The news received confirms in all respect (except the capture of EARLY) the first re ports of his success. He was at last at counts sweeping along the valley towards Lynchburg, with 15,000 mounted troops. and this he gobbled up as if it were a mouth ful. It is plain that his movement was en tirely unexpected, and that he moves with such rapidity that all attempts to obstruct him will be in vain. He left Winchester on Monday and was in Staunton on Thursday (of last week,) and must have reach Lynchburg early this week. When we hear from him next, we shall undoubtedly have

The Richmond papers have been forbid. den to publish military news favorable to us, and their silence, just now, is not an unfavorable indication. No news from that quarter is good news, for we may rely upon it that if the Rebels had anything to brag of they would let us know of it very soor We take it for granted, therefore, that BHERIDAN is having things his own way.

THE RIVER BED SWINDLE Has taken, a new phase. Whether the old bill has been abandoned Because of the public indignation against it, or because the conspirators found it impessible to pass it in a shape to suit themselves, we cann say; but it is certain that a new scheme has taken its place, and the indications are that the friends of the former swindle will transfer their attentions and affections to introduced into the Senate by Mr. BEARDS-LEE to incorporate "the River Oll Compa ny." It incorporates a number of corporators under this title with a capital of one million dollars divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each, and gives them the exclusive right "to dig, mine, drill and bore for iron, coal, limestone, sand, gravel, fire-clay, oil. salt and other minerals, upon and under the beds" of the "Allegheny and Clarion rivers and their branches North of the North line of Allegheny county." The State reserves to itself the right to re-occupy the premises after fifteen years, if the company has in that time made over 10 per cent., and the company is to pay a royalty to the State "of 25 per cent. not annually on all of said

These are the main features of the bill, and our readers will see that it is the old swindle in a new shape, its concoctor vleiding only in the matter of royalty, which they have had the kindness to increase from five to twenty-five per cent. The main design of getting possession of the river beds for oil speculation, is adhered to, and the is the main point to which will require to put this bill through, none but the initiated know. We judge, howdr-er, that the amount of "working capital" reserved will not exceed, in proportion, that reserved in the ocmmon run of oil compan les. Who are to come in on the "ground The State should, of right: but the State is a bird for every one to pluck, and her share will be of the smallest. When Fork Tribune.

THERE was a regular old fashioned "knock down and drag out" encounter in the Canadian House a few days timee. Mr. Caushon approached the seat of Mr. Du-frense and made an angry remark in reply to something said by the latter. Sharp words followed, ending with one of the par-ties giving the other the lie. Caushon then struck his antagonist, when the two law-makers went at it with a will, pummelling each other beautifully. Friends stepped in and separated them, when the galleries were cleared and the House proceeded to discuss the fraces with closed doors.
