LETTER FROM RICHMOND.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette. RICHMOND, (Va.,) July 15, 1865. Bear Gastte :-- I am now in the fallen capital of the defunct Confederacy. As many of the readers of the GAZETTE will have a desire to visit this "seven-hiled" city-once the stronghold of secession and disloyaliy-I may state, in a few words, the route by which I reached it. The Pennsylvania and Northern Central Railroads brought me, with their usual dispatch, in safety to Baltimore, where I embarked in the "George Leary," one of the steamers of the ', New Line" en the monumental city and Richmond. This" New Line," although only two months n operation, has risen high in popular favor. In operation, has view bid only two months in operation, has view bid only two months are well filled every scremp. The fable spread is superfor even to that of arms of our first-class holds at the present time, and contrasts favora-bly with the princely fare which we formerly en-loyed on board the "packets" on the Ohlo river. The best skill of the forsit, too, is called into regulstics to delight the syn, whilst the palate tables were in a blaze of florid heating. Ta the tables were in a blaze of florid heating. But I exampt first in rom mentioning the names of Mr. Fittere Hoopes, Jr., the Purser of the Leary, and not unknown to the brave boys of the Ninth Reserves, and Mr. D. J. Hill, of the Dictator. Both of these gautheme have placed me under the sing obligations for their kind endeavors to make me comfortable on the constant aim to render the the plasant to the passengers. The "New Line" was blight com-ized it, and I can now way cordially commend it to gibters who may desire to wist these regions of intense bisoric interest. There are no more fourneys, and Mr. C. W. NEW York, July 15. The South Carolina delega-tion represent the people of South Carolina unanimous in their acquiescence to the present order of affairs, and are not only satisfied with their costly experiment of retting up a govern-ment for themselves outside of the Union, and most uncompromising auvocates of stavery, have already began to look on emancipation as really a benefit to them, and are inclined to the opinion convinced of their inability to break up the Union, but are willing and anxious to accept that compresented labor will in the end be far more preditable and satisfactory to the land own-ers of that State generally. All the principal the result as an unavoidable conclusion, and are determined to do all in their power to become South Carolina crojs, excepting rice, are rep-resented as yielding abundantly this year.
