SHERIDAN.

We are slow to believe the stories of refugees and deserters, and therefore hesitated to put full faith in the report of SHERIDAN'S success in the Valley, but the fact that we do not hear from him direct, instead of through Rebel sources, should not be allowed to weigh one moment against the probability of these stories, and we begin, now, to think that they are substantially correct.

This much is certain, that SHERIDAN commenced moving on Monday of last week, and that on Friday he occupied Staunton, without resistance. Gen. EARLY had been in Staunton, but had not sufficient force to give battle. It is known, moreover, that he had a heavy body of cavalry with him—so heavy that EARLY did not think it wise to contest the occupation of Staunton with him; and it is not all improbable that, finding that EARLY had but a small force, he at once advanced from Staunton, fell up on Early with that swiftness of movement characteristic of SHERIDAN, and literally "gobbled him up." The capture of Charlottesville would naturally follow. The capture of that place destroys the northern line of railway communication between Richmond and Lynchburg, and is important for that reason; and if, as reported, Early had but 1,600 men with him, it shows that Lee must be reduced to great straits, when he can spare that 1,600 men to defend Lynchburg.

For the capture of Charlottesville carries Lynchburg with it, or exposes it to capture, and we we hope to hear, soon, that Lynchburg has also been captured. It is the great storehouse of rebel supplies, and the point of retreat to which Lee would naturally have driven out of Richmond.

Charlottesville is on the Virginia Central road, and hence its capture involves the loss not only of that road, but also of the Orange and Alexandria road between Gordonsville and Lynchburg. It seems natural that Sheridan should follow up his success by pushing on to the latter place. If he takes it Lee must at once give battle or get out of Richmond, for Sheridan will soon cut the South Side road (the only one remaining) at Burkesville.

ARMING THE SLAVES.

It was truly said of the Bourbon who ruled France at the time of the French revolution, that he never would yield when yielding would have saved him, and always yielded when yielding was sure to do him harm; and the same may be truly be now said of the Southern Bourbons. After refusing to pass the bill to arm 200,000 slaves and give them their freedom, they have now passed a bill to arm 300,000 negroes who are to remain slaves for ever, if their masters can so manage it.

To have promised freedom to all slaves taking up arms for them would have been a graceful and manly act. It might not have saved the Confederacy, but it would have saved the authors of such a law from utter condemnation. When they found themselves incapable of such an act of manliness, their true course was to let the whole thing drop, and give up the idea of arming the slaves at all; but with true Bourbonic blindness, they rush into a concession of the principle contended for, and resolve to arm the negroes, but to withhold all the inducements that would make a negro fight for them. The concession was withheld when it should have been made, and made when it should have been withheld.

The idea that men will fight to fasten chains upon their own limbs never could have entered into the head of any man but that of a becotted Southern slaveholder. The passage of such a bill is the best evidence that the leaders have been given over to that madness which precedes destruction. They have eyes, but they do not see; ears, but they do not hear; and understanding, but they do not understand.

AMERICAN REGISTER AND EMIGRANT'S GUIDE.—Under this above is the title of a paper issued monthly in the city of New York, filled with a great variety of facts and information useful to persons who think of emigrating to the United States. It is designed for the more especial benefit among this work ing classes of Great Britain.

At this time, when the vast natural resources of this country, including so rapidly developed, and when labor, skilled and unskilled, is so greatly in demand, it is well to disseminate abroad a knowledge of what is going on here, and of the various fields of remunerative labor that may be found in this country. Such a publication as the one of which we are speaking is calculated to attract to our shores a more intelligent and consequently a more useful and desirable class of immigrants than usually find their way, under the pressure of absolute necessity, to this side of the Atlantic.

This publication affords a channel through which our manufacturers of every kind may communicate with the skilled workmen of Great Britain, and make known to them the advantages they would find by coming here and engaging in the several branches of industry to which they are accustomed in their own country.

A FREE PRESS.

