Death of Mrs. Dickerson.

Death of Mrs. Dickerson. We learn, with the deepest regret, that the wife of the Rev. James S. Dickerson died in ... Philadelphia, on Monday evening, after a brief illiness. The Rev. Mr. Dickerson had left his illness. The Rev. Mr. Dickerson had left his former place of residence, Wilmington Delaware, on Wednesday, with his family, to come to this city, having accepted a manimous call from the First Bapitst Church, to become their paster. On reaching Philadelphis, Mrs. D. became so ill that it was impossible for her to continue the journey, and she was taken to the house of the Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, where, tended with the loving skadduides of all around her; and lingered till faually death relieved her from her sufferings on Monday night. We are sure that all who read this will deeply sympathize with the bereaved and afflicted family.

Arrest of John Lenox. Our readers will remember that Mr. Robert Morrow was anot and killed by John Lenox, in October last, at Washington, Pennsylvania. The October last, as Washington, Pennsylvania. The manderer succeeded in making his escape and a reward of two hundred dollars was offered for his arrest. One day last week he was discovered and arrested in Parkersburg, by United States detective Quincy Mounts, and on Monday was taken to Whaeling, on board, the steamer, Petomac. He was there met by Mr., Edward Salth, sheriff of Washington county, and Mr. S. O. Wolf, and under their charge conveyed to Washington for trial. Lenox was engaged as a wagon driver between Parkersburg and the mineral wells in that vicinity.
