The action taken by City Councils is an evidence of action taken by City Councils is an evidence of the general feeling on this subject, and now we have another expression of public sentiment in the following call for a meeting. The call, it will be observed, is signed by a large number of the Irading merchants, manufacturers and business men, who feel that the interests of this community imperatively demand an immediate repoal of the unjust legislation above alluded to.

We hope that our leading tusiness men will turn out on this occasion, and advance their town best interests by laboring for the accomplishment of the end in view. There is now a rasonable hope that the objectionable set will be repealed at the present session, and if our ditzens only shell the mestives, and make their rolle heard at Harrisburg, it will have due weight when the time for fund action comes. The request for a public meeting of the citizens has met with a favorable response from the Mayor, and the meeting, will be held on Monday siltence, at three o'clock, at the Board of Trade Resons: Trade R-soms:

JAWES LOWRY, JR. MAYOR. Jaws Lower, Jm., Mayor, Pittsburgh, March 10th, 1986.

Desperate Encounter with This A few nights since, Mr. Josse Stentz, a farme siding in Springhill. Favette county heard me persons in his granary. He took his gun ad dashed in on them just as they were in the act of shouldering their bags of wheat. He or-dered them to desist but they threw their bags over the fence as though they were determined to hold on to their booty. Mr. Stentz parauod them when they turned on hind and fired several plates shots at him. In the meloo he knocked a jound about at him. In the melos he knocked a levy down with his guo, having falled to dis-charge it in consequence of placing his finger on the guard instead of the trigger. At this junt-ure the other two fied and left Mr. Stentz with his prize. The boy soon recovered and his cries brought back his companions who fell on Mr. Stentz with stones and clubs knocking him down and leaving him necessaries. and leaving him unconscious.

The people of the neighborhood collected next day, made a kind of circular hunt, and captured the thieres, who proved to be residents of the neighborhood named Thomas Tobia, Wm. Ephey and Taylor Epley—the latter being quites lay. Wm. Epley is a deserter, and Tobin is believed to be a bunnty lumes; as he was seen as loy. Wen. Epley is a deserter, and Tobin is betieved to be a bounty jumper, as he was seen to have $500 last fall, which it is alleged he procured in this city as a bounty under a ficticious name, and by this means has oraded arrest. Epley belongs to what is known as "Dancan's Carairy" and has deserted twice. The many cases of larceny for which these follows were suspected alarmed the neighborhond, and their astempt to rob Mr. Stentz was so bold and desperase that the citizens arose on masse, determined to rid Careless Writers. The report of Postmaster Dennison shows an xtraordinary amount of carolessness on the parof the letter writing community. Three million ive hundred and eight thousand and twentyave dead letters were received during the pas are dead letters were received during the past year-cover nine thousand a day. Many of these letters contained money, deeds, bills of exchange, drafts, checks, feweiry and ether valuables. Some of them were misdirected, others not directed at all, others unstamped, and others only partially directed. Thousands of dead letters, were returned to the writers, but the great majority had to be destroyed. This statement ought to teach the public to be unore careful in their correspondence, for the amount of suffering caused by these lost letters is incatentable.

Hill is flowing constantly, and is being dilled night and day, with very favorable indications. The territory hereabout has never been thoroughly tested, but as far as can now be soon; even by the most experienced oil men, the prosepect of its being a first class oil territory is as good as was that of many bocalities a few months are where now "the rock sends forth rivers of oil,"

POISONED.—A singular case of poisoning occurred yesterday in Brownstown. It appears that a number of men employed in excavating

Two of the men, named Dean and Gjoblas, eat some of them, and about two hours alterwards were selzed with a violent vomiting and painful sensation in the bowds, with other symptoms which indicated plainly that they had been poisbedd. They had both to be removed to their homes, and at last accounts were still suffering, but were past danger.

SALE OF THE SHARTSBURG BENDER.—The Sharpsburg Bridge, or rather the stone piers and abutments, together with the necessary roadways was sold at the Court House on Thursdayi by the Sheriff, for six thousand dollars. Alex. Miller, Esq., was the purchaser, although it was understood that he was acting for some manufacturing firms who contemplate the immediate rebuilding of the superstructure. Considering that the sale carried with it all the franchises of the company, it sold for a pitiable price, and if rebuilt is will prove a paying institution. THE DEAD ALIVE.-Robert Frye, son of West

THE DELD ALIVE.—Robert Frye, son of West Frye, Esq., of Finleyville, Washington county, mourned as dead for some six months part, has returned from Richmond, alive, and better than a brigade of dead men. The loy of his parents and friends may be imagined at his unexpected recovery, safe and sound as a greenback. OH OPERATIONS ON THE MONONGAMEL Several companies are forming in Conttown and vicinity, for the purpose of boring for oil. One well on Downer's Run has been sunk to the depth of one hundred feet, and operations are continued day and night.