According to the Cincinnati Times a free press is the most wonderful composite of this or any other age. It is according to the following luminous paragraph from that paper, a shield, a sunshine, a buttress, a flagstaff, a key-stone, and a bell-tower:

"A free press is the foundation of all freedom. It is the source and resource of popular thought. It is the shield and sunshine of true liberty, flung off the poisoned arrows of despotism, and making warm and elastic with life, health and vigor, the political currents of the community. It is the buttress and flag-staff—the very key-stone and bell-tower of a free fabric."

TENNESSEE.—The people of Tennessee having adopted the amendments to their State Constitution, hold an election on the 4th inst., for Governor and Legislature. Parson BROWNLOW has been chosen Governor without serious opposition, and all the members elected to the Legislature, as far as heard from, are Republicans. The return of peace will make free Tennessee one of the greatest States in the Union.

THE DRAFT.—Orders have been issued for the draft in the State of New York, and the wheel will commence revolving on the 15th. It will probably commence in this part of Pennsylvania about a week later, unless recruiting brightens up considerably.

GENERAL PRICE STILL ALIVE.—The best evidence that the rebel General Sterling Price is not dead, is given by a note from him, published in the Shreveport (La.) News, of Feb. 10th. He defends Missouri against an attack by ex-Governor Reynolds, of Missouri, declaring that that person has uttered "a tissue of falsehoods."

THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL says: "A great many people in southern cities keep two flags, each one to be displayed when the Confederate troops are the spectators, and the other when the Federal forces are on hand." Doubtless quite true. The editor of the Journal certainly ought to know all about it.

GEN. LEE NOT A GOOD SOUTHERNER.

The Examiner, in the course of an article on arming the slaves, thus speaks of the Confederate General-in-Chief:

"There are many other considerations, which are not military, but moral, political, and social, relating to the future of the black race as well as the white, all of which oppose themselves strongly to the revolutionary measure now recommended. On these Gen. Lee cannot be admitted as an authority without appeal; indeed his carnestness in providing that "those who are employed should be freed," and "that it would be neither just nor wise to require them to serve as slaves" suggests a doubt whether he is what used to be called a "good Southerner;" that is, whether he is thoroughly satisfied of the justice and beneficence of negro slavery as a sound, permanent basis of our national policy."

AN INCIDENT OF THE BATTLE OF NASHVILLE.—By a hay-stack we found two bodies, side by side, as if laid there by some friendly hand. As we were taking them away, one rose upright, and bursting into tears pointing to his comrade, said, "It's my brother, sir, my brother. We two were all, and I am alone now." He had two were all, and I am alone now." missed him in the fight, and hunting over the field had found him dead, and lying down to watch him all morning, had fallen asleep. When we took up the body to lay it with the others, he brought along straw to make a bed for it and for himself. We gave him room in that long row of the dead. Nestling close to the corpse, he lay down for his last night's sleep with his brother.

THE chivalry don't confine themselves to shooting and hanging Union men in the border States. The Chattanooga Gazette states that a party of guerrillas, who would be greatly offended, we suppose, if they were not recognized as belonging to the chivalry of the South, recently hung the wife and daughter of Dr. Joshua King, of Rome, on the charge of loyalty to the Federal Government. Mrs. King and her daughter were taking a ride in the country in a carriage, when they were met by the guerrillas, taken out of the carriage and hung upon the nearest limb.—Cin. Commercial.

Now that all the ports of the South are as good as in our possession, it can no longer be claimed even technically that the Confederacy is a "naval power." There can be no navy where there are no ports in which to fit out naval armaments. Hence it can no longer be pretended that the pirates which are now devastating our commerce and the Iron clads which are threatening to descend upon our coast, are Confederate vessels. To claim that they are anything else than English or French war ships is unheard—of.—N. Y. Tribune.

A BOUNTY jumper, who was one of a lot of recruits in Illinois, was on his way to join his regiment, and when near Springfield, leaped from the car window while the train was moving fifteen miles an hour. The guard on the platform saw him and fired; a lieutenant and two soldiers leaped off and gave chase, firing at him. He was brought down by four balls in his body, from the effects of which he soon died. In his pocket were found five forged discharges.

