"By these recent successes, the reinauguration of the National authority, reconstruction, which has had a large share of thought from the first, is pressed much more closely upon our attention. It is franght with great difficulty; nalike a case of war between independent nations, there is no suithorized organ for us to treat with. No one man has authority to give up rebellion for any olter man. We simply must begin with, said mould from disorganized and discordant clements. Nor is it a small additional embartasament that we the loyal people differ among ourselves as to the mode, manner and measure of reconstruction. As a general rule, I abstain from reading reports of attacks upon myself, wishing not to be; provided by that to which I cannot properly offer an animal, I applied any in the presention, however, it offices mouse supposed agency in setting up and seeking to tustain the new State government of Louisiana. In this precaution, however, it offices in my knowledge that i am much censured from some supposed agency in setting up and seeking to tustain the new State government of Louisiana. In this I have done just so much and no more than the public knows.

"In the annual message of December, 1863, and accompanying proclamation, I presented a plan of reconstruction, as the phrase goes, which i promised, if adopted by any State, should be acceptable to and etualated by the Executive content of the provised processed that the Executive claimed no right to save when or whether members should be admitted to reats in Congress from such States:

The Twenty-Inch Naval Gun "Reclate-bub" at Fort Pitt Works. The 20-inch Dabigren navy gun just completed at the Fort Pitt Works, is the largest of the kind ver cast. Its mate, an army gun, is mounted in New York harbor. This mammoth piece of ordnance was constructed as an exper the Government, and will very probably prove a success. It was christened the "Beskebub," by Capt. H. A. Wise, Chief of the Bureau of Ord nance. Its actual weight is 08,915 pounds, and it will throw a solid ball of 1,080 pounds. The only other gun of the same callbre above men-tioned, was tested in the following manner: A