THE oil fever about Blairsville is on the in-crease. Some two or three companies are al-ready poning down wells and several others are preparing to follow suit. THE BOYD EIRCTERST CASE. Belderen wir for alteren wie. The Sittsburgh Gazette. It is encouraging to know, according to carefully prepared statistics, by such authouly as the late Ray, Dr. Baird, that religion is steadily progressing to the United States. In the half contury ending with 1850, the population of the United Scates increased nearly four and a half fold. In the same period the number of evangelical. ministers, churches, and communicant church members, increased more than nine fold. In 1832 there was one evangelical minister to every 1,497 souls of the entire population. In 1855 there was one such ninister to every 937 (and a fraction) inhabitants, not including religious teachers local preachers in the Methodist denomination. There is reason to beheve the same rate of increase in the churches, over the growth of the aggregate population which took place between 1800 and 1850, still contimues. / - Late intelligence from "Dixto" ropresents Rev. James H. McNeill, formerly one of the Socretaries of the American Bible Society, as a Major in the Confederate army. He is also one of the editors of the North Corolina Presbyterian. It appears from the report of the Superintendent of the Confederate Army and Navy Bible and Tract Depository at Petersburg that the organization has aided "in producing and sustaining the wonderful revival with which God has blessed our armies, and which, in the past year, has added more than twelve housand soldiers to the churches." From the same source we are informed the union etween the Old and New School Presbyerians, South, has probably been fully con-

- Bishop Coxe, of the Western (Episcopal) Diocese of New York, in his sermon t the University, New York city, on the day for the Prayer for Colleges, took rather a gleomy view of the state of public morals. Association adjourned to meet at the city of Pittsburgh, in the second Tuesday of September, 1865, with a view or dedicating a new house of worship. --- Intelligence from Savannah, Georgia, reports very few really loyal persons, and that much of the professed loyalty is mere pretence. It is stated none of the white lergymen pray for the President, but the black preachers supplicate heartily for him and the government. A Presbyterian prayed thus on a recent Sunday; "For all Presidents, that their minds might be illuninated to see the right and follow it, and eschew the wrong," which was just as much for the rebel Davis as for President Lincoln. The Episcopal Church clergymen omit the prayer for the President entirely. -The Uhristian Times and Enisconal Register, in an editorial entitled "The Re-ligious Journal," takes strong ground against secular de partments in religious papers, such as "War Department," "State Department," "State Department," "The Farm," etc. It thinks a religious Journal should not undertake to compete with the secular press. It cannot successfully do so without sacrificing its matter character. It says, "the the truth is, the enterprise of the secular press leaves used to the company. The secular press leaves used to the secular t bitious ecclesiastic who undertakes to make his journal a full record of the war will neet with a deserved failure. We rejoice daily that the war is going on se succes fully; yet to those of our friends who sometimes inquire why we do not maintain a 'War Department' in the Times, we reply that it is out of our line, and refer them to the Army and Navy Journal, which can tell them all they wish to know. -A correspondent of the N. Y. Observer, writing from Arlington Heights of scends among the colored people at the freedmen's village, lately the property of the rebel General R. E. Lee, gives som outhing words which were used by many of them in their prayers. One while praying earnestly for the impenitent in the village, besought the Lord that he would "get around and about their hearts, and attr 'em p, that they might turn away from sin." Waxing more carnest for the salvation of his brethren, he prayed God "to rob hell of her large expectations.' Another praying or the chaplain of the Tract Society, entreated that the Lord would "backstay him with faith." A patriarch who had been a preacher near Richmond forty-eight years, closed his prayer "And when, dear you don't wid troublin' youself wid us here ake us all home to giery to praise you evcomore. Another prayed, "May we oped on to meet as a bull in a gangway. -lt is asserted by a reliable religious

I aper that five of the principal monied officers of New York city, having incomes of 250,000, are Roman Catholics. Also, that a Commissioner of the Alms House, a Pro-testant gentleman of the highest standing, was, a few days ago, without the shadow of a political or personal reason, removed from office, and a Roman Catholic appointed in his place.

-The annual meeting of the Western Blook Committee of M. E. Book Concarn, located at Cincinnati, has just been held. The report of the agents, appointed by the No Establishment Can Excel. General Conference at its quadrennial session, shows the resources to be $433,452.19, and the liabilities at $118,648.13, leaving net capital of $819,809.07, and a profit during the year of $22,488.27. ——It is proposed to hold a convention of the non-Episcopal Methodist Churches in this country, in Cleveland, Ohio, on the third Wednesday in June next. The chief obstacle in the way is strong opposition to "secret societies" among a portion of the "secret societies" among a portion Wesleyans and the Free Methodists. ____According to the Watchman and Re-flector, the Baptists of New York State num ber 88,074, gathered into 826 churches, with 742 ordained ministers, and 99 licentiates. During the past year 2,531 converts have been baptized. The denonination in the State is organized into forty-five association and one State convention.