IT is stated that a single express company transports from Virginia city, Nevada territory, fifty thousand dollars in silver bullion daily, and that from a tract of country around that city, of not more than twenty-five miles square, over $20,000,000 of silver have been shipped during the past twelve months. And yet the wealth of the silver mines of Nevada is scarcely comprehended, and its extent remains unestimated.

ALL the stores in Wilmington are closed; the newspapers have been suspended, and the editors or publishers absconded. There is one respectable drug store open, and no stores for the sale of provisions. The citizens say there is enough, but that it is hid away. There is a large population of both white and black, which are liable soon to need assistance from the department.

THE Minnesota Legislature has agreed to submit the question of permitting negroes to vote to the people at the next November election.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

U. S.

7-30 LOAN.

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three tenths per cent. interest, per annum, known as the

SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cent

GOLD—BEARING BONDS,

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent, including gold interest from November, which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest is as follows:

One cent per day on a	$50 note.
Two cents " "	$100 "
Ten " "	$500 "
20 " "	$1000 "
$1 " "	$5000 "

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case as closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that the citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

REFINING AND STORING COMPANY

Is now fully organized, and has commenced business at their temporary office, No. 19 IRWIN STREET, (up stairs,) Pittsburgh, Pa., and are now prepared to do a general business in Buying, Selling, Refining, Storing and Forwarding Oil. The Works are on the banks of the Allegheny river, above the city, and will be in operation in a few days, manufacturing EIGHT HUNDRED BARRELS OF REFINED OIL PER WEEK, which will be of the best quality and in prime packages. It is the design of this Company to make a first class brand for export, and no pains will be spared to give it that character. They will also refine for the wardens of oil on joints east or west, particular attention, and in this branch of the business will have unrivalled facilities, as the Oil will be taken from the boats to the cars by machinery, and thus avoid all wharfage, drayage or delay. Parties consigning Oil to this Company will be advised of the following officers:

President—A. M. MARSHALL.
Secretary—C. BERINGER.
Treasurer—J. R. McCUNE.
Directors—A. M. Marshall, T. P. Hanna, James Kelley, David Kirk and Wm. Hamilton.
Superintendent and Business Manager—DAVID KIRK.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DO NOT ALLOW YOUR COLD TO take its own course. Two-thirds of the victims of Consumption owe their affections to the fatal mistake of "waiting for a cough to get well itself." If you would avoid this error, avail yourself at once of Dr. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, which for thirty years has maintained its reputation as a certain remedy for all Coughs and Colds. Here is some of the evidence: Lieut-Col. Lowis Wagner, now in command of Camp William Penn, Chelton Hills, Pa., writes:

For Coughs, Colds, &c., the Expectorant has always proved a certain cure.

Mr. J. M. HILL, of Hebron, N. H., says:

I was troubled for two years with an severe Cough in the Left Side. After consulting the and Path fo my Left Side. physicians within reach, with no effect—I was persuaded by them to try Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, eventually restored to good health by the use of

Mr. C. W. WHEELER, of New York, writes:

Your Expectorant has entirely cured me of a painful cough, accompanied with a Sore Throat.

Mr. J. NEWMAN, of Melbourne, writes:

In consequence of exposure, while heated, I contracted a severe cold, which eventually settled on my chest. After trying several remedies, without avail, I was at last completely cured by your Expectorant.

Rev. Dr. DOWLING, of New York, writes:

From my experience, I believe the Expectorant to be one of the best remedies for coughs and colds.

Mr. J. G. TAYLOR, New Liberty, Ills. writes:

Last fall, while a refugee from Kentucky, I contracted a severe cold, which seriously threatened my lungs. The accompanying cough was so constant, I could obtain but little rest day or night, although I tried several palliatives which were recommended to me. One bottle of the Expectorant, however, broke up my cough immediately, restoring my health completely in a few days.

