OUR STANDARD BEARERS.

JOHN F. HARTRANFT, candidate for Auditor General, is a citizen of Norristown, Montgomery county, and is about thirty-five years old. He is, we believe, thoroughly educated. He began his career as a civil engineer; subsequently devoting himself to the study of law, he was admitted to practice. He pursued, as we are informed, his profession for a number of years with honorable distinction. When the war broke out, he did not hesitate to abandon a lucrative and growing business at the bar. He immediately entered the service and received the command of one of the "three month's regiments." Our readers will remember the difficulties with a number of these regiments, which, claiming that their term of service had expired, refused to move against the enemy while the battle of Bull Run was in progress, and it was at this time when Colonel Hartranft's regiment took up their march homeward, that he himself remained on the field, and was honored for his firmness and bravery by being placed on General Franklin's staff. His career afterwards throughout the war was in keeping with this act. After the Bull Run disaster, he immediately went home and raised another regiment—the 51st—for three years. On the expiration of the three years term of service the regiment re-enlisted. Col. Hartranft was soon after placed at the head of a brigade, and for his skill and bravery during Grant's memorable campaign of 1864, he was promoted to a full brigadier generalship. At Petersburg he displayed remarkable coolness and judgment, when others failed in these qualities, for which he was brevetted by the President Major-General of volunteers. The last duty that devolved on him was the command of the Washington Prison containing the conspirators during their trial and superintending their execution in the prison yard on the 7th of July last.

Col. Campbell is from Crawford county, and entered the service as Colonel of the 54th regiment. His record as an officer and soldier, was made on some of the hardest fought battle fields of the war. He has been often justly complimented for his bravery and skill by his superior officers. Colonel Campbell showed his confidence and deep interest in his country by a service of another character, not less useful than those we have alluded to. In the early history of the war, he was among the first men in Western Pennsylvania to come forward and aid the State by a loan of thirty thousand dollars, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of raising volunteers. We believe the Colonel is a printer by trade, but has for a good many years been engaged in business at Johnstown, in connection with the iron rolling establishments at that place. As a business man he is remarkable for his sagacity. We believe both of these men are capable and honest, and will do credit to themselves and the State in the honorable positions, to which the people will elect them in October.

SIGNS OF REGENERATION IN THE SOUTH.

One of the greatest social problems in the world's history is being worked out in the Southern States. Until now, their condition has been the opprobrium of our country. With our American civilization there has been intermixed an element of barbarism, which has produced an overbearing tyranny on the part of the ruling classes, and ignorance and servility on that of their less fortunate fellow-citizens. Violence and vice were the more apparent evils, but were of less moment than the stagnation, which prevented progress, while it allowed the corrupting influence of their institutions to work the deeper degradation of the people.

But the old condition of affairs is forcibly broken up. Great loss and suffering is the immediate result, but this is only the rugged path that leads to a bright future.—From all sides are entering the revivifying influences of a healthier social life. The North in the exercise of the most exalted benevolence is sending the missionaries of civilization, teachers and colporteurs, to enlighten the ignorant of both races alike; and these are reinforced by contributions of material aid. Yet stronger than such direct efforts is the undesigned natural effect of the influx of new men, with ideas, principles and improvements to which that region has been a stranger. Such places as Newbern in North Carolina and Atlanta in Georgia, where Northern men are fast gaining the ascendancy, will be the centres from which the light of a higher civilization will illumine the surrounding population. The sudden revival of the prosperity of these and some other places in the South is a sure index of what must take place universally, when that country, so highly favored by nature, shall be peopled by a class who shall depend for their well being on their own exertions, and not on the forced labor of slaves.

THE PROGRESS OF EMANCIPATION.—We have already noticed the movement inaugurated in Brazil and also in Spain for the abolition of slavery. Besides these Portugal is the only civilized nation in whose dominions slavery is tolerated. There too the same purpose is announced by the King of Portugal, in recently dismissing the National Legislature he declared that at the next session a strict law for final abolition of slavery in all the Portuguese possessions would be recommended. It is the great example shown by this country is having its legitimate effect, in bringing about the final extinction of slavery throughout christendom.

A POINT.—The Missouri Republican insists that the negro ought not to have civil rights in this country, because they have been guilty of rebellion and revolution in Hayti. Therefore for a stronger reason rebels are unfit to enjoy civil rights because they have been guilty of rebellion in this country.

HON. JOHN CESSNA,

Every act of the Union Convention seemed characterized by wisdom and good sense. Not the least of this was the election of Hon. JOHN CESSNA, of Bedford as the Chairman of the State Central Committee. Heretofore the selection of a Chairman has been lodged in the President of the Convention. So that it was necessary to change in an important matter a well-established precedent. But the change is an improvement and should for several reasons gives popular satisfaction. It was always giving to the presiding officer of the Convention an uncalled for power, liable to be exercised, as it undoubtedly has been, to the detriment of the public good. It seems to us eminently fit, that this officer should always be chosen by the Convention itself, apart from any influence such action may exert on the fortunes of leading aspirants for party honors. It is bringing the matter much nearer the people and likely for that reason, to keep the political managers and the ruling power in closer union than might always be the case under the old practice.

In the present instance not only the methods of selecting the chairman, meets our approval, but the man selected seems to us admirably fitted for the position. Mr. Cessna is really one of the strong men of Pennsylvania. He is not, it is true, without ambition; but we think him above mercenary and time serving influences. As a political manager we think he will develop rare skill and energy. He is well acquainted with the leading men of the State, and will immediately inform himself of the political wants of every county in it. As a parlimentarian he is second to no man in the State or perhaps out of it. He is an able debater, and we think will prove a skillful strategist. His election was received with great enthusiasm by the Convention, and will do much toward inspiring the people to the achievement of a great victory in October.

A GEORGIA PAPER.—The Macon Telegraph, which was a leading rebel journal during the war, comes to us, in a temper better suited to the altered condition of its part of the country. The publisher complains of the entire want of mails in that section. In the absence of a circulating medium he offers to receive produce in payment from his patrons at these rates: corn, $1,00 per bushel; bacon, 12 cents per pound; flour, 5 cents; butter, 20 cents; eggs, 15 cts. per dozen; prices which are moderate enough to show that there is no scarcity prevailing there. A correspondent of the Telegraph says: "The radical change in our social institutions, brought about by the revolution through which we have just passed, will require a revision of the code, not its abrogation; and that revision will necessarily extend to but a small portion of the whole, and proceeds to point out the acts and sections which must be revised by striking out the clauses relative to slaves, free blacks &c., thus leaving the body of the old code intact.

ORIGINAL ABOLITIONISTS.

It has been charged upon the "original abolitionists" that they contributed very few fighting men to the war. The New York Times partially admits the charge, and says: "Our looks almost in vain upon the list of officers, and upon the muster rolls of the rank and file, for any of the names that used to figure in the abolition gatherings." How few and honorable names, capable of according it. The Mill has FIVE RUN OF STONES, fitted by Water Power, rented from the State, at $500 per annum, and immediately put out about SIX HUNDRED BARRELS PER WEEK. I have just expended $10,000 in improvements and Repairs, and would now sell for $20,000, on accommodating terms, and exert all my influence to promote the success of the business.

Mr. JAMES GARDINER, of Pittsburgh, permits me to refer to him for further information.
