The Stock Market opens very heavy. There was but one sale of Cherry Run & Pittsburgh & Philadelphia at 1,10 reported from morning board. This is the lowest figure this has touched since its organization, but so far as we could learn it is all the market will bear.

It is however in keeping with the price at which every stock on the list is going at present. How soon there will be a change and for the better it is useless to speculate, while the steadiness in the gold market, and the low product of oil would seem to make an advance certain, within a short time.

Gold declined one per cent from Saturday's quotations. U. S. Bonds are also declining. Our New York telegram is as follows: 1831's, 105¾; Five Twenties, 105¾; Ten Forties, 96¾; Certificates, 99¾; Gold, 134.

There was considerable stir in Banner oil stock on the street to-day, and we are cognizant of several hundred shares having changed hands at 135—an advance. It was offered repeatedly last week at 1,25@1,30 without finding buyers. The improved feeling in this stock is owing to the Company having sold a portion of their territory for which they realize a sum almost equal to their capital stock.

There was a decidedly better feeling at the Stock Board this evening and with an unusually large attendance, the transactions were larger than for some time past. There was a slight advance established in the price for some Stocks, and in some instances holders were unwilling to sell at the improvement. Cherry Run and Pitt Hole, Tarr, Story and Cherry Run and Union Lubric were the most prominent and Columbia, too, sold at a slight improvement. The sales were

The New York Times says the proposition to pay off the entire public debt, of the United States, incurred for the rebellion and, the vindication of the National Union and supremacy, by the immediate voluntary contributions of the large tax-payers of the country—divided by 150,000 shares of $20,000 each—attracts a good deal of remark in the street to-day. The plan really begins to be deemed feasible; more so, perhaps, in respect to raising the requisite pledges of the money, than in regard to the ability or power of the Government to call in the funded stocks or its 7-30 per cents, convertible into such stocks, or even its greenbacks, without good money guaranteeing or the purchase of the stocks not subject to redemption until 1907 to 1881 at premiums which would not be justified by the nature of the plan itself. This mightpossibly be rendered by receiving the voluntary surrender of the great tax-payers of the ability to the full amount, subject to assessments only so fast as the Government could command the reduction of the public debt. Assuming the finality of the war to leave a gross public debt of $3,000,000,000, (in round thousand millions,) its redemption at par would be commanded by the Government in about the following proportions:

Ordinary greenbacks when presented	$450,000,000
Interest greenbacks due in 1867	80,000,000
6-20's subject to redemption in 1867	616,000,000
6-20's in 1868	350,000,000
6-20's in 1872	450,000,000
6-20's in 1874	60,000,000
6-20's in 1881	350,000,000
6s of 1881 in 10	172,000,000
10-40's in 1904	42,000,000
Old debt not to 1874	—
Together	$2,480,000,000
Certificates of indebtedness on deposit, Arrearages, claims, &c.	520,000,000
Total	$3,000,000,000
