gus in position on that side.

Purturbation in Richmond. The tone of the Richmond papers indicates y clearly the amount of excitement that city laboring nuder, at the present time, which is best augury that Sherman is making favorais aboring inder, at the present time, which is the best augury that Sherman is making favorable progress, in his campelga. The Hichmond Enguter, trying to quiet the apprehensions of the propers, says:—"Measures of precaution do not indicate doubt of success. To take off one's clothes before going into the water does not prove that one expects to be drowned. Every concumbrance umpt be sent to the rear before the battley however secure the vittory may be. The real danger is always less than imagination represents it to be. Look steadily at agnost and it will vanish." The ghosts that the robels have raised are Grant and Sherman's armies. They have been looking stoadily at those armies for months, but 'instead of vanishing into thin air, they grow greater in size, and become more subsanish crideness of the power and determination of the Government. Grant is a spectre that no power of the robels can envertee, and when they see such a substantial ghost at both the front and back door of Richesond, it is no wonder that they should be frightened into a disposition to run away. Their imagination is not entirely at fault in this matter; a guilty considered probably suggests the reality of the danger. "Fail. Ledger."

Bible Burning in Italy.

A curious incident occurred a few days ago in the Pledmontese town of glalatina. An agent of the Protestant Bible Association having made his appearance in the market of the town, begin to seell bibles. The customers were rather moreover, and almost all belonged to the class of the rural population. The rector of the parish having heard of the fact, hastened to assemble a general meeting of the priests, at which a subscription was made to raise the necessary money for buying up all the bibles the westagring bookseller had not yet dispose of. The bibles having the been bought, a large bonfire was lighted on the threshold of the church, into which the observing books were thrown, in the presence of the rector, who, of coinsel; had prepared a sermon for the occasion. But, alast the bible-seller was an old hand; and as he had a larger stock of the sacred volume in his cart, he speedily trade his appearance in the plazza and began business here. A second meeting was called at the rectory, but the majority of the priests refused to contribute more money, believing that the heretic protestant would undoubtedly return to Galatius with a new collection of bibles were they to buy up his stock again.

The headquarters of an immense gang of thickes, roblers and counterfeiters in the State of Illinois has been discovered, and eight me and two women belonging to it have been at rested. A large amount of property, suppose to have been stolen by this party, has bee found and identified by the owners. Romest SMAIL, the slave pilot of Charleston who ran the steamer Pilot out of Charleston harbor, and delivered it over to the blockeding squadron, and has aince been of so much service in our naval operations on the Carolina coast, is said to be now worth $34.000, all of which he has invested in Government securities. Ir is reported that the southern peace agents suggested to President Lineoin that the southern slaves are worth nine hundred million dollars, for which the Government should pay in case of reunion, and that the President replied: "That little bill is settled and the receipt's fired a way!"

John Stuart Mill, who has all along been a good friend of the United States, has directed that whatever copyright may be allowed by the American publishers of his works shall be given to the Sanitary Commission, or some similar object of national charity. It is surmised that hereafter colored men engaged on board foreign and Northern vessels will not be imprisoned when they enter the port of Charleston. CITY AND SUBURBAN, Want of Buildings. Now that the winter is almost over, and spring approaching, we would call the attention of leading capitalists to the fact that as their personal interest is involved in the growth and proserity of the city, they can make no better in persy of the city, stay can make no seater in vestment than in leading their capital to the construction of buildings, especially dwelling-houses, of which there seems to be a decided as soon as the additional force can be properly uniformed and equipped. The day police will consist of twenty men, under the superingendance of a Lieutenant, and will be distributed judiciously on the most public thorough fares, and so posted as to have them as nearly as practicable in a continuous chain, commencing on Fifth atreet and diverging to all parts of the on Finh strees and diverging to all parts of the city, although the larger portion will be principally posted in the centre of the city. The scope of the detail takes in rear and remote localities; but the licutenant in charge may in case of emergency, call as many as he wishes, or all, if he deems it necessary, for the purpose of making arrests or quelling riots. They will go on duty, and be rolleved at specified hours. The entire police system will consist of a day and high; police, one part relieving the other. The day police will all he nulformed as soon as possible, wearing in addition to the established dress, a belt in which to curry a short mace, with which they will all be armed.

His honor, mayor Lowry, he exercising eminent discrimination in his appolaments, and is making his redections with reference to the competency, energy and peculiar adaptation of the mace appointed for the important trust. The charge is one which will commend itself to every lover of unnicipal order, and is as seasonable as it is wise.

