SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1865. RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE. The New York Tribune, in an editoria the National Unitarian Convention, which met in that city on the 5th instant, gives unmistakable evidence of its sym pathy with "Liberal Christianity," assuming that the body are the true trien Is of free, progressive thought. Reference is then made to the high standard of education and intelligence that prevails in that cenomination, embedying, it says, even a more striking degree of talent and cultivaion, and social influence than is usually in the great co-lesiastical gatherings of this country. This is open to discussion. It' then refers to the introduction of Unitarianism in New York, from which it appears the first sermon was preached in a private house, by the eloquent Dr. Channing of Boston, in the mouth of April 1819, and in the following Maya large congregation was ssembled in the Hall of the Medical College in Barclay street to listen to his bold and rovel expositions of Christian doctrine. The First Unitarian church was dedicated in January, 1821. Since then the denomi nation has had internal dissensions in some places, which has prevented that unity and compass of power which might have been regretted that an influential journal like the Tribune should commend Theodore Parker and his followers in such glowing terms, n view of the fact that every evangelical denomination have been arrayed against his pernicious tere sings. Speaking bring her canton. Our chizens, upon hear the glad news, commenced the ringing of bells tiewing horns, shouting the joyful news to or another, until the whole population men, women called to the front. The admission, without question, of these audacious innovators, is end children were on the streets. Old men came out in carriages and on horseback, gaily decorated with flags, and the national emblem floated from the windows of the stores and private buildings. There never was a more hearty and sportaneous outburst of public joy in this ancient village since the days of Parkinson's Ferry. The usually staid old inhabitants were much justled out of the conventional rules of gravity, and mingled freely with the happy glee of youth. In the evening the M. E. church was, thruwn come, and the people assembled for muthors with the many cone, and the people assembled for muand children were on the streets. O5serrer, it was remarkable as a religious assembly for its ignorance of its own faith; remarkable for its inability to define even its of youth. In the evening the M. E. chite's was thrown ones, and the people assembled for mutual grantilations. Dr. S. M. King was called it priesled, and the meeting was opened by prayer by the Rev. S. G. Dunlap, and then was addressed by Prof. Milligan, T. R. Hazzard, Eq., and Hon. George V. Lawrence. The choir enlivened the occasion with particule songs, and altogether it was one of the most pleasant and Joyful days we ever experienced. The meeting at 11st close arose at the request of the President and closed the extretage of the evening by singing the Dux. idea of Christ the Head of the Church, and remarkable for its entire failure to accomplish anything as a basis for the object that ummoned it into existence. The originator of the movement and its leading spirit, (Dr. Bellows at the head of the Sanitary Commission,) announced the following proposi tion, which was received with such favo that no one questioned it: "We ought t abor for the elevation of the heathen aroun Before Judges Mellen and Brown. are in danger of going to hell-which, ble

In the preamble As will be seen by reference to the court pro ccrdings this morning, the notorious John Wall has at last "come to grief." There has been a lorg reckoning against him, and he has heretofore evapted payment; but being captared last Monday at a place of; amusement, the old indict ments against him, such as had not been tost, were brought out, the dust shaken from them, and their several charges tied. Jils Honor, the Judge, after all had been disposed of, asked if there was nothing clee against him, when the District Attorney bethought him of swo others;
one for decorderly house and another for selling liquor, which had long been pending, and were not eltermined, owing to the escape of Wall.
The Court oldered the defendant to pay the coust.
Wall has kept one of the lowest dens in the city, to enter which it was a much as a man's life to Another Copperhead Outrage.—Two rufflan blackguards, named Johnston and Dougherry, came on board the steam of Eayette, at Flyerte City, during the general rejoicing on Monday last, asserting that they "were Coperhoads, and cond whipfany Republican-Abbilitionist on alternion was paid to their claim it, but when they returned to the wharf, stones were thrown from the crowd on the wharf at the boat, notwithstanding the danger to many lady pa sengers, and as veral persons who severely wounded.

Nothing but the consideration of Captain Speer

The difficulty embraced systeties cases—cough to occupy a weak's time at the ordinary rate of disposing cases, in the course—and all were not, provided the payment of costs by Mr. O'Hars; the damages, if any there be, to Mr. Burkhardt, to be sattled by an award of arbitrators. It will be a great saving of time to the court and the parties engard, and will in the end, we indue, subserve the ends of justices. To all those pugnaciously inclined, we would recommend the moral of the above transaction. Its prents are placty-one in number, and ome volunteers. An idea of the work,

CITY AND SURPERING.

No More Drafting. The announcement that there is to be no midrafting is received with a marked degree satisfaction. The cares, anxieties and perpletities attendant upon the "draft" have been hap rily dissipated, and the "enrolled men" bree ee once more. According to the order there! o te no more recruiting in the loyal States, and hence it may be inferred that the ranks will be kept filled by drafts or collistingents among the seminelpated blacks of the South.

This audden stoppage of the draftel wheel of the Provott Marshal will produce some woulderful changes. Thousands at home will be released from the bordage of fear, while thousands "abroad" will come seasking to their homes, one by one, as quictly and steaking to their homes, one by one, as quictly and steaking to their homes, one by one, as quictly and steaking it stone be mittered out, and "our army of occupation in Candar's will be immediately disbanded. Bundreds of young men, who had urgent business abroad about his time fixed for the draft, will be dropping in among their friends, and no doubt many of them will express greaf sorrow that recruiting has been stopped, as it will prevent her realization of their long-therished desire to enter the service!

The occupation of recruiting officers, draft committees, bounty jampers and substitute brokers will be gone. The great army of detectives, whose eyes and ears are everywhere throughout the north, will soon be dismissed, and the hunted descretes will come forth from their hiding places, and seek the enjoyment and protection of the government which they have beirayed.

The order to stop drafting and recruiting will give a fivish impetus to business, in many of its departments. Hundred off men, with capital to invest in lands, houses, and yursults or various kinds, have been holding back for months in order to see whether their time would be their own, or whether Uncle Sam would require from them a helping hand. Labor will now become more abundant, and workmen will be more "active" in their places of employment. Men will be gin to build, houses with some assurance that they will get a chance in occupy them, farmers will sow in anticipation of being able to reay the harvest, and thousands will now turn their attention to lodustrial pursuits who have for years past been floating from place to place, without any extited employment. hence it may be inferred that the ranks will
