PULL PARTICULARS. WARRINGTON, April 15 President Lincols and wife, with other friends, this evening visited Ford's Theatre for the purpose of witness ing the performance of the "American Cousin. It was apaquiced in the papers that Gen. Gran would also be present, but that gentleman tool the late train of cars for New Jersey. The the sire was densely crowded and everybody seem ed delighted with the scene before them. During the third act, and while there was temporary pause for one of the actors to enter ly attracted attention, but suggesting nothing scrious until a man rushed to the front of the President's box waving a long darger in his right hand and exclaiming, "Sic Semper Tyran nis," and immediately leaped from the box neath and serors to the opposite side, making his escape, amid the bewilderment of the audience frem the rear of the theatre, and inounting a house, fied. The sereams of Mrs. Lincoln first disclos the fact to the audience that the President had been shot, when all present rose to their feet rushing towards the stage, many exclaimin "Hang him!" The excitement was of the wildest possible duscription, and of course there was an abrupt intermission of the theatrical performance.

There was a rush towards the President's box, when cries were heard "stand back and give him als " Has any one stimulants?"

On a basty examination it was found that the President had been shot through the head above and back of the semporal caul, and that some of the brain was oozing out. He was removed to a private house, opposite the theatre, and the Surgeon General of the Army and other surgeon sent for to attend to his condition. On examination of the private box, blood was discovered on the back of the cushloned rockingchair on which the President had been sitting also on the partition; and on the floor a common single-barrelled pocket pistol was found on the carpet. A military guard was placed in front of the private residence to which the President had been conveyed. " An immense crowd was in front of it, all deeply suxious to learn the condition of the President. It had been previously appounced that the wound was mortal, but all hoped otherwise. The shock to the community was terrible. At midnight the Cabinet, fogether with Messre. Sumner, Befoy and Farnsworth, Judge Bertis, Governor Oglesby, General Melgs, Colonel Hay, with Surgeon General Barnes and his immediate arsistants, were around his bed-

The President and Mrs. Lincoln did not start for the tacatre until 15 minutes after So'clock Speaker. Colfax was at the White House at the time and the President stated to him that he was rolug although he (Lincols) hal not been well, because the papers had announced that General Grant and they were to be present: and as Gen. Grant had gone north, he did not wish the audience to be disappointed. He went with apparent reluctance and urged Mr. Colfax to go with him, but that gentleman had made ther engagements, and with Mr. Ashman, of Maseachusetts, bld him good bye. SICKRTARY BEWARD., When the excliement at the theatre was a s wildcet height, reports were circulated that cretary Seward had also been assassinated. The Continental has an excellent tirike, which will yield perhaps thirty barrels per day, but on account of great perpleaity in trifling away precious time with an old engine, and trouble with a new one of inferior quality, this well has not yet been fully tested, but it is unquestionably a big strike, and will pay the company richly.

The Dunkard Velley, or Hare and Davis company have also a big strike, which will yield about twenty flive or thirty barrels per day. The four last mentioned wells are in close proximity to each other on the Maple farm.

The Enterprize well, on the Balley farm, is pumping from four to eight barrels per day.

The Lucas well has had several medium strikes, but not being satisfied with the quantity, the company are boring; to a greater depth, with a good prospect of ruccess.

In consequence of the instability of a clay or acapstone strats in the Kinmer well, the company have not been able to pump for some time, but when these obstanctions are removed, the petrokum will yield about twenty barrels per day at this point.

at Annor's Saicon last night, was densely crowdcd, and the interest naulifested was considerable.
Mille de Katow elicited much applause. She is most prepossersing in person, has a sine presserce and was attired superbly a la russe, and not at all like an ordinary arist in the concert room—a rich robe of black velvet, and a coronel of leaves and flowers, interspersed with jewels, being substituted for the more familiar white, or pink, or blue we are accustomed to. While cuthased, as ane evidently was, during her performance, she reminded one somewhat of the celebrated picture of St. Cecilia in the Louvre.
No one who heard her last night in the exquisite composition of Servais, can doubt that she is a rare musical genius. The difficult and not over graceful instrument upon which she performed scemed a part of herself; the passion of the árrist spoke in every tone. There is no evidence of labor or exertion in her playing, nor display of physical effort in mastering the instrument, it seems to respond to the will of the player, as if by aymalay. She is undoubtedly a very perfict violoncellist, perhaps the best acw-living.

"Mr. Wehli much resembles Tanborg, and we have no hesitation in saying that in clearness, delicacy of timeh and boldness of execution he has not teen excelled in this country slace Phalter's time. There is a quality about Mr. Wehli which is most agreeable, and that is the unpretending manner in which he undertakes his task.
There is fouriah about him. He eits at the instrument with case and grace, and as he proceeds you are surprised that one with so little suparent pretendon can accompilate so much life secretion, with the left hand alone, in the fintalsie from Lucie, was a marvel. The audicore showed their appreciation of his merits by an encors to exercy plece. Mr. Strakossh has coic showed their appreciation of his merits by an energy to every piece. Mr. Strakosch has given us in these two artists something really meritorious as well as novel, and we presume will resp his reward in a continued success." Home for Disabled Discharged Soldiers.
