CREDITING OF UNENROLLED MEN.

In our remarks yesterday upon the difficulties which had arisen under the operation of the amended enrollment law, we pointed out the injustice and hardship of restricting men not liable to military duty to the sub-districts in which they happen to reside, and suggested that "an order be issued to the effect that the enrollment lists shall be the evidence of a man's residence. If his name is not found there, let it be understood—in a military sense—that he has no residence, and is free to enlist to the credit of any sub-district or club that will employ him. Such an order, while it would work no injustice to anybody, would prevent a vast amount of injustice, and render available thousands of men who are now practically debarred from entering the service. This would apply to veterans of two years and upwards, to young men between the ages of 18 and 20, to aliens, and, for aught we can see, to men who paid commutation in 1863. Let all these be credited to the sub-districts which pay them, whether enlisted as volunteers, club-volunteers, or individual substitutes."

Upon a careful examination of the opinion of Attorney General SPEED, published in yesterday's GAZETTE, we see that he favors this view of the question. We quote a paragraph exactly to the point, in which he is commenting upon the 14th section of the act, the one which restricts the credits of enrolled men to the sub-districts in which they actually reside. He says:

> The whole object, and purpose of this section is to fix a rule by which places are to receive credits for enrolled men. It gives a rule of credits to the State, and to the ward, township, precinct, or other enrollment sub-district, for enrolled men only. It is silent as to how or where recruits not enrolled, or liable to be enrolled, are to be credited. In order that the credit may be made according to the rule in this section prescribed, the man must not only have an actual residence, but he must be enrolled. The words of the section, "and where such persons were or shall be enrolled," relate to the fact of enrollment rather than the place of enrollment. Those words are introduced to announce the fact of enrollment, and not to affect or control the question as to place of credit. This is manifest from the context, and especially from the words in parenthesis, just following those above quoted, to wit: ("If liable to enrollment.")

We had not seen this opinion when we wrote our remarks in yesterday's GAZETTE, and are glad to discover that we are fully sustained by this official document. People may now make arrangements to recruit non-enrolled men wherever they may find them, and feel secure that the credits will be awarded to the sub-district which pays them the bounty, whether that payment be from a general bounty fund, a club, or by the hands of an individual, to a personal substitute. Mr. SPEED expressly declares that the 14th section "gives a rule of credits * * * FOR ENROLLED MEN ONLY."

This, of course, sets aside any order or ruling adverse to this opinion; for it is authoritative, and overrides the authority of A. A. P. M. General HINKS or anybody else. We hope now to see the work of filling quotas revived in all the three methods open to the people—enrolled men volunteering to the credit of their own proper sub-districts; clubs enlisting non-enrolled men to their own and their sub-district's credit; and individual substitutes put in under the same conditions. Now the difficulties by which, for a time, the work was environed and impeded are removed, and the work can go on. We hope, however, that a little more time will be given to compensate for what has been lost.

TERMS OF SUBMISSION.

The Tribune and other papers are calling on the President to issue a new proclamation and lay down new terms upon which the submission of the rebels will be accepted. They argue that the war is rapidly drawing to a close; that the masses of the south, to use the stereotyped army expression, are "heartily sick of the war," and that if the President would only issue a kindly worded proclamation, inviting them to come back under the old flag, they would flock like doves to the windows.

No new terms of submission are suggested by these advisers, that being left to the President; but it is evident that unless new terms are offered there will be no use in issuing such a proclamation. And what new terms can he offer? He has already issued a proclamation offering a general amnesty to all rebels below the grade of Colonel; is he to enlarge upon that, and offer amnesty to all, Jeff. Davis included? We do not see how he can go further, unless he takes off all restrictions upon the amnesty already offered.

The fact is that it is of but little use issuing Proclamations to the South. The bulk of the people do not read, and we have scarcely any access to those who do. The newspaper press is practically extinct throughout the limits of the Confederacy, and the few papers that still survive have not the pluck or the will to publish any proclamation of the President. How, then, is any new Proclamation to reach those for whom it is intended? What better chance has a new Proclamation of being circulated than the old one had? If the old offer of Amnesty has reached the Southern people, they know that it is still in force; if it has not, it is useless to make a new offer, of the conditions of which the rebels must remain as ignorant as they are of those already offered.

In the following views on this subject, presented by the Albany Evening Journal, we fully concur:

> A general amnesty would embrace forgiveness for all the crimes against the Republic. It would restore to Jeff Davis his forfeited citizenship; it would bring Hunter and Slidell and Toombs upon the carpet as candidates for the United States Senate; it would avert from the authors of rebellion and responsible creators of its untold miseries, all the consequences of their wickedness. By the help of God, we would fight until the year 1900, sooner than concede this. A nation deluged in blood and draped with mourning has no mercy to show the dastards who sharpened the poignard for its heart. Our honor demands, our liberties demand, our hope of future peace and welfare demands that they shall be broken, humiliated, crushed—dragged in the very mire of defeat, and left to the black infamy which shall afford their only escape from oblivion. By the blood of the martyred brave—by the tears of weeping widows and the sighs of helpless orphans; by the grim recollection of every sorrow and every trial this war has brought, we are commanded to punish the traitors to the uttermost. They must lose their right to office; they must lose their negroes; they must lose their landed estates; they must lose their social positions—and of the miserable boon of their miserable lives, it will be that they may wander, outcast and contemptible, a standing warning to all generations against the crime which involved their doom. For the masses who have been made to swell the ranks, either by enforced conscription, or by sinuous delusion on the part of their leaders, we may have sympathy, tenderness, forgiveness—for the black-hearted and red handed wretches who have brought the nation to this dreadful pass, nothing but overthrow, confusion, annihilation.

