WANTED. AGENTS FOR "THE WANTED. AGENTS FOR "THE BUNGEON AND THE ESCAPE," BY ALBREY BY -4.7 [81: 15WTS. ST ECI.IL NOTICES. Line gutsturgh Buzene. ITTODURGH THE SATIRE. DRY GGOMS WE. BARSHILL, & CO., MERCHANT TAILORS. FINANCIAL. A few days ago we noticed the arrest of a re-Boiler Makers & Sheet Iron Workers, REMOVAL! turned soldler named dimpson, on a charge of stealing thirty-five dollars from a companion named Rawler, while drunk in a beef that. Simpson, at the time of his arrest, alleged that the money taken from Rawler was his own, but the money taken from Rawler was his own, but the money taken from Rawler was his own, but the money taken from Rawler was of a thief, and but little attention was paid to it. He was committed to jail to answer at the next term of court. A day or two after, the wife of 'Rawler called upon Mayor Lowry, and made a statement which goes to exculpate slimpson entirely from any felonious intent. She stated that Simpson and she had liyed neighbors in the 'old country,' (Ireland), and that he came over to this country and enlisted in the army. On his discharge he had some four or five hundred dollars. Her husband (Rawler) had been doing so badly that they were unable to pay their board bills, and Simpson had kindly losined her fifty dollars to help her out of are pinch. This money was grabed by Rawler, who at once began to "sprees" it. She told Simpson to get this money from him, or he would not leave a dollar of it unspert. He accordingly began drinking with Rawler, and when he got him sufficiently boozy he riffed his peckets. The Mayor then began to look into the facts a little closer, and found that Rawler had a very bad reputation. He also learned that Simpson had deposited one hundred and eighty dollars with a friend in Manchester, which he claimed was of the same kind of money which he had loaved Mrs. Rawler, and which he had taken book from he husband. The three ten dollar notes, (new government bills,) which he had taken from Rawler, were examined, and the numbers on the solid which he had deposited in Manchester, showing conclusively that the three ten's belonged originally to the larger sum. EDITORS GLEFTE:—In my opinion the soldier should have the preference for any office the people or their authorized agents can confer upon them, when they can fill them with ability. Now my intention is to show that the present Superintendent of the Allegheny City Water Works has filled his position so far with marked ability, as the condition of the works and basin will show. When he took his present polition he found everything in a very bad condition, Pumps needed repairing and the hasin also was out of order. In fact everything needed overhauling; but how to repair these defects was a question that could not be easily answered. The pumps could not be repaired unless they were stopped, and they could not be stopped, for they were then being run night and day, and yet the city could not be supplied with sufficient water. But our Superintendent was not to be discouraged. He knew the citizens expected him to surply them with water, so he put his wits and hands together, and by some means got the whole machinery in spiendid working order, so that now the city has abundance of water, and yet he only works one-half the pumps and engine, and still more surprising, the works are sine, and still more surprising, the works are only run from ten to twelve hours per day. But still a minority report states he is incompetent, when his works show to the contrary. I know him to be a good practical mechanic, and fully competent to fill the cfilice which he now folds. But he was forced to rough his position on account of desgreeing with one or two of the Water Committee on matters of minor import ince.

If the people intend to honor their brave soldiers, when his works show to the contrary. I know him to be a good practical mechanic, and fully competent to fill the cfilice which he now holds, while he cannot diers, who left their homes and firesides, and bared their breasts to the use of his right arm in the defence of our beloved country, but it does not in any way hinder him from f "COSTAR'S" EDITORS GAZETTE :-- In myopinion the soldie "OOSTAR'S nishing Goods, Bead Gimps and Gramments, Worsted Hoslery and Gloves, Moop Skirts, No. tions and Small Wares, are now receiving their first assentment of he bar, where she still remains. PRONOUNCE Reduction.—Our triend, Mr. John Weier No. 136 Federal street Allegheny, was in the cast when the giorious name of the carture of A farm of 102 agree, 75 cleared, balance timber; well watered with springs and small streams; situate four miles from Hairsville, on the Hopethe officer, he found his daughter in the indices room, swaling the arrival of the train from the west. The train soon arrived and Meisti and his paramour had scarcely finished their congratulations at meeting, when the officer took them both in custody, and procuring a carriage, drove them to the Mayor's office. Meisti was considerably frightened, as he did not pretend to deny that he had ran away with, the old man's daughter, and had been living with her as this wife. He talked freely about his lawful wife, alleging that when he found it impossible to live any longer with her, he settled $1,700 upon her, and concluded to hunt hisself asother partner. He had one that suited him now, and if they would seed him to the panitentiary for five rears he would have her when he got out—and monody else. This pleasad the aforesaid partner, and she returned the compliment by asserting him that her father desired her to return befine with him, (at least pretended so,) but she persistently returned. After failing matters over for an hour or so, it was orident that a "compromise" would osefected. Melaki had plenty of money, and money has often been known to melt the heart of the most unrelending "parient." Arrested for Forgery.—Yestorday a young man named Bruce C. McCarthy was arrested and taken before Alderman Nichouson, on a charge of forging the name of Robert Piteairn, Edg., Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, It appears that the acrused, whose father is ticket agent at Stewart's Statism, on the Central road, procured a number of blank passes; which he filled out, and signed Mr. Flicairn's name to them. After this arrest, he acknowledged to having forged three passes, but it is supposed that the number is much larger. McCarthy is very respectably connected, but as he has conducted himself very hedity of late, his friends decided himself very hedity of late, his friends decided to interfere in his behalf, and he was committed to jail, in default of one thousand dollars ball, to answer the charge at court.