Oil Prospects in Columbiana County, On A correspondent of a Cleveland paper, who recently spent some weeks in the valleys of the Little Beaver creeks in Columbiana county, O., tectury spent some weeks in the valleys of the factor of the beaver creeks in Columbiana county, O., say):

"This country lies directly between the great Oil Barins of Pennsylvania and Virginia, and the geological spicarance of the territory here is very much like. Venance county, Penn. At the mouth of Little Beaver creek, on the Ohloriver, I say some left or ten wells that have been worked for the last three or four years quite successfully, and the oil seems to increase father than diminish in them. Some of these have recently been sold for large sums of money. I think three wells, however, to be on the outcrop of the basin. A few miles up the creek at Island run, I passed four flowing wells, that profuse more oil than those will be the mouth of the best of these, and the last one highest up the creek of these, and the last one put down, is the hest. It flows nine barvels perday. The oil in these wells is the finest I have cert, seen, and is being used in the common oil imp as it comes from the wells, without refuting. When the tentiary is proved farther up the creeks, a much larger free of oil will doubless be the result. It is and fines and four attricts of any three that on a well found in the content in a well a wel is said this a fine deposit of oil has been struck, in a well fast put down at the town of Darlington, on the east fort of Little Beaver. And there is a good well on Bull creek, not, yet in working order. These six wells are the only once above the mouth of the Little Beaver that bare to be sunk to a depth to reach the third strate of sand rock. Others are now being put down with a good show of all. These facts, to structure of the country, with its deep retries, and town with a good show of all. These facts, to structure of the country, with its deep retries, and to the country of the country with the deep retries, and the country of the country with the process the three branches of the Little Beaver creek, with their numerous fributaries flow, unite to present this as an inviting oil territory. Franchius calls disease an affection of the tody contrary to mature; a "purusbatten of its ability a deranguent of its courses. What disease is, sometimes cludes humas intelligence, but same diseases are known—their origin, action, and even their antidotes. Whoever has discovered an actual remedy for one disease, has done something for his race. Dr. Ayer has done more, for his medicines afford us the means to control and currecteral dangerous disorders. We rarely speak on medical subjects, preferring to control team to physicians who understand them better. But sunt-ffects as are seen in our midst, on the affections of the lungs by Ayer's Charty Pectoral, on sciofulous coinglaints by his Barraparille, and on the everal complaints that they cure by Ayer's Pilla, should not be ignored.—

BECAUSE A PRESON HAS A BAD COUGH It should BEGAPER A PERSON HAS A BAD COUGH it should not be inferred that Comessaption has set in, yet no one (with rare exceptions) can have Consumption without a cough, sooner or later. Where a predisposition to Pulmonary Disease exists, a Cough, if left to itself, strains and racks the Lungs and wastes the general strength, and soon establishes an incurable complaint. In all cases, ther, it is the safer plan to get rid of a Cough, Cold, or Hoursmess, without delay, and for this purpose no remedy acts more promptly or surely, or with more behealt to the organs of the-chest, than Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant; an article scientifically compounded from carefully-selected drugs, and which, on trial, will niways be found worthy of its world-wide reputation. Sold by Druggists everywheres.

Francet. Dearth.—Mr. Joremlah McCracken, an old and well-known resident of Lancaster, met with a fearful death oil Thursday orening at the railroad depot in that city! He accompanies a friend who was leaving in the 6 o'clock train to the care, and stood upon the platform after the train commenced moving. It had proceeded but a few yards when Mr. McCracken in endeavoring to step off, missed his foot-hold and fell under the car, the wheels of which passed over his head, literally cutting it off, and also severing one of his arms from his body. His death was instantaneous.

Passen Theorem.—Four companies, detailed to guard robel prisoners from the West to Airence Landing for exchange, passed through the city yesterday on hielr return to St. Louis. The boys represent that the rebel prisoners were all in good condition, and expressed a wish to return to the rebol ranks. We hope that their gladness will soon tun to sorrow. They will soon find they have made a poor exchange of boarding houses when they enter the starved dominions of King Jeff.

Richmosh papers of the 2d inst., contain very significant and important Indications of the complete success of Gen. Sherman's grand military combinations. We gather from the robol statements that Gen. Sherman deceived the enemy as to his real intentions by making faints against Charlotte and Florence, while with the main body of his army he pushed across the country from Columbia in the direction of Payetteville, North Caroline. Bragg was also induced, by a felint movement from Wilmington to ward Goldeboro, to mass his troops on the line of the Northeast Cape Fear River, leaving Gen. Schoeleld to more up the Cape Fear River to ward Fayetteville, where he will probably form a junction with Gen. Sherman. This line of march will be protected by our gunboats, and by the rivers and ewampy lands that lie between him and Gen. Bragg's forces.

DEATH OF THE CLIDEST PERSON IN NEW ENGLAND.—Deacon John Philipp, of Sturbridge, died on Saturday last at the advanced argod one hundred and four years, seven monttes and twenty-eight days. It is but a few weeks since the papers noticed the fact that he was at the polls on the day of the Presidentual election; and voted for President Lincoln. The voters of the town passed resolutions of respect, to him on that occasion, and a letter was addressed to him by President Lincoln. He was a member of the State Legislature more than fifty years ago.—