Mr. T. C. FOSTER, Superintendent of Akron Reservoir, Ohio, writes:

I took a bottle of your Expectorant for a bad cold in three days the Expectorant found me a less standing and troublesome cough.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING FROM BRONCHITIS use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. The wide spread disease, which may be generally described as an inflammation of the the skin which lines the inside of the wind tubes or air vessels spreading through every part of the lungs, is often mistaken for Consumption. The Expectorant subdues this inflammation, relieves the alarming cough, pain, and difficulty of breathing, and, if the case is not of too long standing, will speedily effect a cure. Look at the following cases:

Rev. E. D. FENDALL, Pastor of Baptist Church, Mooretown, N. J., writes:

Some time since I recommended Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant to a lady who had lost her voice from Bronchitis, and who had been pronounced by her physician incurable. An entire restoration to health was effected after taking two bottles, and she is now a hearty woman.

Mr. SAMUEL C. DAWSON, of No. 1217 Clarion street, Philadelphia, says:

After suffering for months with Bronchitis, I am happy to say, by the use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, I am once more my former self.

Mr. Jno. B. MERTON, 1109 S. Sixth street, Philadelphia, says:

Having suffered for two years with an severe Cough, I feel it my duty to state, I have, so far as I can tell, been permanently cured by the use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. From my experience with this remedy in my family, I can also recommend it to all cases of coughs and colds.

Mr. L. L. HILL, of Westkill, Green county, New York, writes:

By the very free use of Dr. Jaynes Expectorant, I have recovered from a very severe attack of acute bronchitis.

Mr. PARSON B. EWING, of Laconia, Harrison county, Ohio, writes:

For three years I was so seriously afflicted with bronchitis that I was obliged to relinquish the business of teaching vocal music. The best physicians within reach failed to relieve me. I tried Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, and I now find my throat entirely clear of any disease.

IF YOU ARE CONSUMPTIVE, use JAYNE'S Expectorant. It cleanses the lungs from all irritating matters, while at the same time, it heals and invigorates them. Of all the remedies which have been offered to the public for this dread disease, none have stood the test of time, or maintained so universal a popularity as this. Thousands and Thousands who have been given up by their physicians as incurable, have been restored to perfect health by its use, and their testimony must carry conviction to all who read it.

Rev. J. Roberts, the well known Chinese Missionary, writes:

For pulmonary complaints I find the Expectorant invaluable, always easing the pain and removing the symptoms.

Mrs. Hannah Pugh, of Turman, Sullivan county, Indiana, writes:

After suffering for some months with Consumption, and now being pronounced hopeless, I was eventually restored to good health by persevering in the use of Jayne's Expectorant.

Mr. Andrew Gowanlock, of Bayfield, C. W. says:

Jayne's Expectorant has effectually cured me of a violent attack of inflammation on the lungs.

Rev. A. Wiberg, of Wittangen, Hanover, writes:

A friend, who was troubled with an obstinate cough, accompanied by spitting of Blood and Hectic Fever, has entirely recovered his health through the use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant.

FOR ASTHMA OR PHTHISIS use Jayne's Expectorant. It will overcome the spasmodic contraction of the wind tubes, and cause them to eject the mucus or matter which clogs them. Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, renewed all difficulty of breathing. Here is a portion of his evidence:

Mr. F. Fraley, of Avoca, Steuben county, N. Y., writes:

Having tried various remedies for Asthma, without finding relief, I procured a bottle of Jayne's Expectorant, and obtained so much benefit from it that I continued its use, and am now perfectly cured.

Mr. Reading Isaly, of Warren county, Ohio, says:

I have had another attack of Asthma, and for a time was in the greatest distress. My wife having begged me to try Jayne's Expectorant, I did so, and obtained almost instant relief, and continuing to take it, in a short time I found myself in better health than for two years past.

Mr. Jos. Robinson, of Fletcher, Vermont, writes:

Some time ago my wife was afflicted for years with the Asthma, and used various medicines, but all to no purpose, and was given up to die. She commenced taking Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, and soon began to mend. Look at her now, and you will see a healthy woman. I cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.

FOR PLEURISY, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH AND ALL LUNG AFFECTIONS, the Expectorant will be found efficacious. All we ask is that a fair trial be given it. Read what is said of it:

Mr. W. Hoskin, of South Yarra, Australia, writes, October 4, 1863
