In those parts of the Slate where the grass, whest and oats are secured, as a general thing they see above the average. The great shaple of the West, the ocroscop, is is a fouritating condition and gives evidence that it will not fall below its average. [From the Stark County 'III.] News, 12th.] Farmers in this vicinity have commenced their the one than a sverage crop. It was thought at one time that the chinch bugs would destroy nearly all she grain, but for some reason this pest has second to subside. Some pieces will be more or less injured by them, but they are doing less thans. The oats crop will be immense, and com looks neity. COMMISSION MERCHANTS, DISTHRIDGE'S PATENT MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. W. disegred scape grace, who has contrived to drag his fasher down to ruin. The sin of the fulls appears to have been that of Ell, in lending a too ready car to the suggestions of his unworthy form. In the Edmunds case it appears that Mr. Ed-munds was a reader in the Honse of Lords with a bundsome selary and very little to down in originally procured the colles in a manner the soring hard sources has accounts, to put it in the middest way, having been preferred against Mr. Edmunds, the Lord Chancellor, the preferred in place of investigating the matter as it was his forty to do, permitted that genelions to rest, to put it in the middest way, having been preferred against Mr. Edmunds, the Lord Chancellor, the value of the source of his caller for money considerations of which, however, the Lord Chancellor does not any area to have been opinizant. Routhe most serious charge against the Lord But the most serious charge against the Lvri Chancellow was in relation to the Leeds Bank-ruptcy Cont. In this affair there does not seem to be a single extenuating circumstance. He appointed his con, "whose conduct," he says, "was a disgrace and source of infinite sorrow to him for ten years, to a Registrarship in the Leeds Court of Bankruptcy." But this was not all, the made room for him by removing Mr. Wilde, the former incumhent, against whom serions charges of corrunt practices had been net all. He made room for him by removing Mr. Wilde, the former incemhent, against whom serions charges of corrupt practices had been preferred, and permitted him to retire on a pen-sion, thus making way for the scape-grace son, who, it, was proved, actually rescived a bibbo for excretaing his influence with his father in procuring for Wilds a re-tiring penaloo on a cham plea of ill-hesith. Another case was that of Mr. Welch, a lawyer on the Northern Circuit, who was desirous of on the Northern Circuit, who was desirous of obtaining a public appointment, and laid out his money so judiciously with, Mr. Richard Bethell that he procured a handsome appointment from the Lord Chancellor. Mr. Bethell received about twelve hundred pounds for his services ine Lora Unancellor. Mr. Bethell received about twelve hundred pounds for his services, and a clargyman, the Rev. Mr. Hardinge, was the go-between in the affair. In the Edmunds case the Lord Chancellor appointed another son, Mr. Blingsby Bethell, to the vacancy created by the retiring pensioner.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser. Bilingsby Bethell, to the vacancy created by the retiring pencioner.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser.
Immigration to North Carolina.
Efforts are already being made to promote imgration to North Carolina on an extensive scale.
Governor Holden and the leading Ubion men of the State realize this is social and political regeneration nust come by the influx of Northern capital and energy, and for this purpose a generation and energy and for this purpose of the State. The ageocy, had hardly been opened be the order of the enigratult and capitalise the mineral and activations of land, and many mill sitzs, town and city lots were offered for sole. The want of money is very great, and cyrites of real estatements in or reasonable. Colonel J. M. Heck, and R. P.