The one task before us now is to push our conquest to completion. When we have thoroughly conquered the South the rebels will learn the terms of submission, and not till then. No proclamations are needed, other than those which Grant, Sherman and Sheridan carry in their scabbards. Let the army do its work. It will be time enough to talk of new proclamations to the rebels when our arms have secured us free access to them. "Unless," says the paper we have already quoted, "we are to abandon the grounds upon which we have fought two years, we can agree to nothing as a basis of settlement which shall not involve the humiliation of the Traitor chieftains, absolute confiscation of their estates, complete and immediate emancipation, and a reconstruction of Southern society. In other words, when we do make peace, it will be with the people of the South, white and black, and upon such terms as will result to their advantage, and not with the leaders, in a way to relieve them from deserved infamy and ruin."

THE PENNSYLVANIA SPRING ELECTIONS.—We gather but few facts from our Pennsylvania exchanges relative to the recent Spring elections in that State; but indications are, that there is no material change in the political aspect of affairs.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Spring Elections in this State are rarely contested upon strict party grounds; but so far as the purely political offices are concerned, such as Judges and Inspectors of Elections, the returns of the late elections throughout the State show pretty much the same results as were shown at the November contest. Wherever the friends of the Union had a majority then they have succeeded now, and vice versa. The vote is always light at this election, and neither party has ever been much inclined to claim the result as a victory.

The Churches of the Slave States.

The progress of anti-Slavery sentiments in the recovered Slave States is not altogether so conspicuous and rapid as the friends of freedom desire, yet it is gratifying to know that there is some real, and not only apparent progress everywhere, and that in several places the progress already made is of a very cheering character.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is especially doing great service to the cause of freedom by the extension of its territory in the Slave States. Since 1864, when the General Conference of this church proposed an amendment to the church constitution, by virtue of which slaveholders are excluded from the church, no one will dispute the claim of this denomination to be classed among the anti-Slavery churches of the country. The Annual Conferences this year are ratifying the proposed amendment, and it is already certain that, with the solitary exception of the Baltimore Conference, all the Annual Conferences in the present or former Slave States will be nearly unanimous in concurring in the proposition of the General Conference. The Baltimore Conference disgraced itself by rejecting the new anti-Slavery rule by a vote of 57 to 37; but the Kentucky Conference by a unanimous vote approved it, and the same result has been or will be reached by all the other Slave State Conferences.

The Southern Methodist Episcopal Church is manifestly beginning disorganized in all the Slave States which are now within the Union lines. In Missouri it is a complete wreck, and there is a general disposition among the loyal Southern Methodists to join the Methodist Episcopal Church. In Kentucky, Dr. Parsons, one of the prominent Methodist preachers in the South, has, together with another minister of the Southern Church, rejoined the old Church, and numbers of laymen have already begun to follow their example.

Still more pleasing is the news from Tennessee. In East Tennessee most of the Methodist congregations have declared themselves free from the Southern Church, and desirous to unite again with the Methodist Episcopal Church. The number of members who have adhered to a declaration of this kind already exceeds four thousand in East Tennessee alone, and is expected soon to reach ten thousand. In May the preachers will convene, and the first Tennessee conference in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church be reorganized.

The city of New Orleans has now three flourishing congregations in fellowship with the Methodist Church, and here are reasons for anticipating the very shortly he entire Southern Methodis Church of the State of Louisiana will return to the old fold.

The Cumberland Presbyterians have been heretofore a strong pro-Slavery church, but at the last General Assembly, in 1864, they passed resolutions urging the immediate abolition of Slavery. The delegates of East Tennessee voted with the majority. In February, 1865, the East Tennessee Synod, which embraces the churches of East Tennessee and Northern Georgia, met at Concord, Knox County, and reorganized the the Presbyteries constituting it. The Synod passed a unanimous resolution to acquiesce hearfily in the resolutions of the last General Assembly on Slavery.

Similar news is received from other States and from other religious bodies. But the facts above adduced will suffice to prove that the planting of anti-Slavery churches in the Slave States has begun in earnest.—N. Y. Tribune.

Attempted Bribery at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, March 23.—Astounding disclosures were made this morning in the Senate, showing that at least two and probably three outside persons had attempted to extort twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars from the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company, on the plea that this amount was necessary to secure the passage of the bill before the Senate. The bill itself was a perfectly legitimate one, which would have passed without objections, and it was intimated that the knowledge of this fact induced the conspirators to attempt to extort the money from the Railway Company.

INFANTRY IN THE ARMY.—The investigations of Dr. Nichols, Superintendent of the Government hospitals for the insane, shows that the progress of the war has been attended with a decrease of the cause of mental derangement in the army. The increase, as the war continues, in the proportion of acclimated and injured men, the better knowledge of the importance and modes of practical prophylactics which prevails among the troops, and the exemption from new or more active moral disturbances have without doubt, diminished the number and force of those agencies which are calculated to unbalance the sound mind. The number of army patients at the insane hospital, at the close of the last fiscal year, was 186, of which 5 were colored men. The navy has contributed 19 patients, of which 9 were colored men, and 4 rebel prisoners, have needed medical treatment.

THE semi official papers of Mexico contradict the report of a cession of Sonora to France. The Razon says that the Emperor of Mexico has accepted the throne with the most determined intention, not only to respect its dignity and independence but to maintain the integrity of the national territory. The Era Nouvelle, a French paper of the Mexican capital, says of Dr. Gwin's project of colonization, that Dr. Gwin did, in fact, come to Mexico with the intention to turn a large stream of immigration, especially from the Confederate States to Sonora, but that he has now completely abandoned the project and returned to Europe.

GEN. HAWLEY, in command at Wilmington, has issued an order for the delivering up to the Federal authorities of all rifles and muskets and their appurtenances, swords, pistols, and military weapons and equipments that were formerly held by the so-called Confederate authorities. It is known that a large quantity of small arms of various descriptions, were left in the city.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—This morning's Chronicle says: "The news we published yesterday respecting the occupation of Goldsboro by Sherman, has been confirmed. He entered it without opposition on Sunday last."

THE spotted fever is very prevalent in Indiana, and is exciting the utmost terror. We have learned of several fatal cases in the south part of the county of Rensselaer.—Chicago Evening Journal.

IT was stated in debate in the North Carolina Legislature, a few weeks since, that the entire effective force of the Confederacy comprised only 121,000 men.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN THUS SPEAKS OF THE Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, Which should be considered by those who desire to purchase the BEST FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

We are having a great many inquiries for Sewing Machines from various parts of the country, and as we can not conveniently reply to them all by mail, we have thought it proper to state our opinion in regard to them in this public manner. We have used Wilson's patent, manufactured by the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company, and we can say in regard to it, that it is without a rival. It is simple, not easily put out of order, and, in point of effectiveness and finish, no other machine stands ahead of it. We state this much in regard to the excellent machine upon our own responsibility.

This Company have made and sold during the last three months, 10,475 machines, and are now producing and selling 150 per day. They vary in price from $60 to $150, the medium priced ones sell best. In their business there is over $1,000,000 invested, and they keep 1,000 men regularly employed manufacturing machines. The system pursued is the same as that adopted in the manufacture of arms, every piece is made to a gauge, and consequently the parts of any machine may be transposed with those of another machine of the same size; or should an accident occur, the broken part can immediately be replaced on application at the office.

DR. D. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. All who have used this STANDARD MEDICINE for ASTHMA, CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, PLEURISY, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COLDS AND COLDS, HOARSENESS, and all Pulmonary Complaints, will testify to its usefulness.

Recent Coughs and Colds, Pleuritic Pains, etc., are soon fully and effectually cured by its diaphoretic, expectorant and anodyne properties.

Asthma is always often. It overcomes the spasmodic contraction of the air vessels, and by producing free expectoration, at once removes all difficulty of breathing.

Bronchitis readily yields to the Expectorant. It subdues the inflammation which extends through the wind tubes, promotes free expectoration and suppresses at once the cough and pain.

Consumption—For this insidious and fatal disease no remedy has ever been found so effectual. It subdues the inflammation, suppresses the cough and pain, and relieves the difficulty of breathing, and by causing an easy expectoration, all irritating and obstructing matters are removed from the lungs.

Whooping Cough is promptly relieved by this Expectorant. It shortens the duration of this disease one half, and greatly mitigates the suffering of the patient.

In all Pulmonary Complaints, in Croup, Pleurisy, &c., it will be found to be prompt, safe, pleasant, and reliable.

For Costiveness, Sick Headache and all Biliousness, try JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS.

All of Dr. D. Jayne's & Son's Family Medicines are sold in Pittsburgh, by H. L. Fahnestock & Co., and Joseph Fleming, Allegheny city by Park & Brill, and Frederick W. Gerdes, and by Druggists generally. mh23:3tWS

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNITED STATES 7-30 LOAN. By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three tenth per cent. interest, per annum, known as the SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN. These Notes are issued under date of August 15th, 1864, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into U. S. 5-20 Six Per Cent GOLD BEARING BONDS, These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent., including gold interest from November, which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent. per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent	per day on a	$50	note.
Two cents	" " "	$100	"
Ten	" " "	$500	"
20	" " "	$1000	"
$1	" " "	$5000	"

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $200,000,000 remain unsold, which will probably be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loan.

In order that the citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

JAY COOKE, Subscription Agent, Philadelphia.
